New Yorker Finds Poor Re to Champion Jaywalkers' Feelings Hurt Yet

A communication from Mr. W. Washington Booth of New York City, stating that she had been insulted by a traffic officer on Friday, April 13, received by Mayor Cryer was referred by him to the Police Commission for investigation.

Mrs. Booth premised that she was a friend of Mrs. Rolph, wife of the Mayor of San Francisco. She then went on to explain that she had heard Traffic Officer Ryan "call down" a woman and a son for walking across the street against the traffic signal.

"Being a mother herself," she wrote, she attempted to intercede in behalf of the woman, whereupon, she declares, the traffic officer turned his verbal fire in her direction. She wants something done about it.

LOCKHART MEETS DEATH IN ATTEMPT AT RECORD

Angeleno Racer Killed When Tire Bursts at 200-Mile Speed on Daytona Beach

DAYTONA BEACH (Fla.) April 25. (AP)—Frank Lockhart, youthful racing driver, was catapulted to his death today when a tire blew out while his automobile was speeding 200 miles an hour in an attempt to set a new record for land travel over the sands of Daytona Beach.

The accident occurred as Lockhart approached the grand stand. His Stutz Black Hawk Special swerved back and forth, rolled out of control 350 feet and left the ground.

Two photographers and a newspaper man narrowly missed injury as the car hurtled over their heads to land again and bounce sideways 550 feet before taking another 300-foot jump and hurling Lockhart to the sands. The car turned over and came down on the beach broken all to pieces.

THROWN FROM CAR

Lockhart was thrown clear of the machine, spectators found him breathing heavily and bleeding profusely from the mouth and head. He was placed in an automobile and rushed to the hospital, but was dead when he arrived. He was pronounced dead at 8:35 a.m., fifteen minutes after the accident.

Mrs. Lockhart was one of the 200 spectators in the stand who witnessed the accident. She was among the first to reach her husband's side. She became hysterical as she was placed in the same automobile which took her husband to the hospital and became more hysterical when doctors pronounced him dead.

Lockhart had been coming out on the beach for the past several mornings in the early hours to make test runs. On his first test run this morning he had been clocked at 143 miles and the return trial was made at a speed of 193 miles.

COURSE IN BAD SHAPE

William F. Sturn, Lockhart's manager, said before the tryout that he did not believe Lockhart would make the run or attempt a record today because of the unfavorable beach and because he did not believe Lockhart had his motor tuned up properly.

The beach was said to have been in the worst condition of the past week. Adverse winds had left ridges parallel to the course, which looked like a washboard.

On its first test run today Lockhart's machine took one of these ridges and ran into the water, but was not thrown out of line. Coming back north on the return run, as he was following the course of the beach the car was seen to swerve at a 25-deg. angle. However, he righted the car and continued on the tryout. At this time he was traveling at a speed of 193 miles an hour.

STARTS DEATH RUN

He spent thirty minutes at the north end making motor adjustments and then went on the trial run south at 203 miles an hour. As he came back for the official run, which was to start opposite the grand stand, Lockhart was 500 yards from the spot when his car went out of control.

Otis Fortier, official timer of the American Automobile Association, described how the two photographers and T. R. Gill, Associated Press correspondent, missed death by inches.

NICARAGUAN AIM UPHELD

Coolidge Backed by Senate

Policy of Administration in Marine Use Approved by 52-to-22 Vote

Issue Settled in Passage of Navy Appropriation for $363,000,000

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Rejecting by decisive majorities all amendments designed to circumscribe the President's freedom of action in maintaining marines in Nicaragua, the Senate late today passed the annual naval appropriation bill, carrying a total of $368,000,000.

Discussion of the Nicaraguan situation had held up final action for ten days and resulted in many alterations of the original proposals to prohibit the use of any money appropriated by the measure for the maintenance of marines in the Central American republic after the inauguration of the new administration to be chosen in the elections next fall, which the marines are to supervise.

The principal proposal, framed jointly by Senators Norris of Nebraska, and Blaine of Wisconsin, Republican independents, was rejected, 52 to 22, with seven Democrats joining fifteen Republicans in support and nineteen Democrats combining with thirty-three Republicans in opposition.

EXPLANATION GIVEN

As was explained by Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee, who voted against the amendment, and by other Senators, the vote could not be construed as one in support of the administration's policy in intervening in Nicaragua and supervising the forthcoming election there. This policy at its inception was opposed by Borah and many other Senators, who voted against the amendment, but after the pledge to supervise the elections had been made these Senators took the position that the national honor requires that it be kept.

Senators Norris and Wheeler, Democrat, Montant, took an opposite view as to the effect of the Senate vote, asserting that that constitutes in effect a blanket indorsement of the administration's policy.

VOTE ON ROLL CALL

For the amendment: Republicans: Blaine, Frazier, Howell, La Follette, McMaster, Norris and Nye—7.

Democrats: Barkley, Black, Caraway, Dill, Gerry, Harris, Heflin, King, Locher, McKellar, Mayfield, Pittman, Sheppard, Thomas and Wheeler—15.

Total 22.

Against the amendment.

Republicans: Bingham, Borah, Capper, Couzens, Curtis, Cutting, Dale, Deneen, Edge, Fess, Gillett, Goff, Gooding, Gould, Greene, Hale, Johnson, Jones, Keyes, McNary, Metcalf, Moses, Norbeck, Oddie, Phipps, Reed of Pennsylvania, Robinson of Indiana, Sackett, Schall, Shortridge, Smoot, Warren and Waterman—23.

Democrats: Ashurst, Bayard, Blease, Bratton, Broussard, Bruce, Edwards, Fletcher, Hawes, Hayden, Kendrick, Overman, Ransdell, Steck, Swanson, Tyson, Wagner, Walsh of Massachusetts and Walsh of Montana—19.

Total, 52

OTHERS VOTED DOWN

After this roll call the Senate by an even more decisive majority, 53 to 20, voted down an amendment by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, which would have required the consent of Congress for the

POLE FLYER SUCCUMBS

Bennett Loses Fight for Life

Illness Contracted in Effort to Reach Bremen Trio Proves Fatal

Wife and Commander Byrd at Bedside in Quebec as End Comes

QUEBEC, April 25. (AP)—Floyd Bennett, North Pole flyer, died today upholding the finest tradition of the air.

He died because he put the welfare of others before all thought of himself and went to the aid of airmen in distress, though he himself was wracked with sickness.

He did not even know the men he gave his life for, but they were comrades of the air, and so he went to their relief despite all obstacles.

Bennett died at 10:50 o'clock this morning in Jeffery Hale Hospital of double pneumonia contracted after he had flown through feverish hours from Detroit to Lake Ste. Agnes in an effort to carry assistance to the marooned trans-Atlantic flyers on Greenly Island.

He was taken here by airplane from Lake Ste. Agnes on Sunday, but the most expert treatment failed to loosen the hold that sickness had take on him.

PATIENT IN COMA

At 10 o'clock this morning the New York specialists who had traveled to Canada to tend him announced that all hope was gone, Bennett, they said, was in a coma from which, in all likelihood he would never rouse. At 10:50, with his wife, who herself had left a sick bed in New York to go to him, and Commander Richard E. Byrd, his closest friend, at his bedside, he quietly passed away.

Everything possible was done in the effort to save Bennett's life, when he became so ill at Lake Ste. Agnes that Bernt Balchen, his co-pilot in the relief expedition had to push on without him. Mrs. Hertha Junkers, daughter of the manufacturer of the plane which drew Bennett had flown to help, arranged for his transport to Quebec in a news-reel plane.

SPECIALISTS ENGAGED

The North American Newspaper Alliance and the New York World, which sponsored the relief expedition, engaged Dr. A. L. Garach, noted specialist in the treatment of pneumonia, to go to Quebec with assistants and take charge of Bennett.

Yesterday the Rockefeller Institute in New York offered its aid and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh flew to Quebec from New York with two kinds of serum with which it was hoped Bennett's life might be saved. It was found, however, that Bennett was suffering from a type of pneumonia for which no serum has been discovered, and Lindbergh's dramatic race through the air was all in vain.

COMMANDER BYRD BENNETT "DISCOVERER"

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Floyd Bennett, born in Warrensburg, N. Y., in 1890, was for the first thirty-five years of his life an obscure figure whose potentialities awaited only the moment of opportunity for development.

That moment came in 1925 when Commander Richard E. Byrd was given the pick of the whole Navy from which to choose mechanics for his Greenland expedition with Donald MacMillan.

Byrd "discovered" Bennett, a virtually unknown aviator mechanic, aboard a man-of-war, indistinguishable from his fellows under the colour of oil that is the garb of his profession. He was not even especially well known on his own ship.

BYRD'S TRIBUTE

"But once he had his chance," Byrd writes in his recently published book, "Skyward," "he showed he was a good pilot and one of the finest practical men in the Navy for handling an airplane's temperamental mechanisms.

"And above that, he was a real man, fearless and true—one in a million.

From the moment that Byrd's keen eyes penetrated the film of grease coating the grubby mechanic and found a man the two were inseparable. To think of Byrd was to think of Bennett, and vice versa, and, therefore, much of the material that throws light on the sort of person Bennett really was must of necessity come from Byrd.

Together Bennett and Byrd endured the hardships of Greenland.

DEMPSEY DEFEATS KEARNS

Court Orders Decision for ex-Champion in Former Manager's Fight for Half-Million Damages

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, lost his $500,000 suit for breach of contract and damages from the former heavyweight champion in a decision rendered by a jury here tonight. Federal Judge Knox ordered a verdict in favor of Dempsey on all counts in the suit.

Judge Knox ordered the verdict for the defendant when the jury, after four hours and twenty-two minutes, determined that a valid three-year contract was signed between Kearns and the former heavyweight champion in 1923, but had been invalidated in July of 1925 when the parties severed business relations and settled their joint affairs. These two questions alone were submitted to the jury by the court.

On the motion of Arthur F. Driscoll, attorney for Dempsey, Judge Knox promptly directed the jury to render a verdict for the defendant on four of the five causes of action in Kearns's suit. The first cause of action, relating to a match between Dempsey and Harry Wills, which never took place, was ruled out by the court two days ago. Causes two, three and four represented moneys Kearns asserted were due him from Dempsey's share of the proceeds of the former champion's losing battle with Gene Tunney in 1926.

The fifth cause embodied Kearns's demand for a share in the proceeds of an exhibition tour Dempsey made in 1924 and 1925. The judge had ruled that the two questions placed before the jury were the only ones of fact in the case and the remainder were of law and for him to decide.

Arthur N. Sager, head of Kearns's legal array, announced an appeal would be taken to a higher court on the grounds that the jury had recognized the validity of Kearns's three-year contract with Dempsey. An action similar to this one now pending in Philadelphia will be dropped immediately, he said.

Following upon the verdict Dempsel held an impromptu reception in the courtroom, shaking hands with the jurors and a host of friends who had waited through the evening for the verdict. Kearns stopped in the back of the courtroom a moment and then left the room alone.

New England's Hills Tremble

RUMFORD (Me.) April 25. (AP)—Two sharp earthquake shocks, one following the other within a few seconds' time, shook Rumford at 8:27 tonight. In the thickly settled sections of the village, residents rushed from their homes into the streets and proprietors of stores reported that goods swayed on the shelves. No damage was done so far as known. The shocks also were felt at Lewiston, more than thirty miles distant.

SOUTH STILL RAVAGED BY MAD FLOODS

Many Families Homeless in Florida and Others Ready to Flee

ATLANTA, April 25. (AP) — Devastating floods which have ravaged wide valleys in Southern Georgia, Alabama and Northwestern Florida continued their destruction as they raced nearer the sea tonight across the great coastal flats.

Brighter pictures are presented through most of the affected areas in Georgia and Alabama but acute conditions still prevail in most of the Florida territory where more than 1000 families are homeless and some 300 additional families ready to flee rising waters.

With the residents of Caryville, Fla., quartered at Bonifay, where food and shelter have been provided pending recession of waters which now course twelve feet deep in the little Choctawatchee River town, the populace of Westville, across the river from Caryville, prepared to evacuate.

It is believed that flood warnings generally have been obeyed in the valleys of the Okmulgee and Oconee rivers in Georgia.

Estimates of the homeless today range from 3000 to 5000, but the death list stands at six, all Alabama negroes. Property damage still is unestimated but declared to be several million dollars in addition to losses to crops.

THOUSANDS MASSACRED

Chinese Bandits Slay Women

Refugees Reach Hankow and Tell of Butchery; Town Plundered

Two American Missionaries Meet Death in Other Revolt Districts

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Refugee accounts from Hankow of the slaughter by bandits of 9000 men, women and children at Kingmen, a mission station; the killing of an American, superintendent of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions Hospital at Laining, and the report of another killing of an American missionary by Nationalists made up the sum of tragedies as reported by dispatches from various Chinese centers Wednesday.

NEARING PEKING

The drive of the Southern forces has carried them another step nearer Peking. Advices from both Shanghai and Hankow tell of the capture of Tsinan, capital of Shantung, by the forces under Pang Tu-Hsiang. Sixty thousand rifles and 110 field guns are reported to have been seized.

The bandits who raided Kingmen, a city of 60,000 inhabitants in Hupeh Province, were made up of army deserters and a peasant organization. Refugees reaching Hankow gave appalling descriptions of the sacking of the town and the massacre.

Tens of thousands of Northerners who were driven from the city of Tsinan are trekking back along the roads, with brigandage rampant.

Dr. Walter F. Seymour, superintendent of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions Hospital at Taming, Shantung, has been shot and killed by a Chinese soldier.

MAY BE IDENTICAL

From Tokio comes a report that an American missionary was executed by Nationalists at Yanchowfu. This is only about fifteen miles from Taming and it is thought possible the two cases are identical.

The Nationalist central executive committee at Nanking has protested against the demands by the Japanese government for the withdrawal of troops to Shantung Province.

BOARD CONFIRMS REPORT OF MISSIONARY'S DEATH

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions received an official announcement of the shooting of Dr. Walter F. Seymour in Taming by cable from the Presbyterian China council at Shanghai today.

"Soldier shot Dr. Seymour through the heart," the cable said. "All others in Taming saved. Will leave as soon as possible."

The board believed the only other missionary in that section, in addition to the Seymour party, to be Rev. Charles M. Eames of Jacksonville, Ill.

Dr. Seymour, who was reported today to have been killed at Taming, China, had been a medical missionary in the Province of Shantung since 1893, it was said at the headquarters of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

He married Miss Mary Ada Qua-chenour of Prospect, O., a Methodist missionary, in 1894, and she was with him at Taming. A daughter, Ida M. Seymour, was engaged in mission work at the same place until ill health forced her to return. She is living in Milwaukee. A son, Walter J. Seymour, is in Chicago.

Dr. Seymour was born October 11, 1862, at Reedsburg, Wis. He was graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1890 and three years later from the medical college of Northwestern University. He had earlier enrolled as a missionary and sailed almost at once for China.

DEAD BRAINS TELL NO TALES

Science Admits Master Organ Refuses to Divulge Why Some Men Attain Greatness

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—Despite persistent efforts to find the sources of individual greatness in the form and texture of the brain the solution of this mystery continues to elude the most careful investigations of science.

Reporting to the National Academy of Sciences on an examination of the brains of three world-famous scholars, Dr. Henry H. Donaldson, neurologist of the Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology at Philadelphia, asserted that qualities which could not be determined after death must have been mainly responsible for their difference from lesser men.

THREE FAMOUS BRAINS

The brains examined were those of G. Stanley Hall, educator, who died at 79 years of age; Sir William Osler, physician and educator, who died at 70, and Edward S. Morse, zoologist and anatomist, who died at 87. Measurement of the length and depth of a series of selected furrows and of the extent of gray matter in each showed distinct similarity, after allowing for the probable modifications brought about by the atrophy of age in the brain of Morse.

WHAT WAS FOUND

"As between different brains and the two hemispheres of the same brain," Dr. Donaldson explained, "the number of cells is constant within the limits of biological variation . . . The larger brain is composed of larger elements—neurons. The development of furrows comes later at the poles of the hemispheres than in the intermediate portions.

"These are 6 matters of observation. Not observed are: The individual chemistry of the nerve tissue, the finer contacts between neurons and the blood, in all its ac-

CHICAGO, April 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Speaking at a banquet here tonight at the opening of a beautiful seventeen-story building built by the butter-and-egg men. It's a monument to the American people who can't tell a good egg from a bad one. It's a tribute to what a rooster and a churn can do. You can buy eggs on this market the same as you can buy General Motors stock, so get you some eggs and hold 'em. Somebody will eat 'em, no matter how old they are, and if you can't pay your cold-storage bill hard boil 'em and sell 'em for picnics.

BOULDER DAM FIGHT WILL OPEN IN SENATE TODAY

Revenue Debate and Threatened Filibuster Loom as Fatal to Hopes of Final Vote

WASHINGTON, April 25. (Exclusive)—The Boulder dam fight starts in the Senate tomorrow. After weeks of delay which has gradually sapped its chances of getting to a final vote, the Swing-Johnson bill late today was made the unfinished business of the upper branch, to be held continuously before the Senate until acted upon, except that it must be laid aside for the revenue bill and conference reports as they appear.

These further delays which the bill must encounter are expected to spell defeat for the Colorado River legislation again this session of Congress.

If administration leaders succeed in carrying out present plans for adjourning the session May 26, only twenty-seven legislative days remain and in this short time it is difficult to see how the Boulder dam bill can reach a final vote, unless some secret agreement guaranteeing it has been effected, and there is no sign that such is the case.

CLOTURE TO BE ASKED

Debate on the revenue bill is expected to last at least two weeks, conference reports and routine matters will consume at least another week of the Senate's time, and all the while Boulder dam must lie on the table. This is aside from the main fight itself. Possibly a majority of Senators are opposed to the Swing-Johnson bill as it stands. A number are prepared to fight it to the last ditch, while Senators Ashurst and Hayden of Arizona are determined to filibuster if necessary to prevent the measure's losing.

There is no indication proponents could command the two-thirds vote necessary to slap on cloture shutting off debate. Senator Johnson indicated today he will ask for cloture if a filibuster starts.

Conditions facing the Boulder dam bill are even less favorable in the House, where leaders are waiting to see what the Senate does and to let the measure die in the Rules Committee if possible.

Senator Johnson of California, author of the Senate bill, will start things off tomorrow with a long, prepared speech.

Senator Ashurst, leader of Senate opposition to the bill, said tonight advocates of Boulder dam have "lost considerable ground the last few weeks and will find their cause materially weakened when the battle gets under way on the floor." He declared reaction against the project had set in particularly since the American Engineering Council reported against it, and influential Republican newspapers through the country had come out as opposing action by Congress, prior to conclusion of an agreement among all the seven States in the Colorado basin.

ASHURST TO FIGHT

"I have no idea the bill will get to a final vote, but I am prepared to make the most desperate fight to prevent it that was ever witnessed in Congress," Ashurst asserted.

Ex-service men will receive a ninety-day preference right to announce additional lands put under cultivation through the Boulder dam project, Representative Swing of El Centro, Cal., co-author of the Swing-Johnson bill, declared in a letter today to Edward E. Spafford, national commander of the American Legion.

He made this statement in reply to the assertion of Representative Douglas of Arizona in a recent letter to Spafford, that the Swing-Johnson bill provides no such benefit for war veterans.

He also took up other points in the Douglas letter and where the Arizonan criticised the Legion's "political indorsement" of the Boulder dam project, Swing commended the Legion for a patriotic service.

Grandmother finds way to grow old gracefully

"I don't try to keep up the pace of the younger generation," says this 65-year-old woman. "I leave that to my grandchildren.

"But just because I lead a quiet life doesn't mean that I'm not perfectly well. I never felt better. Everything about me is normal and functions as it should. I make sure of that by taking Nujol regularly. Nujol keeps me in good condition."

When people become less active, Nujol becomes even more important for good health. For Nujol not only prevents the excess of body poisons (we all have them) from forming, but aids in their removal.

All of us—old and young alike—lead more or less sedentary lives. But Nujol helps make up for this lack of exercise. It keeps the body functioning as Nature intended.

Even if you think you're perfectly well, try Nujol. It was perfected by the Nujol Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). Take it for three months and just see if you don't feel better. Nujol can't possibly upset you. It contains absolutely no drugs or medicine. Be sure you get the genuine.

Sheriff Says He Can Bawl Wife out for Driving From Back Seat

PLAINFIELD (Ind.) April 25. (Exclusive)—A husband can talk loudly to his wife in protest against her back-seat driving, says Sheriff Rodney and he will not be a violator.

After receiving a report that a couple in an automobile were quarreling heatedly the Sheriff pursued the car. The man explained he was only criticisin his wife because she insisted on driving the car, though occupying the back seat. Rodney gave him his sympathy and released him.

Representative Swing's letter follows:

SWING'S LETTER

"I have a copy of the letter of Comrade Douglas of Arizona relative to your transmitting the resolutions of the American Legion indorsing the Swing-Johnson bill and the Boulder dam project.

"He states that the Swing-Johnson bill does not provide money for the reclamation of public lands for ex-service men. The bill provides for the storing of the flood water on the Colorado River and the building of an all-American canal, which makes possible the reclamation of large areas of public land within the Imperial Valley which is now withdrawn from entry, and provides that when this land is opened to entry the ex-service men shall have a ninety-day preference right.

"True, the bill does not provide for bringing this land under cultivation at the present time out of deference to the present depressed condition of agriculture, but Congress will certainly authorize this project when it will be of advantage to ex-service men to go upon the land and commence its reclamation. Friend Douglas thinks this because only eight lives were lost in the 1905-06 flood when Imperial Valley was but sparsely settled that that would establish a criterion for the probable loss of lives should the river break in again at a time when the population had increased many times. Your critic is far off on his property values in Imperial Valley which are at least twice 'the appropriation to protect' and besides, there are other great thriving communities like the Coachella and Palo Verde valleys in California, and Yuma Valley, Kingman and Parker in Arizona, which also must have protection from the Colorado River floods.

TIME TO ACT

"Mr. Douglas speculates on the number of years it would take to turn the famed Imperial Valley into a great inland sea. The devastation and destruction which would forthwith attend a break on the Colorado River would depend entirely on the time, place and circumstances under which the break occurred. Should a break occur during the flood season on the Volcano Lake levee with the river backed up for twenty miles beyond; a sit has been many times, no one can forecast what the loss in life and property might be. It is enough that we have been warned repeatedly by every government engineer that a great menace exists to this great valley and on other lesser valleys along the lower basin by this uncontrolled river.

"The time has come for Congress to act. Congress has the information available in the hearings of its respective committees, which committees have also been over the project. Their favorable report of the project is an answer to Mr. Douglas's criticism. His challenge to debate on the 'inadequate engineering' should be directed to such great engineers as have indorsed it, like A. P. Davis, former director of the Reclamation Service; F. E. Weymouth, former chief engineer United States Reclamation Service; A. J. Wiley, Boise, Idaho; James Munn, Denver, Colo.; J. G. Scrugham, former State engineer and former Governor of Nevada, and Frank E. Emmerson, former State engineer and Governor of Wyoming.

"Constitutional issues can only be debated with profit before the Supreme Court of the United States and there Arizona has announced its intention of taking this legislation as soon as enacted, which is her right and privilege. The economic soundness or unsoundness will fall upon the local communities that are requesting the project. These cities and districts in the Southwest are willing and anxious to assume all the economical risks and contract with the Secretary of the Interior in advance in accordance with the terms of the bill, agreeing to take water and power at the project at rates which shall be fixed by the Secretary and which in the aggregate should guarantee a return to the United States government of its total expenditure, together with 4 per cent interest.

"Permit me again to thank you and your great organization for its interests in forward-looking legislation which will assist in the development of our country for the benefit not only of the ex-service men, but of all the people who live here now and for generations yet to come."

CARAVAN GOES NORTH

"All-Pacific Unity" Tour Starts from San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—With sirens screaming and banners flying the Redwood Empire Association's good-will caravan to the Pacific-Northwest and British Columbia started the long overland trek from the City Hall today. Before the return seventy-six cities and towns will have been visited and a message of "All-Pacific unity" left in each of them.

E. M. Maize, general chairman, declares. "We are going to sell the all-Pacific Coast idea. We expect to increase interchange of travel between California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. We want to develop a closer-knit plan of co-operative effort on the part of civic and commercial organizations, governmental bodies, hotel and resort operators and other organizations."

and together, a year later, they flew over the North Pole.

"Bennett," said Byrd after that flight, "is a man of the greatest energy, endurance and skill, both as a navigator and as a mechanic. I would not like to be in the Arctic without him, and I would take him before any other man in the world."

As soon as the pole had been crossed Byrd told Bennett that an aerial crossing of the Atlantic was his next aim, and Bennett asked to be taken along.

"We go together," said Byrd, but it was not to be.

INJURED IN CRASH

On April 16 of last year the Fokker plane America crashed on its initial test flight and Bennett was so seriously injured that he could take no part in the flight to France.

COOLIDGE SENDS MESSAGE TO WIDOW

WASHINGTON, April 25. (AP)—President Coolidge telegraphed today to Mrs. Floyd Bennett his condolences on the death of her husband and praising "his noble and brave spirit."

The telegram, sent to Quebec, said:

"I am deeply grieved over the untimely passing of your husband. It will be a great loss to the science of aviation. His noble and brave spirit will live in the memory of the things he accomplished. My heartfelt sympathy goes to you in your sorrow."

Bennett was the holder of two of the highest awards within the gift of the American government, the Congressional Medal of Honor, of Honor and the Distinguished Service Medal.

Bennett became an aviation pilot and machinist in the Navy in May, 1926, and in February, 1927, was granted six months' leave without pay to take part in the Byrd expedition. After its successful completion he was designated a naval aviator in October, 1927, the designation being dated back to February.

In January 5, last, he was granted three months' sick leave.

NAVAL ENLISTMENT

Bennett first enlisted in the Navy December 15, 1917, and continued as an enlisted man until his appointment as a warrant officer May 4, 1925. His first enlistment was at Burlington, Vt. He received honorable discharge July 30, 1919, but re-enlisted the following day.

In the summer of 1925 he took part in the McMillan Polar expedition and on November 7 was commended by the Secretary of the Navy for his "efficiency, indefatigible energy and courage while engaged on duty with that expedition."

Naval officials said today after telephonic conversation with Commander Richard E. Byrd in Quebec that Floyd Bennett will be buried in Arlington Cemetery here. Byrd was consulted upon receipt of earlier word that burial would be in Brooklyn.

The Navy already has made detailed plans for the burial, calling for interment as near as possible to the grave of Admiral Peary, discoverer of the North Pole. The plans call for departure of the funeral party from Quebec tomorrow night, with an escort from New York City to accompany it from the Grand Central Station to the Pennsylvania Railroad station. The services are expected to be conducted in Arlington Friday.

NEWS OF DEATH PROSTRATES MOTHER

LAKE GEORGE (N. Y.) April 25. (AP)—Mrs. Henrietta Bennett, mother of Floyd Bennett, was prostrated with grief today when she learned of her son's death in a Quebec hospital.

"He was my only hope and I have nothing more to live for," she sobbed. She expressed a wish that the noted aviator's body might be brought home for burial.

SAN DIEGO ONCE HOME OF DEAD FLYER

SAN DIEGO, April 25. (Exclusive) San Diego was the home of Floyd Bennett, North Pole airman, who died of pneumonia today at Quebec, for three years prior to 1925 when he was selected by Commander Byrd to accompany Byrd on his flight over the frozen wastes at the top of the world. As an aviation mechanic, Bennett worked "in the ranks" at North Island, unknown, except to the few officers and men with whom he came in contact.

Bennett left North Island in 1925. Today he is remembered by a few of the naval airmen stationed there as having been an acquaintance, although the majority of the flyers with whom he worked since have been transferred to other posts.

LINDBERGH BACK AT NEW YORK FIELD

MITCHEL FIELD (N. Y.) April 25. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed here at 4 p.m. from Quebec, where he flew yesterday to carry serum for treatment of Floyd Bennett. He left Quebec at 11:30 a.m., half an hour after Bennett died, but was unaware of Bennett's death until his arrival here.

maintenance of the marines in Nicaragua after February 1, except that the President could land troops temporarily for the protection of lives and property "under international law or the Monroe Doctrine."

Senator McKellar insisted that this amendment met the objection that the Comptroller-General would be set up as judge of whether the President was acting within his constitutional rights in landing armed forces in the southern republic.

HEFLIN DEFEATED

With that amendment out of the way the Senate made short shrift of one by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, despite the author's impassioned appeal to protect American youths from death in Nicaragua. His amendment was rejected, 60 to 15. It would have prohibited the use of any appropriations made in the act "in connection with acts of hostility by United States marines in Nicaragua unless and until the President shall obtain from Congress consent to keep them there."

With the passage of the naval bill the Senate cleared its calendar of the last of the annual supply measures and so can devote its time now whole-heartedly to general legislation.

CAPTIVE OF REBELS NOW BELIEVED ALIVE

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The possibility that George D. Marshall, assistant manager of La Luz y Los Angeles mine, reported to have been killed by Sandino rebels still is alive, was suggested in a Bluefields (Nicaragua) dispatch received today by the Associated Press.

The dispatch filed from Bluefields today said: "Marshall reports being well treated as long as Giron (commander of the rebel force which seized the mine several days ago) stays by him."

There was no mention in the dispatch of any reports that Marshall had been killed.

Harry Ampbleta, British superintendent of the mine, who was released or escaped after the raid, today notified the New York office of the company that he is safe, although conditions at the mine are "very bad." The raiders occupied the Pis Pis area, he indicated.

His cablegram, sent from Puerto Cabezas, and dated yesterday, said:

"Returned from mine last night. Spent Friday there. Conditions very bad. No news of Marshall. Raiders now Pis Pis. They expect return La Luz. Impossible return or operate without adequate protection. Writing in full."

PRIZES AWARDED

Four of the most coveted prizes of science for outstanding achievements in various fields of investigation were awarded at the annual banquet of the academy.

The Narcellus Hartley medal for eminence in the application of science to the public welfare went to Dr. Charles V. Shapin of the Health Department of Providence, R. I., for contributions to public health and his work in administrative control of disease.

Dr. William Hammond Wright of Lick Observatory, who announced at last night's meeting important discoveries relating to the nature of the mysterious nebulae, and planetary atmospheres, was awarded the Henry Draper medal for original investigations in astronomical physics.

The Agassiz medal for contributions to the science of oceanography was given to Dr. V. Walfrid Ekman of the University of Lund, Sweden, for his achievements in physical oceanography.

Dr. James Perrin Smith of Stanford University was awarded the Mary Clark Thompson medal and $250 honorarium for his achievements in the paleontology of the Triassic period, the earliest division of the Mesozoic era, or age of reptiles, which were regarded as the "most important services to geology and paleontology," in the last year.

Four other medals at the disposal of the academy were not awarded.

BREMEN'S CREW GIVES UP FLIGHT

Stranded Pilots Will Hop in Relief Plane

Engine Trouble Causes Trio to Abandon Plans

Flyers May Reach New York by Tomorrow

LAKE STE. AGNES (Que.) April 25. (AP)—Having abandoned plans to continue their flight in their Junkers trans-Atlantic plane the crew of the Bremen tonight is awaiting weather conditions that will permit the safe take-off of the Ford relief plane to bring them out of exile.

Mild weather is reported to have softened the ice surrounding the island to a degree dangerous for any airplane to take off today. Early reports said the dangerous conditions for a take-off and landing had induced the trans-Atlantic flyers to abandon their own plane, but later reports from the island mentioned engine trouble as the reason for the decision to continue the flight in the Ford relief plane piloted by Bernt Balchen.

This plane carried parts and supplies to the lonely island, where the trans-Atlantic ship has been repaired. Photographers who returned here by airplane say that the Bremen has been reconditioned and moved from the island to the surrounding ice in preparation for the take-off.

The Ford plane is a giant three-motored craft with a cabin capable of holding the three of the Bremen crew with the flyers and mechanics who gathered at Gremly to assist them.

Should the party leave tomorrow and make only a brief stop at Murray Bay, they may arrive in New York on Friday.

Capt. Koehl and Maj. Fitzmaurice of the Bremen crew, if their departure is delayed two more days, will not reach New York before their wives, who today are in mid-Atlantic on the liner Dresden, which is due Sunday. Postponement of the New York welcome celebration to next Monday in tribute to Floyd Bennett will enable the women to share in the honors paid their husbands.

State Awards Repair Work on Scenic Roads

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (AP)—Making possible immediate construction on nearly $1,000,000 worth of improvements on Skyline Boulevard and the Redwood Highway B. B. Meek, Director of Public Works, today awarded contracts for the grading and surfacing of long units of these two scenic thoroughfares.

The Skyline award was to Twohy Brothers Company and J. F. Shea Company of Oakland on a bid of $683,238.80. The work to be done covers a 13.8 mile stretch between La Honda Road and Saratoga Gap.

The Redwood Highway work, covering 7.3 miles of road and four timber bridges in Del Norte county, will be done by J. E. Johnston. His bid was $276,281.

Bids on three other highway projects also were opened here this afternoon. The work projected and the low bidders are:

Grading and surfacing of the Bay Shore Highway between Broadway station and Fifth avenue, C. W. Wood, Stockton, $133,370; reinforced concrete bridge across Santa Anita Wash at Arcadia, Los Angeles county, Engstrom Construction Company, Los Angeles, $21,869.25, and for the surfacing of six miles of the Tahoe Highway between Presh Pond and Riverton, Eldorado county, Harold Smith of St. Helena, $16,030.

San Marino Magnate's Daughter Drops Cognomen for Self and Children

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—With her complained, Mrs. Clara Huntington Perkins, daughter of the late Huntington, railway builder, philanthropist and has obtained a court order in Santa Clara county restoring maiden name but reverting the family name of her children Huntington.

The fact that the action was taken was not revealed until tonight when a paid legal notice was inserted in a local newspaper reading as follows:

IN LEGAL PHRASE

"To whom it may concern—Notice is hereby given that I, Clara Huntington, formerly known as and called Clara Huntington Perkins, have this day assumed and henceforth will be known and called by the name of Clara Huntington; that my three children, formerly known as and called respectively, David Perkins, Jane Perkins and Mary Alice Perkins, have this day assumed and henceforth will be known and called by the names of David Huntington, Jane Huntington and Mary Alice Huntington, respectively, all in accordance with an order of the honorable Superior Court of Santa Clara county, made and entered the 26th day of April, 1928.

"CLARA HUNTINGTON

"Los Gatos, Cal., April 21, 1928."

DIVORCED FOR YEARS

Acquaintances recalled that Mrs. Huntington, as she prefers to be known, has been divorced from Gilbert D. Perkins of New York for several years and that at one time, about thirteen years ago, they clashed in court over several thousand dollars' worth of Pacific Electric bonds. Records show that this action subsequently was withdrawn, however. They could ascribe no reason for Mrs. Huntington's action and neither Mrs. Huntington nor her attorney were reached.

When the will of the late Henry E. Huntington was filed for probate in May, 1927, disposing of $7,000,000, four bequests of $1,000,000 each were cited, three of them going to his daughters and the fourth to his sister, Clara Huntington Perkins was named as one of the daughters.

Charge Dropped in Ferry Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—Charges of neglect of duty previously filed by federal steamship inspectors against the chief engineer and his assistant on the Key System ferry boat Peralta were dismissed today. In a formal report, Inspectors Perkins and Dolan, who acted as trial court, said they were convinced the two men were responsible for the break "nose dive" of the ferry February 17, last, but admitted they could not substantiate the belief in evidence so were forced to dismiss the charges.

LOCKHART DIES IN SPEEDING CAR

Angeleno Racer Killed Trying to Lower Record

its mad leap it hit one photographer. The other photographer ran, leaving his machine. Gill was close to this man and the automobile passed over his head not more than eighteen inches above. I do not know how he escaped injury."

Hans Orie of Daytona Beach was the photographer struck. He suffered bruises.

Many spectators believed Lockhart might have broken the record had he not met with the accident.

SECOND ACCIDENT

He was driving the same car in which he had a narrow escape here February 22, while making an attempt to break the world's speed record. At that time his machine got out of control and dashed into the ocean. He was seriously injured and spent some time in a hospital. His car was a tiny little white-enameled machine weighing less than 3000 pounds. It had a sixteen-cylinder motor which Lockhart himself designed. The car cost more than $70,000.

Lockhart was said to have held every American record from one to 100 miles on circular courses. He also held the world's straightaway for ninety-one and one-half cubic-inch displacement motors, which was set at Dry Lake, California, in 1927, when he made 164 miles an hour.

Lockhart's career as a race driver was among the most meteoric of any pilot in the annals of speeddom. Coming from California after several years' training on dirt tracks, he leaped to sudden fame when he won the 1926 Indianapolis Speedway race, which was cut down to 400 miles that year instead of the customary 500 miles, due to rain.

He was noted on the speedways for the terrific pace which he always set.

JOINS SPEED MARTYRS

Like other stars of the Indianapolis classic, Lockhart met death in later speed attempts. Dario Resta was killed at Brooklands Speedway in England in an effort to set a new mark on the course. Jimmy Murphy went to his death at Syracuse, N. Y., on the mile dirt track there, while Gaston Chevrolet, a previous winner at Indianapolis, met death in a speedway race.

Lockhart was almost an unknown when he won the Indianapolis race but has been considered since, along with the veteran Ralph De Palma, as the greatest of drawing cards in a motor speed event.

LOCAL CAREER OF LOCKHART RECALLED

Frank Lockhart, whose consuming ambition to be the world's greatest automobile race driver ended in his death yesterday, at Daytona Beach, Fla., will be buried in Los Angeles, the town in which he was reared and where he made his start in the racing game.

The body of the famous automobile pilot was started on the sad homeward journey yesterday accompanied by his widow, Mrs. Ella Corson Lockhart. Funeral services will be arranged on its arrival here.

MOTHER HEARTBROKEN

At the home of Lockhart's mother, Mrs. Carrie S. Lockhart, 1033 West Sixth street, a heartbroken woman yesterday told of her overwhelming fears that her son's quest for the world's greatest speed record would end in death. Through tears she told of wiring him last Monday that she feared he would be killed.

"But Frank was always completely wrapped up in race driving," she said, "and he never was fearful of fatal accidents. From the time he was 9 years old his whole ambition has been to pilot race cars faster than anyone else."

Mrs. Lockhart told briefly of her son's entrance into automobile racing circles.

FIRST RACE AT ASCOT

"He made his first race here at Ascot in a little Ford racer he built himself," she said, "and ever since we have all joined together in helping him realize his ambitions, even though the rest of us feared for his life."

Lockhart also has a brother here, Robert Lockhart.

Lockhart was born in Dayton, O., twenty-five years ago. He came to Los Angeles when 9 years of age and was educated in Los Angeles and Inglewood schools. He was always mechanically inclined, his mother said, and automobiles were his greatest passion. He started race driving four years ago, after some time spent as a mechanician.

Three years ago young Lockhart married his first and only sweetheart, Miss Ella Corson. She was a spectator when he was killed.

DEAD RACER EULOGIZED BY INDIANAPOLIS FRIEND

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) April 25. (AP)—Frank Lockhart, race driver, killed today during a speed trial at Daytona Beach, Fla., was born at Dayton, O. He moved to Los Angeles with his parents when he was a small boy.

He entered the sport of automobile racing as a driver in dirt-track races. He came with other race followers to Indianapolis for the 500-mile contest in 1926. A few days before the race the illness of Peter Kreis left one of the cars without a pilot, and Lockhart was given the place. He qualified the car in record time and then won the race.

BUILT DEATH CAR

Several months ago he set a speed record on the dry lake bed of Lake Muroc, California. He then came to Indianapolis to supervise the building of the special Stutz racer in which he met his death today.

The bullet-nosed machine, powered with a sixteen-cylinder motor and built to do upward of 220 miles an hour, was the creation of its victim and the Stutz Automobile Company of America. A fortune was spent on the car, the rear axle alone being valued at $30,000.

In winning the speedway race here in 1926 Lockhart drove a Miller Special at an average of 98.235 miles an hour. The race was 400 miles long, being stopped because of rain. Lockhart was backed by a group of Lafayette (Ind.) auto-racing enthusiasts. At the time of his speedway victory he held all existing records from one to twenty-five miles for dirt-track racing.

He was entered in the 1927 speedway race here and won several lap prizes before his car was forced out by mechanical difficulties.

TRIBUTE OF FRIEND

F. E. Moskovics, president of the Stutz company, said he had tried to dissuade Lockhart from making the record attempt so soon after being injured in a similar effort in February.

"It is only fair to say now that he should not have gone to Daytona Beach at this time," Moskovics said. "His hand was not cured from the first accident. It was still weak. Yet he tackled the job with a crippled left hand because it was in his blood to get that record."

Moskovics praised Lockhart as the cleanest-living, finest-minded young man he had ever known.

GIRL FACES TURKISH COURT

Berkeley Teacher Eloquently Denies Spreading Christian Doctrine Among Pupils

BROUSSA (Turkey) April 25. (AP)—One of the strangest scenes in the history of this ancient Moslem capital took place today when a lone American girl faced a Turkish court which is trying her for teaching Christianity contrary to Turkish regulation, and testified in her own defense.

Addressing the court in fluent Turkish, Miss Edith Sanderson, 28 years of age, of Berkeley, Cal., delivered an impassioned plea for her liberty. She frankly admitted discussing the New Testament with two girl-students who came to her privately while she was a teacher in the American School for Girls here, but stated it was after school hours and did not contravene the Turkish law against teaching religion in schools.

The atmosphere was tense when Miss Sanderson rose to speak. With her first few words of Turkish there were audible murmurs of surprise showing how effective was this strategy.

NO SUCH TERMS

Once only was there a pause in Miss Sanderson's unabashed contralto voice. She was trying to say "fair play" and "good sportsmanship" but as these expressions have no equivalent in Turkish she had to repeat the Turkish equivalent for "high ideals."

Miss Sanderson said that after she had been at the Brousa School two years, several girls came to her and told her they had been reading the New Testament and would be interested in talking things over occasionally. This was outside of school hours and not in the school building.

"These years following I have talked with them only a few times," she said. "When they came, I answered their questions. Often it was when we were out on a walk or in our house. It was all a personal thing with me and not in the name of the school. I had no intention of breaking any law—I talked as friend to friend and not as teacher to a pupil in a class. I have never taugh religion in the school or carried on what I consider propaganda. There has been no systematic going after anyone. No one has ever been baptized and no one has been allowed to attend any religious services."

EXPLAINS METHODS

Telling of her physical education work with Turkish girls not only to give them strong bodies but high ideals, Miss Sanderson told of her work in caring for them if they became sick.

"When I talked to these girls, I had no intention of doing anything at all against the government and there has been no desire to make Americans out of them or to denationalize them," she said.

After relating the work of the school and declaring that the girls were better Turks and more loyal to their government for having been there, she concluded:

"Therefore, since I feel that I have done nothing against Turkish religion or nationalism, I am convinced I shall be acquitted and I intrust myself to Turkish justice."

Tom Mix Sued in Stage Accident

ST. LOUIS, April 25. (AP)—Suit for $25,000 damages was filed today by Fern Webb against Tom Mix, film actor and the St. Louis Theater, for injuries suffered last Monday when she asserts she was struck by a splinter of a bullet fired by Mix in a target-shooting exhibition here. She sat in the front row.

Japanese Globe Racer in Berlin

BERLIN, April 25. (AP)—Ryukichi Matsui, a Japanese, who is racing against time and a fellow-countryman, Toichiro Araki, in a globe-circling contest in opposite directions, reached Berlin at 9:31 a.m. today. He came from Moscow.

Matsui traveled here by way of Warsaw, Poland. He appeared to be in good condition, and said he had had no special adventures since he left Japan to travel westward. He will fly to London tomorrow morning.

CHERBOURG, April 25. (AP)—Toichiro Araki, eastward-bound competitor in the Jiji Shimpo globe-encircling contest, landed from the Aquitania today. He was due in Paris this afternoon and will continue on to Berlin tomorrow.

MORE QUAKES ROCK CORINTH

Torrential Rains Increase Misery of Refugees

Bulgarian King Completes Survey of Sofia

Declares Disaster Reaches National Catastrophe

ATHENS, April 26. (AP)—Further violent earthquakes occurred in Corinth today and torrential rains beat upon the wretched homeless.

The collapse of a wall killed a woman said to be 120 years of age. Fierce winds blew down huts and tents where many of the destitute had found shelter, exposing them to the furious storm.

Officers and men of British warships which have arrived, are affording every possible assistance.

BORIS ACKNOWLEDGES AID FROM UNITED STATES

SOFIA (Bulgaria) April 26. (AP)—King Boris of Bulgaria in an interview with the Associated Press correspondent today said that he would like to stress that the United States was the first country to recognize the distress suffered in Southeastern Bulgaria through a devastating series of earthquakes.

"The first message of condolence to Bulgaria came from President Coolidge," he said, "and the first material aid from the American Red Cross."

The King drew a pathetic picture of the suffering of his people and nobody was better able to tell the story than the 34-year-old ruler who spent days in the ruined districts. After the first shocks in the Tchirpan area, the 14th inst., the King, accompanied by his sister, Princess Eudoxia, and his brother, Prince Cyrille, went from village to village questioning and helping victims. He had returned to his country house at Sithiankovo, near Sofia, when he felt there the shocks which brought disaster to Philippopolis on the 18th inst. The next day he started on a tour of that district. He spent three days there, dwelling in a tent among his stricken subjects.

"I have seen the results of several earthquakes," he said, "notably those at Tirnovo in 1913 and in Sofia in 1917, but none were so violent as this last, which covered a wide area embracing important centers of population and including the densely populated and flourishing city of Philippopolis, the center of the tobacco industry employing thousands of workers.

PEOPLE IN MISERY

"The people are suffering indescribable misery. The sudden disaster plunged hundreds of thousands of the population of Southern Bulgaria into an almost desperate state.

"Camped in open spaces, they suffered continued anxiety over the constant recurrence of shocks. Their property was destroyed. They are without proper food and clothing. Many lack even tents to shelter them against the cold and rain, which is always incessant in April and unusually abundant this year."

"Their position is terrible enough to reduce the most optimistic to despair."

Asked about material damage, King Boris said:

"The loss is very great. Several towns are almost destroyed, but it is impossible yet to estimate exactly the results of the quake. Nevertheless, it is evident that we are faced with a veritable national catastrophe.

"Reconstruction will be all the more difficult because the violence of the shocks and the subsequent fires destroyed bricks, timber and other building materials which cannot therefore again be used."

TECHNIQUE OF ELOPEMENTS BECOMES MIGHTY INVOLVED

OAKLAND, April 25. (AP)—Eloping is a complicated business under California's marriage law.

June Borchert, 19 years of age, student in Mills College here and George Murray Bland, 20, an Oakland youth, know. They had to elope three times to Napa to achieve one wedding.

On March 24 June left the halls of learning and with George filed application at Napa for their license. On March 27 they eloped a second time to obtain the requisite paper and on April 1 they made their third trip to Napa and were married by Rev. Arthur J. Child, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church there.

June Borchert Bland, who continues the care of an apartment with attendance at Mills College, declares her intention to finish the college year there and then enter the University of California. George is heading his energies to earning a living.

MAIN BREAK PARALYZES MOTOR CITY

Part of Detroit Flooded and Auto Factory Forced to Shut Down

DETROIT, April 25. (AP)—A break in a four-foot water main today paralyzed Detroit's industrial section for three hours, flooded sections of the city with four feet of water, marooned pedestrians and forced the closing of telephone lines until the broken main was partially repaired.

Automobiles and pedestrians were marooned by the first rush of the water, and were not rescued for almost an hour, when city busses and horse-drawn wagons were sent into the high-water area. Hundreds of basements were flooded.

Several factories, including the Packard Motor Company, without water for the boilers, were forced to close.

Priests in Party of Catholics Sent to Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, April 25. (Exclusive)—Two priests and nine other Catholics were placed aboard a train at San Cristobal, Las Casas, State of Chiapapas, by government agents and started for this city to await disposition of their cases in the Ministry of Interior, according to information received here this afternoon. They are charged with violating the religious laws.

A Spaniard and a girl were apprehended by Jalisco military authorities, charged with sedition in furnishing aid to rebels. The Spaniard is being held at Guadalajara pending the outcome of a petition of the military authorities that Article XXXIII, which means expulsion from the country, be applied to him. Military officials assert he visited rebels, giving them information relative to Federal troop movements, while the girl was placed at the disposition of civil authorities of Guadalajara, charged with furnishing medical aid and nursing wounded insurgents.

Inmates Mount in Institutions

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (AP)—California's twelve insane hospitals, feeble-minded homes, correctional schools and blind homes during 1927 received 5682 men, women and children.

These figures were announced at the State's Department of Institutions today and it was added that the institutions last year recorded more than a 30 per cent turnover in population. During the same time the twelve institutions gained 1902 inmates.

They began the year with a combined population of 16,307 men, women and children, and ended the twelve-month period December 31, 1927, with 17,719 actually cared for by the State despite 5661 discharged.

It was explained the institutions, despite the large number of discharges, gained in population because of the return of many previously paroled charges and through forced return of others who had escaped.

Moro Slayers Electrocuted

MANILA, April 25. (AP)—Four Moros, followers of the Mohammedan faith, were executed here today in the only electric chair in the Orient, for robbing the house of a fellow Moro and killing him. Only one of the four died with traditional Moro bravery. The other three virtually were in a state of collapse as they were led to the chair.

Datu (chief) Tahil, husband of Princess Tarhata Kiram, who is serving a term in prison for playing a leading part in an uprising of natives on Jolo Island, administered Mohammedan rites to the four condemned men.

Gov.-Gen. Stimson refused the request of newspaper men to witness the execution.

ARIZONA EDISON'S PROTEST DEFEATED

SOUTHERN SIERRAS POWER DEFENDS YUMA RATE FOR SERVICE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—Arizona Edison Company's complaint to the California Railroad Commission that the Southern Sierras Power Company collected higher rates for power served Yuma than did the company previously operating there has been dismissed. Arizona Edison contended it had a contract with the previous utility which Southern Sierras Power ignored. The Railroad Commission called attention to the fact that it establishes the wholesale rates of companies within its jurisdiction and that the defendant company is not violating this schedule.

Rates controlled by the commission, it was pointed out, supersede private agreements where a public utility is involved.

DYOTT NEARING JUNGLE ORDEAL

Explorer Hunting Fawcett at End of Trail

BY COMMANDER GEORGE M. DYOTT

(Copyright, 1928, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance)

CORUMBA (Brazil) April 25. (Exclusive)—We have come this far on our journey into the wilderness to find the missing explorer, Col P. H Fawcett, and are starting at once by launch for Cuyaba. There we strike out into the jungle with our bullock train.

Our journey from Sao Paulo to the rail head was eventful. One coach caught fire and we were derailed three times because heavy rains had undermined the tracks, but none of our party was injured. We would have been weeks getting here had it not been for the help of the Brazilian government.

The opinion prevails in Brazil that Fawcett has perished. It is considered that no man can survive in the forests more than eight months, and Fawcett hasn't been heard from since May, 1925. But if we don't find Fawcett alive, we shall establish what happened to him, and then press on to discover that lost city of antiquity, he set out to find.

KRENZ BREAKS DISCUS RECORD

Stanford Sophomore Heaves Platter Out 161 Feet

Two Other Efforts Farther Than Recognized Mark

Cardinal Strong Man Makes Tosses in Practice

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 25.—The discus, athletic implement of the ancient Greeks and toy of Olympian gods, was propelled farther today than it ever was before. The propelling power was the brawny right arm and husky body of Eric Krens, Stanford University sophomore. During an afternoon of intensive practice Krens three times shattered the recognized world's record of 157ft. 1 1-8in., set in 1925 by another Stanford strong man, Glen (Tiny) Hartranft.

ERIC KRENZ

Krens's best effort was a heave of 161ft. 2in. He had another toss of 159ft. 4in., and another of 158ft. 6 1-4in. A fourth throw bounced 156ft. 4in. away from its starting point.

BESTS HOUSER'S RECORD

Three of Krens's throws not only outstripped the present world's record, but also were superior to the unofficial world's mark of Clarence "Bud" Houser. The Southern California boy has applied for a record at 156ft. 1 3-4in.

Krens took an even dozen tosses

LUCAS PITCHES OVERTIME WIN

Picinich's Double Puts End to Longest Tilt of Year

Bottomley's Homer With One on Ties Up Struggle

Three Pitchers Are Used by Cards in Long Game

CINCINNATI, April 25. (AP)—Red Lucas went the full route to pitch the Reds to a 5-to-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals in seventeen innings today, the longest National League game this season.

RED LUCAS

Reinhart, the third Cardinal pitcher, to see service, kept the Reds' batters in hand from the eighth inning until a double by Picinich, with Dressen on second, ended the game with two out when the winning run was scored.

The Reds took three runs from four bunched hits off Frankhouse in the fifth and scored another on two hits in the sixth. Bottomley drove a home run into right-field bleachers in the eighth to score himself and High, after Douthit had scored on Frisch's fly. St. Louis had scored in the third and the rally tied the score.

Emanuel Off for East to Seek Fortune

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (AP)—Armand Emanuel, undefeated heavyweight boxing prospect of San Francisco, about whom the experts have had much to say—both for and against—left today on a 3000-mile trial to New York, where he hopes to find fame and fortune.

The 22-year-old protege of Jack Dempsey, accompanied by his father-manager, Charles Emanuel, had no definite plans in mind, other than to attend the Delaney-Sharkey fight Monday night.

ANGELS CLINCH CONTEST EARLY

Seraphs Make Ten Runs in First Two Rounds

Boehler Rapped to Showers by Cherubs' Assault

Hood, Jensen, Arlett, Fenton Clout Out Home Runs

BY BOB RAY

Those two very loud explosions heard out in the neighborhood of Wrigley Field yesterday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock were not the Black-Hand pleasantries with some Chicago gangsters. Oh, my, no, it was just Marty Krug's ambitious Angels blasting Ivan Howard's Oaks loose from another victory.

WOODY JENSEN

The Angels started early and worked fast, and at the conclusion of the first two innings they had accumulated ten runs and were well on their way to a 13-to-4 triumph. It was the second straight win for the Cherubs over the 1927 champions, who certainly are not being given much in the way of a nice reception in their first visit here this season.

The Cherubs achieved yesterday's victory without the aid of "Sloe" Tolson, the league's leading hitter and home-run clouter, who was forced to the sidelines to give his galloping charleyhorse a rest. Wally Hood was shifted in to first base and young "Woody" Jensen sent out to right field. Hood got a home run and two singles and Jensen clouted a home run and a double, so it can certainly be safely said that they certainly did their best to make up for the absence of Mr. Tolson.

EASY FOR BARFOOT

Clyde Barfoot was on the mound for the Angels and after the Home Guards had presented him ten runs in the first two stanzas, he simply coasted to victory.

George Boehler was Oakland's starting pitcher and the reception he got was nothing if not bombastic. Hood and Jensen clouted their home runs with a man on in the first inning to account for four runs off Boehler, who was derricked in the second after he had walked over a run. Howard Craghead followed Boehler to the mound and before he could get the side out in the second, five more runs had been driven across the plate.

The Oaks packed away at Bar-

Beavers Beat Hollywooders to Tie Series

PORTLAND (Or.) April 25.—The Portland Beavers evened up the series by winning today's baseball game from Hollywood, 5 to 3. French for Portland was so wild early in the game that he walked in one run in the first inning with the bases full. He settled down then and in the last six frames Hollywood failed to get a man past second base.

Millionaire Hockey Team in Last Stand

Los Angeles ice hockey fans may get their last glimpse of the Hollywood Millionaires, Pacific Coast professional puck champions, in action tonight. The Millionaires meet the Minneapolis Millers in the third game of their East-West series this evening at the Winter Garden at 8:30, and, if the local lads lose again they will hang up their sticks and call it quits for season.

Not that the Millionaires would give up trying to take a fall out of the eastern champions, but because the local puck heads have decided that in the event of Minneapolis making it three in a row over the Sheiks, it would be better for all concerned to throw the Richfield Oilers into the fray against the Millers for the Saturday game. So, if Hollywood is trimmed again tonight, the Saturday and Monday shots will be Minneapolis vs. Richfield. On the other hand, if Hollywood wins the same teams will continue to fight it out until one has won three games.

Hollywood will be without the services of Mike Gallagher, substitute right winger, tonight, he having departed yesterday for Kenora, Ont.

TROJAN SWIMMERS BEAT BRUINS 32-27

University of Southern California's swim squad nosed out the Bruins from U.C.L.A. yesterday in a close meet held at the Vermont-avenue school, 32-27. The score was 27-all when the relay was announced, the Trojans copping the relay and the meet.

Doug Donath looked good in the breast stroke, copping that event for the Bruins in the fast time of 1m. 15s. Don Davis, also from U.C.L.A., took the diving over Don Wallis of the Trojans, who placed second.

ROMANS TO GET GOLD TRACK SHOE AWARDS

Gold track shoes besides the usual award of letters will be given to Los Angeles High's city championship track and field squad, it was announced yesterday. The athletes that will get the awards are Capt. Dean Williams, Frank Lombardi, Chuck White, Frank Houck, John Bowen, Don Durfee, Dave Poore, Junior Crosseley, Jimmy Owens, Bart Duffner, Andy Anderson, James Perrie, Dick Lessley, Barrett Conger, Bud Rousseau and Tom Hopper.

HYMIE MILLER ANNEXES NATIONAL BOXING CROWN

BOSTON, April 25. (AP) — George Hoffman, New York heavyweight, carried off class honors early this morning in a rugged bout with Royal Elliott, lumbering Alhambra (Cal.) youngster in the wind-up of the three-day A.A.U. national championship boxing tournament here which will determine composition of United States Olympic boxing team.

Hoffman easily outpointed Elliott who was the frequent recipient of stiff jabs. The California lad tried hard to land but most of his swings went wild.

Hyman Miller of Los Angeles, assumed the title once held by Fidel LaBarba, another Californian, by beating Gene Blanco of Boston in the 113-pound final bout. Both boys were active and willing and swapped punches about equally in the first round. Blanco scored often with a right to the head in the second, fly-

THIEF GETS "HOME RUN"

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 25. (AP)—While Stanford and California were settling their annual baseball dispute last Saturday, some one made a "home run" with the cash box. The board of athletic control made it known today that $350 receipts of the game had disappeared sometime between Saturday and Monday morning. The office safe was locked and the custodian of the funds put the money in a cabinet.

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The New York Yankees hit hard behind Pipgras's good pitching today, and again defeated the Washington Senators. The score was 12 to 4.

The Yankees knocked out Firpo Marberry in three innings, scoring three runs in the first and four more in the third. They continued to hit Van Alstine freely, Durst, Koenig and Lazzeri leading the charge.

In the sixth inning Goslin stole second while Rice occupied the bag, but got away with it when Grabowski hit Rice with the ball as Sam tried to make third. It was scored as a double steal. The score:

INDIANS COLLECT

ST. LOUIS, April 25. (AP)—Cleveland evened the series with the St. Louis Browns here today by a 7-to-3 score. A collection of runs in the first and fifth off Stewart and Crowder gave the Indians a commanding lead which the Browns were unable to overcome.

While winning, the Indians slipped into second place in the standings when the Yankees also won. President R. S. Barnard of the American League witnessed the game. The score:

TIGERS ON TOP

DETROIT, April 25. (AP)—An error by Marty McManus in the seventh inning robbed Earl Whitehill, Tiger southpaw, of a shutout in the fourth game of the series with the Chicago White Sox today, which Detroit won, 3 to 2. McManus fumbled Barrett's grounder, which started a Chicago rally ending after two runs had been scored.

With the score tied in the eighth inning Heilmann scored on Hargrave's single with the winning run. Grady Adkins, White Sox recruit pitcher, performed well, allowing seven hits to Chicago's nine.

ATHLETICS COP

PHILADELPHIA, April 25. (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics found the Boston Red Sox sterner opposition today, but registered their fourth straight victory by a score of 3 to 2. Ty Cobb scored the winning run in the sixth inning by hitting a double, advancing on an infield out and tallying on Cochrane's sacrifice fly to center. Grove fanned seven of the Red Sox in turning in his second triumph of the season.

OBSERVATIONS

ME. WILLYUM WHEELER, whose two hobbies in the line of athletics are "rassilin" and amateur boxing, rises to ask a question. Mr. Wheeler, being possessed of heavy locks and distinguished mien, demands attention when he asks questions. It's true he asked this one of us several months ago, but we couldn't think of an answer or forgot about it or something, and the recent national amateur boxing championships at Boston reminded us of it. "It is my understanding," said Bro. Wheeler, "that the California Boxing Commission controls both amateur and professional boxing. I also understand the professional stars like Bud Taylor, etc., are permitted to box only once a week. Will you kindly tell me how come the Boxing Commission allows the amateurs to start boxing in a big tournament in the middle of the afternoon and keep on fighting guys until the middle of the next morning?" Well, boys, that's a deep one.

Just happened to run across the letter we got from Harry Trotter, Bruin coach, some weeks ago, in which he made a flock of predictions concerning the performances that the California Bears would make in the Stanford meet. It is remarkable how close Harry came to calling the predictions almost exactly. As a matter of fact, most of the performances that he predicted were exceeded by the Bears, and they turned out to be just as tough an aggregation of athletes as he said they would. Harry had the misfortune to run into them just when their reputation was bad and their ambition was good.

Wonder if Speedy Dado is going to be another Bud Taylor. Those who saw the ex-Terre Haute terror staggering around the Vernon arena with his left arm clear out of its socket will not care particularly for any more such exhibitions of gameness. It isn't very surprising that a little brown man from the islands should have this trouble, for they certainly throw their punches from every conceivable direction and in every known manner. The only wonder to us after seeing a few of them fight is that they don't come entirely apart in the course of one of their wild paroxysms of fighting.

We can't help wondering if that Englishman who had the long airplane tail on his Florida racer didn't have the right idea. Lockhart's car, which turned turtle twice with him, was beautifully stream-lined, but very short, and the only explanation we can get from the press reports is that it just naturally got to swaying and get away from him. The long tail that the Englishman's car had prevented such an occurrence, acting exactly as an automatic rudder.

ARGENTINA AND AMERICA TO STAGE POLO CLASSIC

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—A new polo classic, for the championship of the Americas, will be inaugurated next September when teams representing the United States and Argentina meet in a special series of matches at the Meadowbrook Club on Long Island.

TOMMY HITCHCOCK

The United States Polo Association today announced completion of arrangements for the contest, which will take its place in international competition alongside the historic series between this country and Great Britain for the Westchester Cup successfully defended last September by the American "Big Four."

The Argentine team already has shipped its ponies here for an American invasion this summer but this visit now is changed from one of informal character for play in the national championships to a formal quest of international cup honors.

Acceptance of this proposal was promptly cabled to the United States Polo Association by Jack Nelson, star forward of the Argentine team and president of that country's polo governing body. A new trophy will be put up for the series, which will be decided by the best two out of three matches, similar to the Westchester Cup competition.

Tommy Hitchcock, famous young Number 3, has been chosen as captain of the American team by the association, thereby indicating definitely that the field leadership of the "Big Four" has passed out of the hands of Devereaux Milburn, veteran back. Milburn announced last winter, after helping repel the British challenge for the Westchester Cup, that he had played his last big international match.

The rest of the American team has not been decided upon and probably will not be until some trial matches have been held. It is generally expected, however, that it will result in the formation of a new "big four," under Hitchcock's leadership, and include younger stars, such as Winston Guest, who was a substitute on the 1927 international team.

The selection of the American team will be in the hands of a committee composed of W. Averill Harriman, Maj. Louis A. Beard, Carleton F. Burke and Louis E. Stoddard, who will serve as chairman.

The Argentine team has been selected and its string of thirty-two ponies already has arrived to be trained. The team will be composed of Arturo Kenny, Jack Nelson, Jack Miles and Luis L. Lacey, with Manuel Andrada as substitute. This combination has a handicap rating of thirty goals. Kenny, is a newcomer to and rated at only six goals, but the others all have played in American tournaments. Lacey led an Argentine team that won the American open title in 1922, and played back on the British international team of 1924.

OJAI TOURNEY STARTS TODAY

ing entries that are expected to make things warm for the cup players and title favorites. Stratford meets Barry Wood, Sinderf encounters Henry Culley; Neer faces Clarence Barker, and Gene Warren and Herb Glass in the finish of the men's singles pairings.

From the early hour of 7:45 o'clock tomorrow morning until darkness tomorrow evening, the sixteen courts in the valley will be crowded with matches in the fourteen competetive events. In the collegiate and scholastic competition Ben Gorchakoff, Occidental, Alan Herrington, Stanford, and Kieth Glendhill, Santa Barbara High, are the nationally ranking stars, and main attractions.

Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, former world's and national queen of American courts, and Midge Gladman, one of the coming threats to the title now held by Miss Helen Wills, loom as finalists in the women's singles. Mrs. Bundy has in her half such talent as Dorothy Robinson. Mrs. Peggy James Stratford and Helen Marlowe, while Miss Gladman must contend with and defeat Mary Taylor and Gladys Patz, two old junior foes.

Perhaps of all the various events, the intercollegiate will result in the closest competition and will produce conquer in Dolf Muehleisen and single event. Gorchakoff and Herrington are located in opposite halves, but the former has his hands full with Alan Blade and Redman Houser in his draw, and the latter has worlds of class to conuer in Dolf Muehleisen and Bob Bob Laird.

HUESTON TO APPEAR IN EXHIBITION HERE

Tom Hueston, world's undefeated pocket-billiard champion, will make his appearance here today and tomorrow in four 125-point exhibitions. This is the first time the veteran cue artist has scheduled Los Angeles in his program since taking the title from Erwin Rudolph in May of last year. This is his sixth reign as champion. At 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. of the two-day stand, Hueston will encounter local talent at the Hillstreet billiard parlor.

ANGELS WALLOP OAKLAND AGAIN

foot's offerings for eight hits, but Clyde saw to it that there was no great concentrating of their efforts. In fact, one run an inning was all Barfoot allowed them at the most, and he did that in but four frames.

"Bum" Arlett and Jack Fenton accounted for two of the runs off Barfoot with home-run drives. Arlett's drive landed in the bleachers, while Fenton's clout carried clear over the right-field fence.

The Oaks threatened to score one in the first inning when Tony Governor reached second when Schulmerich bobbled his single. Larry skied to Jensen and then Staley tossed out Reese, Governor making his way to third. Barfoot worked carefully on Arlett and finally forced Bum to wave at a fast one for the third strike.

TROUBLE FOR BOEHLER

Boehler's trouble began after he had retired Schulmerith and Staley. Bobby Jones dropped a single in right and then Wally Hood Hood boomed one over the tall trees on the other side of the street in left field. Berger singled and Jensen drove one of Boehler's curves on a line over the right-field screen for another homer. That made four runs for the home cause.

Oakland picked up a run in the second with the aid of an error by Dittmar. Bratcher, who replaced Irish Meusel, who is not hitting, in right field, walked for a starter. Jensen made a nice running catch of Caveney's short fly near the foul line and then Fenton forced Bratcher. Dittmar leaped in the air to knock down Read's line drive, but he couldn't hold the ball and it fell for an infield hit. Boehler also singled infield and Fenton scored when Dittmar threw wide to Staley for an attempted force play. Governor rolled out to Staley to end the round.

The Angels came right back in the second to stage their six-run rally that iced the struggle. Hannah walked, but Barfoot fanned for the first of four times. Schulmerich doubled to center and then Boehler walked Staley and Jones to force in a run. Croghead was then called to the mound and Wally Hood greeted him with a single that drove Schulmerich and Staley home. Berger drove a double down the left-field line that almost tore Jimmy Caveney's right ear off en route. That clout scored Jones and then Jensen rapped another double that also threatened bodily harm to the Oak third-sacker as it whistled down the left-field line. Hood and Berger counted on this wallop. Dittmar was hit by a pitched ball and it looked as though the rally might go on indefinitely, Hannah was then thrown out by Reese and Jensen, who attempted to score from second on the play, was doubled at the plate, Fenton to Read.

Arlett hit his home run in the third and Fenton got his in the fourth, but both clouts came when the bases were empty.

BERGER ROBS REESE

Berger provided the fielding feature of the afternoon in the fifth inning when he raced over near the foul-line to make a shoe-string catch of Jimmy Reese's low liner. This Berger individual, by the way, is developing into a wow of an outfielder.

The Swapks broke forth again in the seventh and put over three more runs when Jones doubled, Hood singled and Berger doubled both men home and later scored on a pair of infield outs.

Reese scored the Oaks' last run in the eighth when he walked, took second on Arlett's single, went to third when Bratcher hit into a double play, and scored on Caveney's hit to left.

Joe Bratcher provided a bright spot for Oak rooters in the eighth when he raced in and picked off his shoe tops, Gale Staley's Texas Leaguer. The catch robbed Staley of what looked to be a sure hit.

Another one today with Tex Weatherspy and Bob Hasty due to do the twirling. Come early or the Angels may have the ball game cinched before you get there. Score:

POMONA DECATHLON BATTLE TOMORROW

CLAREMONT, April 25. (Exclusive)—Pomona's first annual decathlon contest opens tomorrow on Alumni Field with a brilliant field of all-around athletes ready for the opening events. Coach Bob Strehle plans to make the contest an annual affair with a perpetual trophy for the winners. It will be held immediately after the close of the track season. Hurdles, two jumps and weights are on tap in the first round of events tomorrow.

Helen Wills Tells Paris of Fashions

PARIS, April 25. (AP)—Helen Wills, much to her surprise, played fashion expert on her arrival today for an extended tennis invasion of Europe.

The American tennis champion was all smiles as the photographers clicked away and she looked so chic in her brown tailor-made suit and toque with her silver fox fur that the style writers asked her what she thought the trend of the mode for the outdoor girl was going to be.

Seemingly surprised that Paris should ask California such a question, Miss Wills hesitated a moment and then said: "Well, the present styles are worth continuing, with dresses not too short and fairly wide."

and no less than seven landed on the running track. Those familiar with the old Stanford oval will appreciate the significance of this statement. Only one other man has ever heaved the discus from the pit to the running track in the old Stanford field, and that was Hartranft.

Inasmuch as the track is three feet five inches above the level of the discus pit, Stanford officials believe Krenz's heaves would have sailed at least four feet farther had they been made on an even surface. Distances were carefully measured with a steel tape, and were vouched for by Murray Draper, Stanford track manager, Bill Elkington, assistant track coach, and Don Liebendorfer of the graduate manager's office.

HAS FEEL OF DISCUS

Krenz could explain his remarkable performances in no other way than to say he had the "feel" of the discus for the first time. The husky sophomore, who hails from Stockton, bettered his previous best mark of 154ft. 6 3-4in., more than a half dozen times during the afternoon.

CARDS SEND TWENTY-SEVEN FRESNO RELAY MEET

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 25.—Twenty-seven varsity and freshmen track and field athletes are included in Stanford's tentative entry list for the Fresno relays, to be held next Saturday, according to an announcement made by Coach Dink Templeton here today. Nine out of the fifteen regular track meet events will be run off.

Stanford men are conceded a good chance of walking off with honors in the meet. Competition should be good, as other California institutions are sending entries.

Following are the Stanford entries:

Von Elm Out of Southland Title Event

George Von Elm, Southern California amateur golf champion and nationally known bat wielder, will not defend his title when play begins at the Lakeside Country Club, May 8. He announced yesterday that business in Detroit called him east, May 10. The Southland title-holder plans to compete in eastern tournaments during the summer, but will return to Southern California for the winter season. He is a member of the Los Angeles Country Club.

The club will donate a cup to the winner of the tournament.

PLUMBERS AND HEATERS CLASH AT BRENTWOOD

Members of the plumbing and heating industries have organized a golf association. The pipe threaders and blow-torch wielders have set aside one day a month as a day of play.

An organization meeting was held recently, and Walter P. Baxter was named president; William S. Goodrich, vice-president; Fred A. White, secretary, and E. S. Hoyt, Jr., treasurer. Tournament, handicap and trophy committees were appointed to prepare for the first play which will be over the Brentwood course tomorrow. The tournament is open to all members of the plumbing and heating industries, and indications point to an attendance of over fifty players.

LE BLOND LEADS SENIORS IN LOS ANGELES PLAY

Fred Le Blond's 78 gave him low gross for the first 18 holes of the 36-hole senior tournament at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday. The tournament is open to golfers of 55 years of age and over, and the final 18 holes will be played either today or tomorrow.

William Gray won low net, 90-26 68. J. K. Livingston, 93-14-69, was among the leaders.

TONY MANDELL IS FAVORED TO WIN OVER JIMMY PEILA IN LEGION SCRAP TOMORROW

Tony Mandell, the Boston Wop, will enter the Hollywood American Legion stadium ring tomorrow night a favorite over Jimmy Peila, the home-grown product of Cauliflower Alley. His greater experience and bobbing style of fighting have caught the eyes of the fellows who like to pick the winners. That doesn't mean that Peila can't win the fight. He has the stuff and if he is able to solve Mandell's peculiar style of fighting, Peila is very apt to cop the win.

The main event should be a whale of a fight. Tom Gallery has had some very entertaining shots featured at the stadium, but he claims the fight tonight between Peila and Mandell should rate with his best offerings. There is every reason to believe that Mandell and Peila will go ten rounds at a pace that will be thrilling. Their styles make a perfect match and the kind of fighting should take place that Hollywood fans rave over.

Training stunts for the principals will be over today. The boys are in condition and down to weight. Peila looks fine and so does his Boston opponent. Mandell is the better boxer, but Peila the harder hitter.

Harry Forbes has a record that rates him main events in California. He has fought some of the best bantams in the country and beaten them. Pitted against Trip Lambiez, the Filipino Forbes will show at his best. He will have to keep busy every minute of the six rounds to beat his Filipino opponent.

Flash Hastings, the Nebraska lad, will go to the post a bit of a favorite over Clayton Gouyd. Hastings is a pocket edition of Ace Hudkins in action. The fights he has had at the stadium showed that Hastings is going to be a hard boy to keep out of the main events. His style is the kind that Los Angeles fight fans rave over.

Clisby Fights Henry Tonight

Neil Clisby who, next to George Godfrey, is the most feared colored heavyweight in the game today will display his pugilistic wares for Pasadena fight fans tonight when he tackles William Henry, another dusky battler, in the ten-round main event on Morrie Cohan's weekly card. Henry claims the colored championship of the South and his supporters declare he will flatten Clisby in tonight's bout. Henry made a real hit in his recent fights at the Olympic against some of the strongest boys in the racket here.

Henry is taking over a big job when he goes out to knock out Clisby, however. Clisby is the heavyweight who clopped Mack House twice at Pasadena. He, incidentally, is the only man who ever turned the trick on House. Clisby also gave George Godfrey a real battle for seven rounds at the Olympic last year. Clisby, if he gets by Henry tonight, will meet House in an outdoor show in the Pasadena section, according to Manager Cohan.

Jack Haywood, Monrovia lightheavy will battle Stanley Baldwin of Chicago in the semi-wind-up. In the special number Joe Blood tackles Bert Hubbard. These boys are 140 pounders. There are two other bouts on the card.

MEXICAN RINGFEST ON TAP FOR TONIGHT

Tonight at the Main Street A. C. the Mexican Blue Cross will hold its annual benefit fistic show featuring the leading boxers in Southern California. Fred Solomon's band and several vaudeville acts will also be on the program.

Among those who will appear in the three-round exhibitions are Musty Callahan, junior welterweight champion of the world; Newsboy Brown, Coast flyweight champion; Jackie Fields, leading junior welterweight contender; Bert Colima, popular middleweight, and a number of the best battlers in this section.

PRIORY PARK TAKES ENGLISH RACE PURSE

EPSOM (Eng.) April 25. (AP)—J. B. Joel's Priory Park, by Rockfavage out of Chatham II, won the city and suburban handicap today.

Sol Joel's Pohaunan was second and Capt. J. R. H. Hutchinson's The Mohawk was third. Priory Park won by a neck and there was a length between Pohaunan and the Mohawk. Eighteen ran.

LEWIS PUTS UP DIAMOND BELT FOR LUTZE BATTLE

Billy Sandow, manager of Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, yesterday declared the title-holder's $10,000 diamond-studded belt, emblematic of the championship, will be at stake at the Olympic Wednesday night when Lewis wrestles Nick Lutze of Chicago in a finish, no-time-limit match.

Lewis was presented the belt after his first victory over Joe Stecher in New York December 13, 1920, and has held it ever since, despite his defeat at the hands of Wayne (Big) Munn in 1924, a bout the Strangler declares he won on a foul. His recent victory over Stecher gave him the undisputed possession of the diamond emblem.

Lutze, it is understood, demanded that the belt be put at stake, as it is supposed to always be in the possession of the reigning champion. With the belt as an additional incentive to Lutze to knock Lewis from off his mat throne, the 10,000 Southern California wrestling fans who are expected to pack the Olympic that night will probably witness the greatest grappling event held here.

The young Chicago wrestler has hopes of crashing his way into the title with either his jack-knife scissors or a nelson hold that will knock the title-holder colder than a barefooted Eskimo. There are many and sundry ways of applying the slam other than the regulation crotch and half-nelson, according to Lutze.

This grip can be applied by one who has just been clamped with a headlock, as easily, but not as comfortably, as from any other position. This is reported to be one of the methods the young Chicagoan plans to use in breaking the headlock should the Strangler hook Nick with it.

Lewis's left arm will be the object of Lutze's attack on the champion. The title-holder is known to possess all of the power he puts into his headlocks in his left arm, and by paralyzing this arm Nick believes he will so weaken the champion that the latter may not be able to use the head hold effectively at all.

Two other bouts will be on this card, Promoter Lou Daro stated last night.

SANTA MONICA HIGH AFTER SWIM PRIZES

SANTA MONICA, April 25. (Exclusive)—Having concluded a successful basketball season, in which his Santa Monica High School quintet entered the finals for the State title, Coach Floyd Mishler now has turned his attention to aquatic sports.

Mishler is conducting regular practices for some thirty natators in the Edgewater Club pool, the high school being minus that accommodation. The present objective is the Bay League swimming meet, to be held on an indefinite date in the near future. Although the Samchisans have shown little or nothing in water activities in the past, Mishler has great hopes of building up this sport.

Relay, 440, Mile Standards Also May be Broken

Strong Santa Ana Crew May Pull Surprise Win

MEET RECORDS

100-yard dash, 9 4-5s.—Wykoff and Stevens (Glendale) 1925; Lombardi (L.) 1926.
220-yard dash, 21 2-5s.—Wykoff (Glendale) 1925.
440-yard dash, 49 2-5s.—Gantt (Polytechnic) 1926.

One-mile run, 4m. 29 2-5s.—Unruh (El Monte) 1925.
High hurdles, 15s.—Welch (Pasadena) 1917.
Low hurdles, 23 4-5s.—Payne (San Bernardino) 1922.
880-yard relay, 1m. 29 2-5s.—Glendale, 1925.
Pole vault, 13ft. 1¾in.—Williams (Inglewood) 1925.
High jump, 6ft. 5¼in.—Van Osdel (Compton) 1926.
Shot put, 54ft. 3in.—Messer (Oxnard) 1923.
Discus throw, 147ft. ¼in.—Messer (Oxnard) 1923.
Broad jump, 22ft. 4½in.—Sullivan (L.A.) 1925.

How many of the above records will fall Saturday, when the prep tracksters gather in the Coliseum for the Southern California interscholastic trackfest? Seven marks look weak and may go by the boards. On the track the 220, the quarter, the mile and the relay marks may be erased, while in the field events the pole vault, high jump and broad jump records look as though they might be bettered.

FRANK WYKOFF

Coach Hayhurst of the Glendale outfit says that his stellar sprinter, Wykoff, may break the furlong mark, as he is capable of near 21s. flat if pushed, and he is certain to be pushed Saturday by Frank Lombardi of Los Angeles High.

Children of Long Beach and Woosmer of Redlands High stand a good chance to break Cliff Gantt's mark of 49 2-5s. in the quarter, as both boys have run 50s. flat without much competition. Both athletes copped their heats in 50 2-5s. in the preliminaries without much trouble.

MILE MARK MAY GO

Chesley Unruh's mark of 4m. 29 2-5s. for the mile run seems to have a fair chance to be broken by Minch of Inglewood. Minch ran 4m. 33 2-5s. easily last Saturday and wasn't even breathing hard at the finish.

Although Glendale established a new record for the 880-yard relay in the preliminaries there is no reason to believe that the Dynamiters can't run it a fifth of a second faster under the pressure of faster competition. Los Angeles High, headed by Frank Lombardi, will furnish the competition.

In this day of lofty vaulting, Jack Williams's record height of 13ft. 1 5-8in. in the pole vault looks like ordinary jumping. San Diego, home of the Smith brothers (pole vaulters,) has brought forth another vaulter in Miller, who claims a mark of 13ft. so far this season. Miller has a very good chance to bust Williams's record.

The broad jump brings two stellar jumpers together, in Velarde of Santa Ana and Wykoff of Glendale. Both athletes have gone over 22ft. this season and either one can break Sullivan's jump of 22ft. 4 1-2in.

Likewise in the high jump, two athletes meet who have both jumped over the existing mark of 6ft. 3 1-8in. Bob Van Osdel of Compton, holder of the present record will try and outleap Hank Lassalette of Puente High. Van Osdel set the present mark last Saturday in the preliminaries, with Lassalette furnishing the competition.

SANTA ANA ATHLETES MAY SPRING SURPRISE

SANTA ANA, April 25.—Satisfied with almost anything in excess of 10 points just a week ago, the boys and girls who like to dope out track meets in advance are beginning to show up with their scorecards disclosing how Santa Ana High School can actually win the annual Southern California interscholastic cinderpath classic in the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday.

A Saint triumph, which appeared to be an utter impossibility before the remarkable showing of Coach "Tex" Oliver's boys in the preliminaries last Saturday, now seems to be a real possibility and it is reasonable to presume that the locals will finish one two three unless they are the victims of some outlandish misfortune.

Dopesters figure that 25 points will win the meet and they scurried around today and produced figures showing that Oliver's lads have the power to collect 26, if everything is favorable. Here is the way they arrive at their deductions:

Ernie Velarde to win the broad jump and place third in the 220-yard low hurdles—7 points.

Capt. John Moffat to win the high hurdles and get second in the low hurdles, or vice-versa—8 points.

Melvin Beatty to take third in the javelin—2 points.

"Reg" Rust to get fourth in the shot and fourth in the discus—2 points.

Art Jacques for third in the high jump—3 points.

Tommy Cone for fourth in the 880—1 point.

Joe Warner for fourth place in the 440—1 point.

These are all real assignments for the Santa Ana athletes, of course, but their fulfillment is within the realm of possibilities and in one or two cases, notably Cone, Rust and Beatty, there seems to be a chance that the locals may get more points than they had anticipated.

Los Angeles High School, Glendale and Long Beach will be the most serious of Santa Ana's opponents, with the first two teams top-heavy favorites to lead the field by a substantial margin. Long Beach, not considered by the experts any more than Santa Ana, will be a dangerous antagonist if its two hurdlers, Joe Bills and Gene Roberts, outrun the Santa Ana trio, Moffat, Velarde and Reboin.

MESSRS. COHEN AND MORGAN HOLD DOWN MOST DIFFICULT JOBS IN MAJORS---MORIARTY

BY GEORGE MORIARTY
Manager of the Detroit Baseball Club

(Copyright 1926 in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

DETROIT, April 25.—To Infielder Andy Cohen, of the Giants, and Outfielder Eddie Morgan, Cleveland Indians, fall the most difficult tasks on the major league calendar of 1926.

GEORGE MORIARTY

Convincing the followers of the Giants that he has a chance to equal the magnificent Hornsby at the plate, and afield gives one an idea of the undertaking Cohen must attempt in 154 games, notwithstanding the clever performance he opened the season with.

A similar achievement is asked of Morgan, the Cleveland rookie, inasmuch as his famous predecessor, Tris Speaker, has left an 'indelible impression' in the minds of the Forest City fans of what constitutes center-fielding.

Can they do it? The question is almost as difficult to answer as the tasks are to perform. Still, the old game has a sly manner of ushering in new stars when they are least expected. It is recalled that Pittsburgh fans laughed at the idea of seeing another Wagner in their midst, and during the doubtful period Glenn Wright walked in from Kansas City and set the pace for National League short fielders.

WORTHY SUCCESSOR

Wright may not be another Wagner, but he is a very worthy successor. I believe he is the greatest tall shortstop I have ever seen. I mention his height because generally shortstop is no place for a tall athlete.

Detouring back to Andy Cohen, I have been informed by various players that it is highly possible for him to develop into a masterful fielder. It is a tradition with every McGraw machine to show a high degree of power at the plate, and therein may lie the hope of Cohen becoming a real batsman.

His 1923 debut was most auspicious. He not only carried away the fielding and batting honors of the first game, but was himself carried away on the shoulders of enthusiastic fans at the end of activities.

It is agreed that Billy Evans and Roger Peckinpaugh are elated over the prospects of Eddie Morgan filling the center-field bill for the Indians. He is a veritable greyhound in snaring fly balls. His speed gave him honors over some thirty outfielders of the Southern Association last year.

Morgan joins the American League just in time to catch a glimpse of the master fly-chaser of all time, Tris Speaker, and about the second best in Ty Cobb, both of whom are gracefully reaching the ends of their unexcelled and glorious careers under the banner of Connie Mack.

AT GATES OF GLORY

Morgan, like Cohen, stands an excellent chance to weave a reputation for himself if he can produce with the ash. A good start at the plate should imbue him with the confidence necessary to establish him as a regular. If he possesses the other attributes associated with greatness, the rest should be a matter of learning the "tricks of the trade."

Talking about the possibility of new stars bringing to mind the plight of the White Sox a year ago when Mostil failed to start in the middle pasture for them. Out of a clear sky came Alex Metzler, a product of the Texas League freshly given the "gate" by Connie Mack. Metzler is not a second Cobb or a second Speaker, but he is one of the most cavorting youngsters that ever gazed skyward, and the pitchers have yet to label him as a "yokel" at the plate.

In the rival Chicago ball yard there is a young man named Engelbrith, who is placed by Joe McCarthy to "look them over" at the top of the Cubs' batting order, and according to his boss is also serenely capable of grabbing wicked bounders and "half-hops" in star-like fashion.

YOUNG ROBERTS WINS

SAN JOSE, April 25. (AP)—Young Roberts of San Jose and Harry Stone of Australia, middleweights, boxed eight slow and uninteresting rounds here last night with the former gaining the verdict.

M'TIGUE DUE TOMORROW FOR WILLIS DATE HERE

Mike McTigue will box Willis at the Olympic May 8. The match was definitely closed yesterday by Matchmaker Wad Wadhams. McTigue will come to Los Angeles tomorrow and Willis will be on the ground at least a week before the match.

MIKE McTIGUE

This bout looms as one of the most interesting attractions staged here since the Paulino - Godfrey bout. McTigue, although an oldester of 36 years, can do more things with a boxing glove than most any of the younger generation.

He came close to stopping Armand Emmanuel in the first round at San Francisco last Monday night. From then on Emmanuel made a running fight of it with McTigue the aggressor.

"McTigue doesn't let as many right hands go as he once did probably," says Wadhams, "but he has something on them when he does let them go."

It is said that if McTigue beats Willis he may be in line to accept the summer date here with Paulino.

Eddie Shea and Midget Mike O'Dowd got down to business yesterday in their training for the Olympic main event next week. The weight for the match is 126 pounds.

Both boys won bouts in different parts of the country last week. Shea won from Tony Ascencio in Philadelphia. O'Dowd whipped Willie Gordon in San Francisco.

O'Dowd has made thirteen starts in California with but two reverses. One was with Santiago Zorrilla at Wilmington and the other with Benny Kid Carter in Hollywood.

Shea is managed by Joe Glaser and trained by Sam Buxbaum. Buxbaum is well known here. He brought Bud Hamilton to the Coast in the four-round days, when Hamilton was a sensation.

Oregon Bronco Buster Enters Saugus Rodeo

Kenneth Cooper, famous bronco buster of Pendleton, Or., yesterday entered for the contest at the third annual Baker Ranch rodeo at Saugus on Saturday and Sunday, May 5 and 6. Cooper's entry brings into the competition for world championship six of the most famous bronco riders of the country.

Cooper will meet at the Baker Ranch rodeo Howard Tegland of Sweetwater, Wyo., winner at Cheyenne last year and also at Baker Ranch; Perry Ivory of Alturas, who won the bronco contest at the big Tex Austin show in London, Eng., in 1926; John Schneider of Merced, winner last year at Colorado Springs; Pat Woods of Klamath Falls, victor at many round-ups, and Andrew Jauregui of Ventura, whose ill luck when his spurs slipped last year caused him to lose a chance to beat Tegland.

The meanest horse flesh of Idaho will test the skill and courage of these six leading contestants.

SLUDER STOPPED BY CAMPBELL IN SECOND

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (AP) Frankie Campbell, San Francisco light-heavyweight, stopped Ted Sluder of San Pedro, in the second round of a ten-round bout, in the main event at National Hall here tonight.

Campbell scored a knockdown near the end of the first round with a left hook to the chin, and battered Sluder almost at will in the second round. Sluder was knocked down twice in the second session before the referee stopped the fight.

Miss Collett Europe Bound

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—More interested in a missing bag than in her chances of winning the British women's golf championship, Glenna Collett sailed today on the George Washington for England. She will play in the British women's event, starting May 14 at Hunstanton, Norfolk, Eng. Miss Collett, who has held the American title twice, refused to hazard a guess as to her chances for success abroad but it was taken for granted that her sudden decision to make the voyage, reached last Saturday, was an indication of her confidence in her game.

RIVERS LOSES BOUT TO CHICKIE HERMAN

RIVERSIDE, April 25.—Scoring a knockdown in the first round, Chickie Herman, San Bernardino featherweight, grabbed a hard-fought decision over Georgie Rivers of Los Angeles in the main even on March Field's fights here tonight. Rivers was back on his feet like a flash after the knockdown and carried the battle to the San Bernardinean in a style that evened the second round and gave him the third. Herman took the fourth, halved on the fifth, won the sixth, evened the seventh and wound up with a whirlwind finish that cinched his victory over the lithe little Los Angeles mitt man.

ROSY ROSALES WINS OVER WILSON YARBO

Rosy Rosales won by a technical knockout over Wilson Yarbo in the eighth round of a scheduled ten-rounder last night in the main event at the Wilmington Bowl. The referee stopped the bout after warning Yarbo several times to quit stalling. In the semi-wind-up Jimmy Landy defeated Elias Cantere. The special event was the best scrap of the evening, Teddy Lewvin taking a decision over Sammy Aguirre after six rounds of fast milling. Bud Baker knocked out Jimmy Powers in the second preliminary, while Salvador Rodrigues took a decision over Pete Sadura in the curtain raiser.

ED DILLON CARRIES OFF STANFORD FISTIC CROWN

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 25. (AP)—Ed Dillon of Los Angeles tonight won the heavyweight boxing championship of Stanford University, by taking a three-round decision over John O'Sullivan of Morgan Hill, Cal.

Results in the other divisions were:

Light-heavyweight—Norman Fyfe, Prytanean, AZA, won a three-round decision over Bill Hollingsworth, Los Angeles.

Middleweight—Lester Sands, Mem. Arts, won a three-round decision over Richard Hickson, Los Angeles.

Welterweight—Dan Frost, Santa Cruz, won a three-round decision over Al Doerr, South, Pasadena.

Lightweight—John Pascadka, Gavilella, Cal., won a four-round decision over Dick Deicester, Los Angeles, an extra session being needed to decide the bout.

Featherweight—Paul Maurer, El Centro, stopped Jack Jordan, Chez Aarner, Mont., in the second round of a three-round mate.

Bantamweight—George Thayer, San Mateo, stopped Charles Skewes, Long Beach, Cal., in the second round of a three-round match.

MILLER COPS BOXING TITLE

man, who has been fighting only a year, took the lead by sending in many right jabs to the Boston boy's middle.

The 118-pound title went to Johnny Daley of Waltham who outpointed Pete Mazio of Cleveland in an extra-round session.

Tommy Lown, New York, retained his 147-pound national title by outpointing Carmen Tuzzolino of Los Angeles. The Californian was a wild left swinger and each time he launched his favorite blow, Lown slipped inside of his guard and hooked him with rights and lefts to the jaw. Tuzzolino could take punishment and he returned ably until the bell rang. Lown jumped away out in front during the second when he dropped the Californian three times with rights and lefts to the jaw. The bell saved Tuzzolino from a knockout. He revived during the minute rest and was swinging wildly at the champion in the third. Lown continued his jabbing and the Californian took several heavy blows unflinchingly. Lown was set to send home his heaviest punch when the bell stopped the bout.

Another national title came to Massachusetts when Harry Devine, of Worcester decisively defeated Eddie Kaufman of Cleveland in the 126-pound class final.

Steve Boialko of Buffalo, won the national 135-pound title when he outpunched George Russo, a rugged Boston Boy, who was much stronger but less skillful.

Ensign Harry H. Henderson, of the Naval Academy, a clever, middle-weight with a good right hand, became the 160-pound national champion by easily defeating Al Stillman of St. Louis.

Leon Lucas of Philadelphia was the only one of the finalists to win a national-title by a knockout. He took possession of the 175-pound title by knocking out Dave Maier of Milwaukee with a right square on the chin a few seconds after the bell sent the boys into action.

112-pound class final—Hyman Miller, Los Angeles, defeated Gene Biano, Boston.
126-pound class final—Harry Devine, Worcester, defeated Eddie Kaufman, Cleveland.
135-pound class final—Steve Holaiko, Buffalo, defeated George Russo, Boston.
160-pound class final—Ensign H. Henderson, Naval Academy, defeated Al Stillman, St. Louis.
175-pound class final—Leon Lucas, Philadelphia, knocked out Dave Maier, Milwaukee, one round.
Heavyweight class semifinal—Royal Elliott, Alhambra, Cal., defeated Joe Stockman, Boston.
112-pound class semifinal—Hyman Miller, Los Angeles, defeated Earl Duquette, Pittsfield, Mass.
147-pound class semi-final—Carmen Tuzolino, Los Angeles, won by default from Curtis Brown, Milwaukee.
126-pound quarter finals—Eddie Kaufman, Cleveland, knocked out Chet Gleason, Los Angeles, three rounds.
147-pound class quarter finals—Carmen Tuzolino, Los Angeles, knocked out Herbert Smith, Denver University, three rounds.

HYMIE MILLER LOCAL NEWSBOY

Hymie Miller, winner of the 112-pound amateur boxing championship at Boston last night, is a Los Angeles newsboy. Miller hawked papers around the streets and learned his first boxing lessons in combats with other newsboys. He joined the Los Angeles Athletic Club team a year ago and under the tutelage of Clayton Frey, Mercury boxing instructor, jumped rapidly to the front in flyweight circles. Miller, following in the footsteps of Fidel La Barba fought his way to the Pacific Coast championship last month and last night like La Barba did four years ago, he copped the national title and a place on the Olympic team.

DAM OVERSIGHT URGED ON STATE

Governor Asked to Move for Supervision Laws

Director Meek Submits Code for Framing Measure

Los Angeles City and County Bid to Conference

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (AP)—Gov. Young today was urged by B. B. Meek, State Director of Public Works, to call a conference to consider the advisability of the State assuming responsibility for supervising construction of all dams in California.

In making this recommendation at the Governor's council, Meek declared the failure of the St. Francis Dam in Los Angeles county had centered public interest on the proposal for State control of dams.

Subjects suggested by Meek for consideration by the conference, which Gov. Young indicated he will call in the near future, follow:

TO BE CONSIDERED

The extent of the jurisdiction to be exercised by the State over dams.

Where such jurisdiction should be vested.

How the cost would be met.

Formulation of the text of the statute that should govern in the matter, together with detailed rules and regulations that such a conference might recommend for adoption.

The personnel of the conference Meek declared, should include representatives of the United States Forest and Reclamation bureaus, Federal Power Commission, California Debris Commission, State Railroad Commission, State Engineer, California Irrigation District Association, hydroelectric power companies, city and county of Los Angeles, city and county of San Francisco, Reclamation Board, League of Municipalities and East Bay Municipal Utilities District.

"The present law," Meek said, "vests only limited jurisdiction over dams in the State Engineer and is inadequate both in scope of power and procedure.

NEW PROCEDURE SOUGHT

"A study has been under way for some months designed to set up an entirely new procedure to govern the supervision of dams. Since the St. Francis dam disaster, this investigation has been broadened to include the whole subject of the supervision of dams of this State.

"Investigations now actively under way include a study of the following phases of the subject:

"(1.) A legal investigation covering constitutional and statutory powers of the State to regulate the construction and operation of dams, including those already built as well as future structures.

"(2.) A study of the Public Utility Act and the law under which the State Engineer now operates, together with consideration of the enlargement of this field.

"(3.) Compilation of a list of all dams in the State, showing the extent to which supervision has been exercised over their construction and operation by State or Federal agencies, the list to include descriptive matter of the dam showing the type of structure, height, capacity, location, date of construction, purpose of erection, etc.

DATA TO BE GATHERED

"(4.) Information is being gathered of laws, rules and regulations of other States and countries governing the construction and operation of dams.

"(5.) A brief report on the failures of more important dams is being prepared.

"This study should show how State supervision of all dams can be brought about, if such supervision is deemed advisable, the legislation necessary to make it effective, and the State office in which control should be vested."

FEMALE GORILLA DECLARED COMPARABLE TO YOUNG GIRL

JACKSONVILLE (Fla.) April 25. (AP)—Page Darwin! A physician is authority for the statement that the inner organs of Miss Congo, a gorilla, could not be distinguished from those of a 12 or 14-year-old girl. The animal, said to have been the only female gorilla in captivity, appeared almost human in many respects, in the opinion of Dr. Ralph N. Green, Jacksonville.

Ilio colitis, a disease common among humans, caused Miss Congo's death yesterday in Sarasota. The gorilla was valued at $150,000 by the owner, John Ringling, Sarasota circus millionaire. She was captured in 1925 by Ben Burbridge of Jacksonville, explorer and big-game hunter, on the slopes of Mt. Kivu, Belgian Congo.

Dr. Greene recalled that Dr. Robert M. Yerkes, member of the Yale faculty, gave Miss Congo intelligence tests in 1925. The animal was found to possess a brain equal to that of a 6 or 7-year-old child. The scientists said Miss Congo was about that age when examined.

Death Charges Follow Blast

DENVER, April 25. (AP)—Manslaughter charges were filed today by Dist.-Atty. Stone against five officials of the Alexander Aircraft Corporation, where an explosion last Friday resulted in the deaths of eleven persons.

Direct information filed in District Court named J. Don Alexander, president of the firm; Don M. Alexander, vice-president; Ray A. Duncan, secretary-treasurer; Clarence Hornaday, superintendent, and Ray Winton, foreman of the "dope" plant of the factory in which the explosion that set fire to the building occurred.

Enormous Property Value Involved in Deal

CHICAGO, April 25. (AP)—Union of the Presbyterian and Methodist Episcopal churches involving 17,000,000 communicants in 30,000 churches was predicted today by William F. McDermott of the promotional department of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

The proposal will come officially before the supreme bodies of both denominations next month. Dr. Ray Allen of Hornell, N. Y., will present a memorial for union with the Presbyterians to the quadriennial general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Kansas City, McDermott said, and an unnamed delegate to the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Tulsa, Okla., will offer a similar resolution.

SWEEPING PROPOSAL

No such sweeping union of churches in the United States has been proposed or promoted officially before, but there has been such a tremendous growth in the spirit of unity that McDermott believes the move will be given serious attention. Commissions on church unions probably will be appointed by both groups for study and later report, he said.

There are 7,000,000 church members with an added 10,000,000, including Sunday-school pupils and other adherents, who will be affected if the union takes place.

SOUTHERN BRANCHES

Should the southern branches of both denominations also subscribe to the plan it would affect almost 24,000,000 persons.

The proposal would cause readjustment of hundreds of millions in property values. The Methodists have 25,000 churches, thousands of parsonages, hundreds of colleges, hospitals and institutions with a total value of about $500,000,000. The Presbyterian denomination has 10,000 churches and property valued at $300,000,000.

ARIZONA TO SIFT GASOLINE PRICE

Governor Orders Inquiry by Law Chief

Attitude Toward Consuming Public Attacked

Lateral Shifting of Figures Cited in Letter

PHOENIX, April 25. (AP)—Gov. Hunt figuratively stuck a match into Arizona's gasoline can today when he instructed the Attorney-General to investigate wholesale gasoline distribution for possible price-fixing and monopolistic tactics.

Following inquiries by his office into existing gasoline prices, the Governor today wrote to Atty.-Gen. John W. Murphy, as follows:

"As a result of these investigations I have come to the conclusion that Arizona consumers are discriminated against to the extent of between 3 and 4 cents a gallon for gasoline, and the very simultaneousness and unanimity with which the large distributors raise and lower prices indicates beyond any reasonable doubt that there is previous agreement and understanding among them to do so.

Prior to February a uniform price of 27 cents per gallon prevailed many months, but there has been a wide variation since independent concerns started operating in Phoenix. The general price level now is 30 cents per gallon with some stations selling down to 18 and 17 cents.

STEWART FACES MORE TROUBLE

Further Difficulties Impend in Teapot Dome Recital

Steps Taken to Determine on Perjury Action

Dismissal of Warrant Also to be Recommended

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, may find himself in more difficulties as a result of his testimony to the District Attorney Dome committee during his three appearances in February and April.

Members of the committee at informal conferences today practically agreed to ask the Senate tomorrow to certify certain portions of his testimony to the District Attorney of the District of Columbia for study to determine whether charges of perjury should be made.

At the same time the committee will recommend that the warrant on which Stewart was arrested on February 3, last, after his refusal to answer two questions propounded by the committee, be dismissed in view of the fact that he made answer to those questions upon his third appearance yesterday.

Favorable action by the Senate on both proposals is predicted by members of the committee, although early in the day Chairman Nye and some others expressed disapproval of that course, holding that to really purge himself the Standard Oil official should surrender to the sergeant-at-arms and appear at the bar of the Senate, there to make his answers.

WALSH GIVES VIEWS

Senator Walsh of Montana, the Democratic prosecutor, took a different view, holding that Stewart could and did purge himself before the committee and that consequently the warrant should be dismissed. He prepared a report for the Senate embodying that recommendation and also calling attention to what he regards as discrepancies between the testimony the oil operator gave on February 2 and 3, last, and that he gave on yesterday.

Upon his first appearances before the committee, Stewart told the Senators that he had no knowledge as to the Continental Trading Company's disposition of any Liberty Bond profits and also that he had no knowledge as to who received such bonds.

Confronted with this testimony yesterday, the Chicago oil operator reiterated that he did not have knowledge of the Continental's disposition of the bonds, explaining that he could not know the source of the bonds, which were delivered to him by H. S. Osler, president of the Continental, and which he put into trust for future disposition, made last Saturday by the board of directors of the Indiana Standard.

As to his denial of knowledge as to who received the bonds, he insisted that when he made that declaration he did so in the full belief that the question referred to the bonds Harry F. Sinclair turned over to Albert B. Fall after the Teapot Dome lease as Senator Walsh had been questioning him about those bonds only a short time before.

RESULT OF DISMISSAL

Dismissal of the warrant of arrest which was served on Stewart on February 3, last, after his second refusal to answer questions because he then was summoned as a witness in Sinclair's trial here will result in the quashing of the habeas corpus proceedings which Stewart instituted in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

Both Chairman Nye and Senator Walsh expressed the opinion that the inquiry into Continental Trading Company profits might be ended after next Tuesday, depending upon the scope of the testimony which Sinclair can give at that time.

The committee has to locate now only about $250,000 of the profits, which it assumed went to Sinclair, but it will make some further inquiries as to the use of the Continental bonds as contributions to political parties or individual candidates.

SALT CREEK RESOLUTION SLATED FOR AMENDMENT

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—After a favorable report was received in the Senate today from the audit committee on the resolution of Senator Norris of Nebraska, Republican, for investigation of the Salt Creek oil-field leases of Wyoming, Chairman Nye of the lands committee asked that the action be rescinded and the resolution was referred to his committee for amendment.

Senator Nye explained he wished to have the resolution amended to provide that the committee might investigate all public land oil leases in order to permit it to go into other fields, if found necessary, in its inquiry into the Salt Creek leases.

He said he has no intention of going into other leases, but does not want the committee restricted. At this request the audit committee rescinded its action.

There was some doubt in the minds of lands committee members also of the advisability of a limitation of $20,000 on its expenditures in Salt Creek as proposed by the audit committee.

Wealthy Texas Couple Divorced

FORT WORTH (Tex.) April 28. (AP)—A marriage in 1922 which united two of the wealthiest families in the Southwest, representing property and money of more than $20,000,000, was dissolved in District Court today when Ann Valiant Waggoner, daughter of Tom L. Burnett, millionaire rancher was granted a divorce from Guy L. Waggoner, son of W. T. Waggoner multimillionaire rancher and oil magnate.

Mrs. Waggoner charged her husband with cruel treatment, drunkenness and infidelity.

DEMOCRATS FRAME DEEP TAX SLASH

Senate Republicans Sure of Carrying Plan for $210,000,000 Cut

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Senate Democrats framed a $325,000,000 tax-reduction program today to place before the Senate Finance Committee tomorrow when it decides on the rate schedules of the $290,000,000 bill passed by the House.

Holding a majority of 11 to 9, however, Republicans were confident of voting through their plan for a cut of only $210,000,000, which more closely approximates the total requested by the administration.

The Democratic program, which was worked out at a meeting of Democratic members of the Finance Committee under the leadership of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, calls for a reduction in the corporation tax from 13 1-2 per cent to 11 1-2 per cent; repeal of the automobile tax; repeal of all admission levies except on prize-fight tickets; revision of the intermediate surtax rates, and retention of the House provision for a graduated scale of rates on corporations with incomes under $15,000.

The main point of difference between the Republican and Democratic plans lies in the corporation tax, which the Republicans would cut by only 1 per cent instead of two. This accounts for $82,000,000 of the difference between the two proposals.

There were indications that Democrats would be left to their own decision on the proposed repeal of the inheritance tax, on which both parties widely split, although the Republican plan calls for its repeal.

PUBLISHERS ASK CUT IN MAIL RATE

Association Charges Papers Have Been Paying War Tax in Postal Costs

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—Passage by Congress of a bill to reduce newspaper mailing rates was urged in a resolution adopted today by the forty-second annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

The resolution, which declared publishers "have been forced to pay war taxes in the guise of increased postal rates" since the enactment of the 1917 War Revenue Act, was the chief business of the day during which discussions took place on the relation of radio to the newspaper industry and newspaper delivery by airplane.

The resolution, introduced by Louis Wiley, business manager of the New York Times, said the mail rate reduction bill now before Congress would cut present rates, described as ranging from 50 to 200 per cent greater than pre-war costs, to rates ranging from 50 to 500 per cent greater than pre-war rates.

The association is ready to cooperate with the government in the event of passage of the bill, the resolution said, so that the government will not suffer any loss in postage rates.

Mill Profit in Slump Denied

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Testifying before the Senate committee investigating the 1927 cotton price slump, Walker D. Hines of New York, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, declared today there was nothing to the story that American cotton mills profited by the slump.

Instead, he said, the mills lost more heavily through the downward price trend than the cotton growers.

Hines was called in connection with charges that the institute had circulated "propaganda" as to mill shut-downs that sent raw material prices even farther down. He told the committee, however, that the fall in the price of cotton goods came after the fall in the price of cotton and was in full swing before there was any discussion of curtailing output.

Hague to Name Claims Umpire

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—The United States and Mexico, the State Department announces, have agreed to entrust to the permanent Court of Arbitration of The Hague the appointment of a neutral umpire for the Mexican-American General and Special Claims Commissions.

The action follows procedure outlined in the claims convention signed in 1923 by the United States and Mexico wherein it is ordered that in the event the two governments cannot agree on a third member the subject shall be submitted to The Hague.

MILLIONS OF TURKISH GOLD IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 28. (AP)—A shipment of Turkish golden pounds equivalent to $3,400,000 has been received by the Wall street agency of the National Bank of Greece at Athens for commercial purposes. The value of the Turkish gold pound is about $4.26.

POWER TRUST'S PAYMENTS TOLD

Former Western Governors Received Cash

Federal Trade Body Scans Utility Group

Ex-Senator Hired to Battle Walsh Inquiry

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Seeking motives behind the reorganization last June of the joint committee of national utilities associations, the Federal Trade Commission learned in its utility inquiry today of the further use of money to observe activities of interest to the power industry.

Payment of money to two former governors of Western States was disclosed along with the fact that the major matters of interest to the committee now center in legislation before Congress. This includes the Walsh resolution, under which the inquiry is progressing, the Boulder dam project, interstate regulation of power transmission, taxation and development of power along navigable streams.

EX-GOVERNORS PAID

The payment of $8299 to the law firm of Mechen & Vellacott, of Albuquerque, N. M., of which former Gov. Mechen is a member, was testified to by Ira L. Grimshaw of New York, assistant director of the committee. He also testified that former Gov. Scrugham of Nevada had been paid $600 for traveling expenses to come here to confer with Stephen B. Davis, of New York, director of the committee.

Grimshaw said he did not know what the conference was for. Mechen was a representative of New Mexico at the December meeting in Denver of the governors of the Upper Basin States and had signed a resolution adopted there stating that no Federal legislation on Boulder dam should be passed until the States affected agreed.

Former Gov. Scrugham was appointed by Secretary Work some time ago as a member of the impartial board of review on the Boulder dam project.

COUNSEL QUIZZED

Joseph T. Newcomb of New York and Washington, chief counsel for the joint committee, was questioned by Robert E. Healy, chief counsel for the commission, as to the motives of the reorganization of the committee. He said that the body was to officially represent the industry here but maintained that it was not organized primarily to fight government ownership of Boulder dam.

He said that the committee kept watch on legislation when questioned about the employment of former Senator Lenroot to oppose the Walsh inquiry resolution before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee. He denied knowledge of any other service rendered the committee by Mr. Lenroot for the $30,000 he was paid.

NEW MEXICAN DENIES STORY OF LARGE FEE

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) April 28. (AP)—Former Gov. M. C. Mechem, in commenting on the Federal trade hearing testimony in Washington today, said Francis C. Wilson was New Mexico's representative at the Colorado River conferences and that he had never received remuneration from the State of New Mexico. He had no comment to make about his name being signed to the Denver conference report.

SCRUGHAM TELLS OF DAVIS CONFERENCE

RENO (Nev.) April 28. (AP)—Former Gov. Scrugham of Nevada declared tonight that the conference himself and Stephen B. Davis referred to in testimony by Ira A. Grimshaw before the Federal Trade Commission took place after his report on the Boulder Canyon project was submitted to Secretary Work and after his employment with the Interior Department was terminated.

The conference related to technical details of the Boulder Canyon project, on which there were controversies and misunderstandings, the former Governor said.

The Scrugham report to the Secretary of the Interior favored government construction of both the Boulder Canyon project and the all-American canal.

San Diego Port Bill Rejected

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—An amendment to provide $940,000 for a marine flying-field, and dredging of the harbor of San Diego was rejected on a point of order in the Senate today in consideration of the navy supply bill.

Senator Johnson, Republican, California, urged the action, but it was rejected on the ground the Budget Bureau has not estimated for the work.

Right of Way for Farm Bill

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Farm relief formally was given the legislative right of way in the House today with the adoption of a resolution making the Haugen bill the order of business. Twelve hours was set aside for general debate, with a final vote expected in about six days.

SCANDAL PERILS FLOOD MEASURE

Rumblings of High Land Cost Invite Veto

Coolidge Sees Danger in Acquiring Rights

Reid Amendment Said to Leave Loophole

WASHINGTON, April 28. (Exclusive)—Rumblings of a huge land scandal were heard here today as Congressional leaders gave consideration to the possibility that President Coolidge might veto the flood control bill as passed yesterday. Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, its chairman, said the Senate Commerce Committee will consider the advisability of asking the Senate to concur in the House amendments to the Senate bill.

Concurrence by the Senate in the House amendments would put squarely up to President Coolidge the question of a veto. It is known that the President fears a scandal in the sale of flowage rights on floodway and spillway land to the government under the Reid amendment as approved by the House.

PAY FULL PRICE

Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, charged today that the use of the words "flowage rights" in the Reid amendments is a camouflage and that the effect will be to require the government to pay as much for the land as if it obtained complete title to it. He declared that the cost will be many times as great as if Congress had accepted the Tilson administration amendment giving property owners assurance of compensation through court action for such damages as they may be entitled to under the Constitution.

WHAT PLANS DEMAND

Three floodways and a spillway are involved in the controversy. Under the engineers' plans it is proposed to build a floodway from Cairo, Ill., to New Madrid, Mo., a floodway through the Tensas basin in Arkansas and Louisiana, a floodway through the Atchafalaya basin in Louisiana to the Gulf of Mexico and a spillway north of New Orleans at Bonnet Carre.

Ownership of land by large corporations is regarded by President Coolidge as making it unlikely that flowage rights can be purchased at a bargain by the government. Out of 2,434,870 acres in the Boeuf floodway project, 1,074,280 acres are held by corporations and 708,366 acres by large individual owners. There are 652,221 acres held by small owners, 4602 owners having an average of 148 acres each.

Out of 3,713,696 acres in the Atchafalya floodway, 1,757,360 acres are held by corporations, and 1,181,184 acres by large individual owners. There are 654,900 acres held by small owners, 6501 having an average of 131 acres each.

ARMY CONTRACTS LET

SACRAMENTO, April 28. (AP)—Award by the War Department in Washington of contracts for corrals, feed racks and tent floors at the new National Guard camp in San Luis Obispo, and also for seventeen field ranges for the maneuvers was announced here today by Adj.-Gen. Mittelstaedt.

VICTORY WITH HOOVER SEEN

Only Candidate to Defeat Smith in November

Commerce Secretary Held Better Qualified

Stephens and Rowell Speak to Fresno Hooverites

FRESNO, April 25. — Herbert Hoover, Californian and Secretary of Commerce in President Coolidge's Cabinet, is the only Republican who can beat Gov. Smith of New York in the Presidential campaign next November, 200 members of the Fresno County Hoover-for-President Club were told at a dinner at the Hotel Fresno here today by former Gov. William D. Stephens and Chester H. Rowell, economist, publicist and former Fresno newspaper editor.

BOTH ABLE MEN

Both speakers emphasized the choice offered the nation between Hoover and Smith, both of whom were characterized by the speakers as remarkable men. Both speakers voiced an urgent message to Fresno county Republicans that the need of the hour is the rolling up of a huge vote for Hoover at next Tuesday's primary election, although there is no opposition to his ticket of delegates. Declaring that Smith, who is admittedly an expert on governmental affairs of New York State, is just as capable of becoming an expert in national affairs, Rowell said Hoover already has that training, plus being the most capable and expert man in all of the many fields in which the President must interest himself.

The choice between Hoover and Smith is not only one of choosing between a man of monumental intellect and a genius against a remarkable man, but one of choice between two types of Americans, one typified by us in our homes and business and the other typified by Tammany, Rowell said. Hoover was described by both speakers as the ablest executive and administrator and the best-informed man in the administration and in the country, best acquainted and best fitted by birth, environment and training to cope with both domestic and international problems.

HOOVER WELL POSTED

In support of such a declaration, Rowell told of having gone to Washington on innumerable occasions with information thought to be of value to the government, finding on reaching the national Capitol that Hoover already knew it and knew more about the subject than even the government experts, who were paid to know all about it.

"It is now practically certain that Hoover will be the Republican nominee. It is not quite so certain but becoming increasingly so that Smith will be the Democratic nominee," Rowell told the G.O.P. diners. "It is a matter of rare good fortune, when the American people have a chance to choose between two such remarkable men, but that does not mean there is no choice.

"For you may put Smith wherever you like in elevating his personal qualities and Hoover will be ever so much higher. It is just like picking Tennyson as poet laureate of England, when you also have the choice of Shakespeare."

SPECIALLY FITTED

Stephens declared the personal interest of California, which he detailed as including the continuation of the "prosperity tariff" on the State's products and Boulder Canyon dam, dictated and overwhelming public support by the State's voters of the Hoover candidacy.

Some of the chief problems of the coming administration, he said, would be engineering Mississippi flood relief and the construction of Boulder dam, and that Hoover, as an engineer, was most fitted and more needed to advance them and construct them as President.

ALL'S PICTURE TO KEEP WAVING

Portland W.C.T.U. Loses Demand Banner be Lowered To Protect Youth

PORTLAND (Or.) April 25. (AP)—The City Council today refused to accede to a request from the W.C.T.U. that a banner advertising Gov. Al Smith's candidacy—"Al for all—All for Al"—be taken down from a position it occupies across a downtown street.

Mrs. W. R. Corbett, speaking for the W.C.T.U., said that Gov. Smith is known generally as a "wet," and that she considers it improper to "flaunt such a sign before the public because of its influence upon the youth of today."

"I don't see how a Republican Council can act against a Democratic candidate," said Mayor George L. Baker.

OHIO POINTS TO HOOVER VICTORY

Primaries Indicate He'll Win on Early Ballot

Even G.O.P. Enemies Concede Secretary's Popularity

Total of 545 Delegates at Convention Granted

Ohio delegate or all precedents of the party will be smashed to smithereens. Senator Pess is in a dilemma. He was terribly defeated in Ohio primaries on the Willis ticket and it may affect his return to the Senate this fall if he is deprived of the great honor assigned him in the Kansas City gathering.

CONNECTICUT LOOKS GOOD

Charles J. Hilles of New York, who has been leader of the draft-Coolidge movement, is in real danger now of losing the weakening support left him in the New York delegation and he admits to his friends that Hoover cannot be stopped. From Florida there are indications that Hoover will procure the entire delegation and Connecticut probably will soon come over to the Hoover movement after Massachusetts has shown the way.

Senator Moses, after hearing the returns of the Hoover advance, said:

"Secretary Hoover is now free to begin work upon his speech of acceptance. His sweeping victory in Ohio and Massachusetts, together with known supporters whom he has in the Pennsylvania delegation, makes his nomination an early certainty in the Kansas City convention and probably on the first ballot. Republicans now can make plans for carrying the country in November."

Senator Edge, Republican of New Jersey, made the following comment:

"The result in Ohio practically settles the contest. Secretary Hoover can spend the time intervening before the convention to prepare for the election campaign. And that won't be difficult, either."

HOOVER'S OHIO VOTE OVERWHELMING

COLUMBUS (O.) April 25. (AP)—Herbert Hoover came out of his first primary fight with thirty-one of Ohio's delegates to the Kansas City convention. He also rolled up an overwhelming lead yesterday in the preferential vote.

In the Democratic primary, which was rather tame because contests were lacking, Gov. Smith of New York romped away with honors in the preferential count. The State's delegation of forty-eight, however, with the exception of one anti-organization member committed to Smith, will line up for former Senator Atlee Pomerene on the first ballot at Houston. Belated primary returns, nearly complete tonight, showed that the Commerce Secretary had captured all seven Republican delegates at large and twenty-four others from twelve populous districts in the State. The best the Willis slate could do was to win twenty convention seats by carrying ten districts.

Where the strength of the anti-Hoover delegates will be thrown at Kansas City remains to be seen. Originally pledged to Senator Willis, who died while campaigning for the Presidential nomination, they now are virtually uninstructed.

As for results yesterday, 3087 precincts out of 8559 in the State on the preferential ballot gave Hoover 210,084, Willis, whose name was listed despite his recent death, 78,386, and Olin J. Ross, a Columbus lawyer, 7803.

The name of Dawes was written in by 2821 Republicans and Lowden's by 2304.

The Democratic preferential count, all names having been written in, gave Smith, in 6502 precincts, 32,694; Pomerene 9588, Gov. Donahey, 5271; Reed, 432; Walsh of Montana, 151, and McAdoo, 37.

HOOVER AND SMITH VOTES STILL PILING UP

BOSTON, April 25. (AP)—Secretary Hoover and Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York continued to pile up their lead over all other Presidential candidates in the preference vote cast in Massachusetts yesterday as additional returns of the State Presidential primary were compiled tonight.

With the city of Boston complete and only fifty-three of the 1603 precincts in the State outstanding, Hoover had a lead of more than ten to one over other candidates voted for by the Republicans, Smith's margin was even wider. The figures were:

Republican—Hoover, 96,646; Coolidge, 7017; Fuller, 1598.

Democratic—Smith, 93,974; Senator Walsh of Montana, 254; Reed, 56.

Changes in the official tabulation were expected in many places because of the variety of ways in which names were written on the ballots. In one precinct in Boston upward of sixty different names were listed.

Both Hoover and Smith supporters claim almost solid State delegations for their candidates, with the result of the preference vote as support for their contention in the case of unpledged or doubtful delegates.

The official States of delegate-at-large candidates, seven Republicans and eight Democrats, were elected by safe margins over the single independents on each ticket.

FIVE NEVADA DELEGATES FOR HOOVER

RENO (Nev.) April 25. (AP)—While no instructions for any particular candidate were adopted at the Republican convention of Nevada in Reno yesterday, today five of the nine delegates selected have pronounced their preference for Herbert C. Hoover.

HOOVER TO GET MICHIGAN SUPPORT

DETROIT, April 25. (AP)—Michigan's seven delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention at Kansas City will carry instructions to vote for the nomination of Hoover for President. The instructions decided upon by the Republican State convention here will bind delegates to "vote for Hoover as long as he is a candidate."

Twenty-six delegates elected by Michigan's thirteen Congressional districts, also have either instructions or recommendations to vote for Hoover.

Gov. F. W. Green will be chairman of the delegation.

HOOVER SPLITS VOTES AT ALASKAN POLLS

JUNEAU (Alaska) April 25. (AP)—Partial returns of yesterday's primary show the apparent election as delegate to the Republican National Convention of an unpledged candidate opposed to Hoover and a tie vote between a Hoover supporter and an unpledged anti-Hoover man for the second delegate-at-large.

With two delegates to be elected, James Wickersham, opposed to Hoover and the administration, had 1459 votes. Returns from twenty-one precincts in the First District gave William Caswell favorable to Hoover and W. R. Chase, unpledged but opposed to Hoover, 944 votes each. Cus Celles, Hoover supporter, had 846.

A. E. Lathrop, a Hoover supporter, was leading for National Committeeman with 1045. He was followed by George Albrecht with 699 and Frank Aldrich with 565.

Running for renomination as delegate to Congress, Dan Sutherland had 1546 and his opponent, Bartley Howard, 1000.

ANOTHER FOND IDOL CRASHES

Teacher Asserts Marc Never Said "Friends, Romans, Countrymen"

BERKELEY, April 25. (Exclusive)—Comes now Prof. Monroe Dewsch of the University of California with another jolt to popular conceptions of things historic. He deposeth and says that Marc Anthony never looked upon the throng and said:

"Friends, Romans, countrymen," etc.

What really aroused the Roman populace to fury was the sight of Caesar's wounds, the reading of his will which disposed of most of his private estate to the people and the reminder of an oath in which Caesar's death was promised vengeance.

BAY CITY RALLY SET FOR TODAY

Republicans Will Assemble to Eulogize Hoover

State Delegates Slated for Share of Honors

Southland Party Members to Lend Their Aid

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—Upwards of 1000 Republicans from every part of the State will gather in the Palace Hotel here tomorrow to eulogize the Presidential candidacy of Herbert Hoover by recording honor to the twenty-nine Republican delegates who will be sent from this state to the national convention at Kansas City in June.

Technically, these delegates remain candidates until after they are duly elected at next Tuesday's primary, but it is regarded unnecessary to quibble about the niceties of distinction in this instance. Being unopposed on the G.O.P. ticket, there is no uncertainty as to their election.

CAUSES FOR REJOICING

This fact, emblematic of the one-way track on which California's Presidential special is to steam away for Washington via the torridity of Kansas City, will be one of the outstanding causes for rejoicing, as party leaders take to the rostrum for a last big preprimary rally. Another, of equal importance is expected to be found in attestations of loyalty to party principles, unalloyed by gobs of political mud here and there.

The meeting is similar in purpose to that held recently at Los Angeles. As Southern Californians rallied on that occasion, so will Northern Californians gather tomorrow. As Northern California aided in the Los Angeles meeting, so will Southern California assist in making the San Francisco gathering a success.

Reservations have been made for Gov. Young, Lieut.-Gov. Fitts, former Governors Gillett, Stephens and Richardson, and a host of other party leaders throughout the State.

SOUTHERN DELEGATION

Heading the delegation from the South will be Charles C. Teague, chairman of the Southern California campaign; John R. Quinn, former State and national commander of the American Legion; Walter K. Tuller, George B. Bush, Mendel Silberberg, William May Garland, Louis B. Mayer and Joseph Scott. Charles L. Neumiller will head a delegation from the San Joaquin Valley.

On the speaking program are Prof. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University; Mr. Neumiller; Mrs. D. F. Easton, John R. Quinn, Joseph Scott, Francis B. Loomis, C. C. Teague, Chief Justice Waste of the State Supreme Court; Gov. Young and Frank A. Edwards, Mayor-elect of Seattle. The only formal address, however, will be given by Prof. Wilbur. Marshal Hale, chairman of the Northern California Hoover campaign, will preside.

THE MAY C

A Sincere and Grateful Appreciation

WITH a heart full of gratitude to friends of many years' standing and to new friends that we have made, will stay with us always—I thank you.

May Day will be long remembered.—It made mercantile history in this city. Every member of this organization was put to work in your interest.—You responded in a whole-hearted manner that crowned our efforts with success.—It was an outpouring of mutual helpfulness and appreciation.

Warmly, sincerely, I thank you.

Waterman's Number Seven

The Color Band Inlay on the cap identifies the character of the pen point

.....the pen to try before you buy a fountain pen—

Permanent fountain pen satisfaction requires careful selection. Write-ability is the first consideration. Choose the pen point which suits you best. Waterman's Number Seven offers a choice of six different styles—free to interchange—so you can examine the other essential features of this patented spoon-feed which insures a perfect flow of ink, a self-filling device, a safety-lock, a clip-cap, and [illegible] capacity. The holder, the supporting member, is of all-quality gold-filled, light, well-balanced [illegible]

This is Waterman's new method for determining the pen point you like.

Red—STANDARD—Suits most writers. A splendid correspondence point. Medium flexibility. For home and general use.

Green—RIGID—Tempered to armor-plate hardness. Will not shade even under heavy pressure. Unequaled for manifolding. The salesman's friend.

Purple—STIFF, FINE—Writes without pressure. Makes a thin, clear line and small figures with unerring accuracy. Popular with accountants.

Pink—FLEXIBLE, FINE—As excellent as a watch-spring. Fine, tapered points ground fine to shade at any angle. Loved by accomplished.

Blue—BLUNT—An improved semi-point. This point makes a broad line. May be held in any position. Liked by rapid writers.

Yellow—ROUNDED—A different pen point. The tip is ball shape. Makes a heavy, characteristic line without pressure. Suits left-handed writers.

In the Never-Never Land

Once upon a time Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Sutton were traveling to a certain city in the Pullman car, "Fort Snelling Heights." As neither Mr. nor Mrs. Sutton had ever visited this certain city, Mr. Sutton stepped out to the vestibule and returned with the Hotel Red Book. After scanning its pages for a short while he said, "The Hotel Mammoth advertises large double rooms with bath, circulating ice water, and servidor service (whatever that may be) for five dollars up." So upon reaching this certain city, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton registered at the Hotel Mammoth, where a very nice room clerk assigned them to a large double room with bath, circulating ice water, and servidor service, and enarged them exactly five dollars.

The Dramatists

A string of shiny days we had,
A spotless sky, a yellow sun,
And neither you nor I was sad
When that was through and done.

But when, one day, a boy comes by
And pleads me with your happiest vow,
"There was a lad I knew—" I'll sigh;
"I do not know him now."

And when another girl shall pass
And speak a little name I said,
Then you will say, "There was a lass—
I wonder is she dead?"

And each of us will sigh, and start
A-talking of a faded year,
And lay a hand above a heart,
And dry a pretty tear.

MILLIONS LACK BATH IN HOMES

National Survey Made by Women's Clubs

Elaborate Exhibit Planned for Convention

Farms Better Equipped Than Dwellings

WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—More than 20,000,000 American citizens are living in 4,000,000 dwelling houses in incorporated towns and cities with no bathroom facilities. This has been revealed by a nation-wide survey completed by the department of the American home of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, under the direction of Mrs. Margie W. Barry, department chairman.

In view of the facts gathered in the survey, an elaborate exhibit is being made by the department for the biennial convention in San Antonio, May 23.

EVOLUTION OF HOME

The exhibit will include a display showing the evolution of cooking, lighting and shelter from primitive prehistoric days to the present day of modern mechanical conveniences.

A model American home also is to be erected.

Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the federation, established the American home department at the beginning of her administration three years ago. In the surveys data has been obtained about 3,000,000 of these homes. The purpose is to find what arrangements had been made, through labor-saving devices for the comfort of the housewife and her family.

FARMS BETTER BUILT

In many instances, according to Mrs. Sherman, barns were found better equipped than the farm homes. Running water and electric lights were found in buildings housing live stock while the homes sheltering the family was not equipped.

The federation is supporting a bill in Congress for a census of rural equipment as well as of machinery in rural communities.

The model home on exhibit here is to be equipped with a minimum of labor-saving devices, but with enough, the sponsors say, to give housewife freedom from drudgery and make her work efficient.

BELGIAN CROESUS ARRIVES

Loewenstein and Party Traveling in Splendor Will Visit California

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Alfred Loewenstein, Belgium's wealthiest man, arrived on the liner Ile De France today for his first visit to the United States, traveling in the style of a monarch.

His party of sixteen, including Mrs. Loewenstein, five friends and a staff of servants, occupied eight suites on the liner, and cost of passage amounted to $30,000. The party included four secretaries, two stenographers, a private detective, a chauffeur, a flying captain, a masseur and a valet.

Mr. Loewenstein said he is traveling primarily for pleasure, but also is interested in the artificial silk and hydroelectric industries. The party plans to visit Chicago, California and Canada during the next three weeks, sailing from New York May 19.

Traveling with Mr. Loewenstein are the Comte and Comtesse De Grunnes, who are Belgians; Comte and Comtesse De Montalenbert and Col. Daufresne, who are French.

REFORM SCHOOL NEEDS DETAILED

Close Lays Delinquency to Untrained Teachers

Preston Head Urges Course on Problem Child

Special Place for Deficient Prisoners Suggested

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (AP)—Lack of public - school teachers trained to deal with problem children today was held responsible by O. H. Close, superintendent of the Preston School of Industry, for much of California's delinquency, now being investigated by a legislative commission. The lack of properly trained supervisors, instructors and attendants at the State's correctional schools likewise was held by Mr. Close to be retarding reformation of those boys sent to the schools for correction.

Close was questioned at the capital today by the legislative commission meeting jointly with the Crime Commission.

Sixty-five per cent of the boys sent to Preston, Close said, failed to abide by probation granted by the courts before they were sent there, and 35 per cent have been in other correctional schools or institutions before being committed. However, he held 75 per cent of those who enter the school capable of rehabilitation.

TRAINING LACKING

Teacher-training institutions of the State, members of the commission brought out, do not now provide courses having to do with problem children, and an effort will be made to have such instruction included in the course of study. However, it was pointed out public schools now are awakening to the need for problem children study and individually have taken steps through opportunity schools to cope with this situation.

A higher salary scale for State employees at the schools, which would permit employment of better trained supervisors and instructors, was held by Close as the solution for the State's problem. Close said the salary scale is now too low and that, while they have some well trained employees, in the main those who would be efficient in the positions do not apply.

Two other points stressed by Mr. Close in dealing with delinquents were the need for an institution for the deficient delinquents, and a reformatory for the older boys and the younger men who will not lend themselves to school reformation, but at the same time should not be housed in the same institution with more hardened criminals. Until such time as some special institution can be provided Close recommended an annex either at Sonoma or Pacific Colony for the deficients.

The reformatory was recommended for men from 21 to 27 years of age under commitment for crimes excepting murder, and for boys between 18 and 21 if the court decided to send them there in preference to Preston. Its gates also would be open to boys in Preston who became incorrigible.

SUGGESTS NEW PRISON

The reformatory movement also had been aired before Gov. Young's cabinet meeting today and as a result the Governor named Earl E. Jensen, Director of Institutions, chairman of an informal committee to determine what new institution for guarding State charges is needed. The committee will include the chairman of the Juvenile, Crime and Women's Prison commissions, the chairman of the Board of Prison Directors and the head of the legislative committee working on this problem.

Gov. Young in commenting on the crowded prison condition said the penal institutions were getting worse, rather than better, and suggested as alternative programs another penitentiary like Folsom, probably in Southern California, San Quentin to be made an intermediate institution, or a new reformatory, leaving the other prisons as they are.

Cape Horn Flyer Sick in Hospital

NOGALES (Ariz.) April 25. (AP)—Jimmy Angel, aviator, who landed at the Empalme aviation field, on the outskirts of Guaymas, Son., Mex., en route to Cape Horn, now is in the Railroad Hospital there, according to a dispatch received today. Angel is reported to be suffering from the same illnes which delayed his take-off from Mexicali Saturday.

Angel was suffering from a severe cold when he left Fresno, Cal., the 17th inst., but insisted on taking off on the flight which is planned to carry him and his three companions 25,000 miles.

Trans-Atlantic Fare on British Dirigible Next Summer to Be $5000

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP) Accommodations aboard the British dirigible R-100 on its maiden voyage across the Atlantic next summer will cost passengers at least $5000 a head, Commander C. Dennis Burney, managing director of the Airship Guarantee Company, said tonight.

Speaking at a dinner of Worcester Polytechnic Institute alumni, he said his company, which plans to operate the R-100 on a regular trans-Atlantic passenger service, hopes eventually to reduce the tariff to $1000 or $500 per passenger.

STATE AFFAIRS PROVE CHEERING

Governor's Council Told of Savings and Progress

Contagious Diseases Decline; Employment Better

But Problems and Troubles Also Get Attention

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (AP)—Day nurseries, shirts for convicts, high-school credits, tubercular cattle, unemployment and economy shared alike at the hands of Gov. Young and his council today.

At the conference many pleasing things were made known. Dr. Walter M. Dickie of the Public Health Department found communicable diseases on the decrease. A. B. Heron, director of finance, reported five institutions audited last month without a single instance of missing funds. He also reported large savings by the State printing office, such as $18,048.30 on 85,500 volumes of readers and geographies.

George H. Hecke, director of agriculture, has discovered an increase in butter fat production and in market milk consumption as well. Will J. French, industrial relations official, found employment improving. And William J. Cooper, education department, said the junior colleges of California have today as many students as the university had fifteen years ago.

HOUSING INADEQUATE

But problems and troubles were not lacking. Mrs. Anna L. Saylor of the Department of Social Welfare called attention to the lack of adequate housing and day nursery facilities in California cities and rural districts for small-salaried parents who are both employed. She said the conditions that obtain are a source of juvenile delinquency. Mrs. Saylor also asked legislation prohibiting retention of children, the insane, the epileptic and the feeble-minded in county jails. Furthermore, she wants the children's boarding-home law altered so that only licensed boarding-houses may be used.

Director Hecke's report on eradication of tubercular cattle from accredited areas stirred up a debate on the advisability of destroying cattle which react positively to the tuberculin test. Mr. Hecke admitted the State does not go far enough in tuberculosis eradication. He thinks something should be done about hogs and poultry as well as cows. Dr. Dickie said all reactors should be destroyed, not removed. Mr. Heron pointed out that this would imply either extension of police powers or compensation to owners of the confiscated animals.

Gov. Young thereupon suggested consideration of a plan whereby, on a date several years' distant, destruction should begin, cattlemen having ample time to work out their problem and compensation being arranged for, the Federal government, State, county and owner sharing equally in the loss.

Director Heron brought up the subject of convict overalls and shirts. He told the council that savings to convicts and the State could be effected if equipment for the manufacturing of this clothing were installed in the women's prison at San Quentin.

Director Cooper found fault with the relation between the State university and high schools. He branded as obsolete the high-school accrediting system. Only one-third of the students go to universities now, he said. High schools have special community needs to meet. College officials still are thinking of them as they were years ago.

Director French told the Governor it is necessary to enlist employers, employees, insurance companies and allied groups in a special drive to reduce the accident toll.

LIVERMORE COUPLE DONATE TO COLLEGE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (AP)—A single contribution of $25,000 to an endowment fund sought by the College of the Pacific at Stockton was announced today by Roy W. Kelly, campaign chairman. The donation, given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Livermore, brought the total to date up to $410,000.

'BURNING ISSUES' QUENCHED

League of Women Voters Pour Soothing Syrup for Birth-Control and Prohibition Orphans

CHICAGO, April 25. (Exclusive)—Birth control and prohibition, the children who bob up at each convention of the National League of Women Voters, are to be spanked and put to bed again without any supper if indications of today's convention sessions at the Palmer House are significant. Which means that these two subjects, which have been brought up repeatedly as subjects for study, again seem to have been relegated to the side lines until the next biennial, or until such time as the league will have more "authentic and convincing knowledge."

At a regional luncheon and conference attended by delegates from Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Ohio, Kentucky and Michigan, Dr. Rachelle Yarros, social hygiene chairman for Illinois, deplored the fact that the national board had referred the birth-control question to the child-welfare committee, which, in turn, had "passed the buck" to the board, with the idea that it be handed back to the social hygiene committee, thus causing it to fall between and lose out entirely.

IMPUTATION DENIED

This brought a written denial from Miss Belle Sherwin, national president, who was attending another conference. She said that so far as committees were concerned, the question of a birth-control resolution was closed for this convention, unless it is brought up on the floor tomorrow morning. It is thought this will make a pretty scene since Dr. Yarros was loudly applauded when she urged the delegates to do "the bravest thing."

Uncertainty of the league's previous dry attitude was seen in the sentiments following Mrs. Roscoe Anderson's report of the special committee which has made a study of favorable and unfavorable prohibition literature.

The Eighteenth Amendment will not be placed on the league's study program for another two years, because writers both for and against have failed to give sufficient data to make serious study possible. The committee held that it wants to await more evidence before actually going on record as supporting the dry law.

Mrs. Anderson's report showed that while fifty books had been read by unbiased readers selected from various sections of the country, only sixteen had been weeded out as conducive to clear thinking. The committee's recommendation that the prohibition question be left off the study program was based largely on the expense, one-eighth of the total budget, which would be attached to such procedure. Final action on the question will come up tomorrow when the drys, who have been for "brave deeds and no equivocation," will debate with the wets, who urge "matured judgment."

HAIL TO VICTORS

Enthused by victory in the fight to retain city managership in Cleveland, where members of the Nation League of Women Voters were most active in getting out the vote and acting as challengers at the polls, the league planned a demonstration for the women who will arrive from Cleveland tomorrow morning. Mrs. Malcolm McBride, a cousin of Ruth Hanna McCormick, was the committee chairman who kept politicians from smashing the present system.

"The best the men could do in this campaign," said Walter J. Millard of Cincinnati, representative of the Proportional Representation League, "was to put on a whispering campaign. The women did it all, with the possible sop of 1 per cent of the men. It proves that organization of educated women will be the salvation of democracy."

CIVIL CODE FOR MEXICO POSTPONED

New Government Law on Capital Property Held for Reconsideration

MEXICO CITY, April 25. (Exclusive)—Failure of the government today to promulgate the new Federal civil code, which is far reaching in its effect upon city property owners here, has given rise to a theory that Ambassador Morrow and other foreign diplomats have interceded with a request that the law be reconsidered for another month, because of its effect upon American and other foreign property holders. This contention is strengthened by the fact that the Foreign Office, along with other secretariats, requested postponement of the promulgation of the law, it being believed that it is in conflict with various existing treaties between Mexico and other countries.

There has been widespread objection to the law by city property owners who see in it tendencies even more radical than in the land law and of a confiscatory trend affecting their titles and impairing the ejection of tenants.

Secretary of Interior Adalberto Tejeda in announcing the thirty-day delay in promulgation says this was done to allow further objections to be heard. The law now is scheduled to be officially dopted August 31 unless some change takes place in the interim. The Mexican Bar Association has been one of the chief objectors to the measure.

CUT IN TERM BEGGED BUT MORE ADDED

Woman Who Asked to Have Seven Years Reduced to Two Must Serve Ten

SAN FRANCISCO, April 25. (Exclusive)—Because Mrs. Vivian Walker tried to make a legal getaway from San Quentin prison she added three years to her seven-year term instead of having it cut to two years.

Mrs. Walker was convicted in San Diego of obtaining money under false pretenses. At her trial it was shown that she had been previously convicted for the same offense. The prison board recently fixed her term at seven years, five years on the first conviction and two years for the second. Mrs. Walker brought a habeas corpus action to have the five-year term voided and obtain immediate release, as she already has served two years.

But today the State District Court of Appeal found that the prison board exceeded its authority in fixing her term at seven years and that the law expressly provides a ten-year term for a second conviction for the same offense. This is one of the few cases where the indeterminate sentence law does not apply and the prison board has no jurisdiction, the District Court decided, and Mrs. Walker must serve ten years before she is eligible for parole.

Girl Held as Hit-Run Driver

VISALIA, April 25.—Helen Faria, 17-year-old Portuguese girl of Visalia, has been cited to appear in court on a charge of failure to stop and give her name and address following an accident as result of a collision with a machine driven by John Rodrigues of Cutler in this city. The accident occurred about a week ago but Miss Faria has only been arrested, being traced through numbers of her machine taken at the time of the collision. She is said to have been driving without a driver's license and will appear on May 9 before Justice of the Peace J. C. Clack of Visalia for preliminary arraignment.

HEART OF HERO LIES WITH WIFE

Relic of Admiral De Grasse Reburied in France

Ambassador Herrick Chief Speaker at Rites

Sea Officer Credited With Yorktown Victory

TILLY (Department of Seine-et-Oise, France,) April 25. (AP)—France and the United States paid honor to an almost forgotten hero of the American Revolution today when the heart of Admiral De Grasse was reinterred beside the body of his American wife in the little parish church here.

The ceremony honoring the Yorktown naval victor took place in the presence of Ambassador Herrick, representatives of the President of France, Marshal Foch and the Ministry of Marine and other high dignitaries.

Ambassador Herrick, in the principal address, hailed the French admiral as "an officer upon whose skill, courage and devotion depended the whole fate of our Revolutionary War," and quoted Washington's own letter to De Grasse in which he said of the surrender of Yorktown that "the honor belongs to you."

The stout old admiral's heart was buried originally, by his own request, in a small leaden coffin in the Tilly church, although his body was placed in a vault in the Church of St. Roch in Paris. Records were lost during the time of the French Revolution, and it was only a few years ago that the heart was found in a niche in the sacristy wall. At the same time the burial place of the admiral's third wife, Delphine de Cibeon of Louisiana, was discovered. A new vault was constructed just in front of the altar and here, under a marble tablet, the heart and the body of the wife will lie together.

MUSCOY FARMS

Oranges and All Other Fruits Show Greatest Yields Here

Rich, deep soil with abundant cheap water and a frost-protected district insure maximum crops and big profits from groves and orchards, vegetables, berries and bulbs.

An excellent income year in and year out can be derived from a poultry plant and a couple of acres planted to one or more crop varieties.

Muscoy homesites are on paved streets with pressure water for irrigation, gas and electricity, adjoining the city limits of San Bernardino, whose rapid growth will add each year to acreage values on this property.

NET INCOME OF RICHFIELD GAINS

Showing for Quarter Best in Company's History

Report Shows $1,390,517 Net Before Federal Tax

Profit Over 1927 Period Set at More Than 70 Per Cent

Reporting the most profitable first quarter in the history of the company, the Richfield Oil Company of California yesterday issued its statement for the three months ended March 31, last, showing net earnings after all charges except estimated Federal income taxes of $1,390,517.95. After allowing for preferred dividends this amount is equivalent to $1.06 on the outstanding common stock, or at the annual rate of $4.32 a share.

For the first quarter of 1927 the Richfield Company earned 63 cents a share. In the corresponding quarter of 1926 the earnings on the common were 62 cents a share.

Before providing for depletion, depreciation and other charges the earnings for the first quarter of this year were $2,578,443.80, according to the report made to stockholders by James A. Talbot, president. After charges for depletion, depreciation, abandonments, intangible drilling expense and interest, the earnings were 70 per cent in excess of the amount reported in the first quarter of 1927. Charges for intangible drilling expenses were much larger than ever before, the report states.

Total sales for the first quarter of 1928 amounted to $10,147,843.28, as compared with $8,943,076.89 for the same period of 1927. The company's sales of gasoline were 80,162,075 gallons, an increase of 68 per cent over the first quarter of 1927.

Production of crude oil and casinghead gasoline for the quarter amounted to 2,457,000 barrels, compared with 1,549,000 barrels for the first quarter of last year, an increase of 60 per cent. According to the report there were twenty-nine wells drilling, twenty-three of which were in the deep Richfield sand at Signal Hill. The company has 20,168 acres of producing, proven and potential oil properties, and estimated oil reserves of in excess of 150,000,000 barrels.

"The remaining three quarters of the year should show materially increased profits in all departments," Mr. Talbot states in the report. "All the wells now drilling should be completed within the next ninety days, and will greatly amplify our present production figures. Sales will not only benefit from the normal seasonal increase, but also from new channels of distribution in both the domestic and export fields."

The consolidated profit-and-loss account for the three months ended March 31, last, follows:

Net income from operation	$2,578,443.80
Deduct:
Provision for depletion, depreciation, intangible drilling expense, and abandonments	983,946.75
Net income before interest and Federal income tax	$1,624,497.04
Interest charges:
Interest on bonds and gold notes	$194,901.00
Other interest charges	37,078.09 232,979.09
Net income (before Federal income tax)	$1,390,517.95

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 25. (Exclusive)—The cotton market was stronger and higher from the opening today, due to another influx of southern and local trade buying on more private bad-crop reports from Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Arkansas as well as parts of Texas. The principal complaint is the effect of excessive rains and low temperatures in most of those sections the past month, having caused so much rotting of the seed in the late sown fields, and poor stands in earlier planted areas.

The market's response to unfavorable new crops conditions today was another rise of 25 to 30 points from yesterday's closing quotations before 3 o'clock, bringing prices up to new high levels since last November and about 370 points for the May option to 240 for July from the low levels reached February 2, for those old-crop months, and 310 to 325 points for October and December of the new crop.

This is equivalent to between $18.80 and $18.50 a bale, May selling this afternoon above 20 3-4 cents, July above 20½ cents, October around 20 1-4 cents and December 20 1-8 cents.

BROKERS LOSE ON HOLIDAYS

Single Day's Suspension Costs Los Angeles Houses About $100,000; New York Bill $800,000

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Few business enterprises close their doors to the public because the volume of business is too large to handle. The New York Stock Exchange suspended trading last Saturday for this reason, and almost without exception the minor stock exchanges in the country were glad to follow suit. The brokers in every large city in the United States welcomed the respite even though they know pretty accurately what it costs to suspend operation for even a half-day.

In New York it is estimated that the half-day suspension on Saturday cost the brokers about $800,000 in commissions, overhead, etc. In Los Angeles the exchange figures that its members lost about $75,000 by the half-holiday. And yet it is likely that additional Saturday holidays will be declared by the various stock exchanges until the clerical forces are abreast of the tide of business.

TO CLOSE TUESDAY

Los Angeles brokerage houses will gain a lap on the accumulation of clerical work when the exchange, in common with banks and other business houses, will close on May 1, election day. Brokerage-house employees will probably come to work as usual since most of the houses are still behind.

At the rate the business here has been running the election-day holiday will cost the Los Angeles Stock Exchange members about $100,000. In New York a single day suspension of business costs the members about $800,000, it is estimated.

Ordinarily the Stock Exchange members strongly oppose the actions of the governing bodies in closing the exchanges on holidays. But in these excited times of speculation the attitude is entirely different. Los Angeles brokerage houses, for illustration, are equipped with neither the personnel nor with the office machinery to keep pace with $4,000,000 days. It is virtually impossible to find competent office workers or to expand facilities to meet the situation

VOLUME MOUNTS

Yesterday the volume of trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange had a valuation of $4,387,543, only one of a succession of $4,000,000 days. The record day was touched on March 26, last, when the value was $4,560,575. These figures are not large in comparison with figures of trading on the New York Stock Exchange, but they represent tremendous volume of business for a minor stock exchange, the fourth largest in the country.

In the first eighteen working days of this month, the value of trading was $52,123,356, compared with $49,317,000 for the corresponding period of the previous month. For the year to date the value totals $223,682,003, which compares with a valuation for the twelve months of 1927 of $342,272,278.

The Associated Press has estimated the cost of a business holiday in this fashion:

To one holiday:
New York Stock Exchange ..... $ 800,000
Transportation companies 15,000
News stands 10,000
Restaurants 450,000

Security Suit on Docket Monday

Suit of the Security Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles against the United Security Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco to enjoin the latter bank from using the word Security in its name will come up again for hearing Monday, next, in the court of Superior Judge James L. Allen of Orange county. The court will determine at that time whether the temporary injunction already handed down enjoining the United Security from further branch expansion under its present name will be continued pending the trial.

Prominent bankers who have filed affidavits supporting the position of the Security Bank of Los Angeles include: John S. Drum, president of the American Trust Company of San Francisco; F. L. Lipman, president of the Wells Fargo and Union Trust Company of San Francisco; J. Dabney Day, president of the Citizens' National Trust and Savings Bank; E. J. Nolan, president, Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank; J. A. Graves, president of the Farmers and Merchants' National Bank, and A. M. Chaffey, president of the California Bank.

PROGRAM OF OIL CONCERN SANCTIONED

Italo-American Issued Permit to Sell Block of Preferred Stock

Reorganization and an increase in capitalization of the Italo-American Petroleum Corporation, designed to provide for general expansion and new property acquisitions, was approved yesterday by the California Corporation Commission. The reorganization embraces the formation of a new company to be known as the Italo-American Petroleum Corporation of America.

The permit authorizes the new company to issue 500,000 shares of 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 1,000,000 shares of common stock. Stockholders of the old company will receive one-half share of the new preferred and one share of common for each share of common now held. It is also expected that rights will be offered stockholders for the purchase of additional stock.

Purchase of 20,000 acres of oil property in New Mexico has just been announced by A. G. Wilkes, vice-president and general manager. He reports high activity in various parts of New Mexico with all leading oil companies participating and several hundred wells now drilling. The Italo holdings are scattered through fields in different parts of the State.

The company plans to make application to have both stocks under the new capitalization listed on the San Francisco Stock Exchange. It is understood that the company will be ready to deliver the new stock in the near future in exchange for certificates now held.

ACTION ON DIVIDEND POSTPONED

Earnings of Electrical Products for Quarter Show Increase

Consideration of inaugurating dividends on the common stock of the Electrical Products Corporation has been postponed until the early part of June, Paul D. Howse, president, announced yesterday following the quarterly meeting of the board of directors. It has been currently reported that the dividends would be inaugurated at the annual rate of approximately $5 a share.

Mr. Howse released earnings for the first quarter, following the meeting, showing net income after all charges, with the exception of Federal income taxes, of $57,250.97, or the equivalent after preferred dividends of 98 cents a share on the outstanding common stock. This is at the annual rate of $3.92 a share, and compares with actual earnings in 1927 of $1.07. Earnings for the full year of 1928 are estimated at an amount considerably higher than the indicated rate for the first quarter, according to Mr. Howse.

Net earnings for the first quarter were more than 50 per cent higher than the amount reported for the first quarter of 1927, he stated. The gross sales for the quarter were up about $15,000, increasing from $530,928 in the first quarter of 1927 to $546,427 for the first three months of 1928.

New developments of importance in Neon light are pending, Mr. Howse said, but the directors decided to withhold the announcement until a later date.

Sales Volume of Machinery House Mounts

Net sales of the Southwestern Engineering Corporation for the quarter ended March 31, last, established a new high record, according to a report issued yesterday by officials of the company. Sales aggregated $753,000, compared with $711,000 for the corresponding quarter last year.

Sales for March established a record for a single month's transactions, and totaled $260,460, compared with the previous high of $239,000 set in November, 1,926, representing an increase of $37,460.

Oil-refinery and absorption plants represent the bulk of the sales with a total of 65 per cent of the entire sales. Ore-treatment machinery and mills amount to 30 per cent of the total, and steam boilers were third with about 5 per cent.

Total sales for the year to date amount to $873,000, compared with $2,087,354 for the entire year of 1927. Officials of the company look forward to the most prosperous year in the history of the company. Important factors in the outlook are the activities in the petroleum and mining industries. The main plant of the company is operating at capacity, working three eight-hour shifts seven days a week.

Pacific Gas in Move to Raise Capital Stock

SACRAMENTO, April 25. (F)—Notification by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of a $240,000,000 increase in its capital stock, was filed today with the Secretary of State. The increase brought the stock total to $460,000,000.

The documents did not disclose whether the increase was in preparation for an extensive development program or preparatory to a stock dividend issue.

The company in filing the certificate paid a $34,005 fee under protest and announced its intention of bringing suit against the State to recover all but $5 of it. Originally the company offered $5 for recording the documents but this offer was refused by the Secretary of State. Exemption from all fee, save $5 is claimed under the constitutional provision that the gross receipts tax for public service companies shall be "in lieu" of all others.

Rio Grande Oil Income Forecast

Net earnings of the Rio Grande Oil Company for the quarter ended March 31, are estimated at slightly more than 41 per share and may run higher than those for the entire first half of 1927, Vice-President Charles S. Jones reported yesterday.

Bonded indebtedness totaling $129,500 has been retired since January 1, he reported.

The development program of the company for 1928 involves $1,250,000 which will be accomplished without the aid of new financing. An extensive program of development is planned in the Texas fields of the company during the year.

Safeway Chain Store Income Up

Estimated net earnings of the Safeway Stores, Inc., for the first quarter ended March 31, last, are placed at $600,000 as compared with $343,000 in the corresponding quarter last year, it was announced yesterday by officials of the company. These figures partly substantiate official predictions that 1928 would be the greatest year on record.

Sales for the quarter aggregated $22,899,377.15 against $15,712,204.78 for the first quarter of 1927, a gain of 44 per cent. March sales increased 50 per cent to $8,620,630.80 over March, 1927, sales of $5,740,013.29.

TRADE STRAWS FAVORABLE

Reports of General Motors and Steel Corporation Held Good Omens for Second Quarter

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

[Copyright, 1928, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, April 25.—Wall street's conviction that the second quarter earnings will be better than the first has been strengthened by the arrival of reports for the first three months by the country's two giant industrial corporations, General Motors and Steel.

Just as might have been expected, on the basis of economic grounds widely recognized, General Motors in the first 1928 quarter did better than a year ago, whereas the Steel Corporation fell behind. General Motors net income for the initial quarter exceeded $80,000,000, as against $83,000,000 a year ago, but simultaneously Steel's earnings fell to $41,000,000 from $46,000,000 last year.

Without here going into the detailed figures announced late yesterday afternoon by these two industrial leaders, attention is drawn to a few simple but fundamental forces that affected the first quarter comparisons unfavorably, but which in the current quarter should become favorable. Chief among these is the reversal in the general business trend. In 1927 we started at a high level and worked lower. In 1928 we started from a low level and to date have been working higher.

In the steel industry most companies fell behind the first quarter of a year ago in earnings, despite the somewhat larger production. Explanation for that lies in the lower prices that prevailed in the first 1928 months. The recent advance in steel prices was not fully reflected in first-quarter earnings. Every indication now is that the second quarter steel production will exceed the corresponding 1927 output and, with prices more favorable, the financial district expects an improvement in earnings.

In the oil industry first-quarter earnings were generally smaller than a year ago since the 1927 price cuts which reduced last year's profits level did not come until late February. This means the second quarter 1928 oil earnings will be compared with a poor 1927 quarter. And in addition the gasoline situation has been improved this year.

INCOME OF LOCAL GAS UTILITY UP

Los Angeles Company Reports $242,166 Net Gain in Fiscal Year

Net earnings of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company for the twelve months ended March 31, last, amounted to $4,307,762.45, after all charges, including taxes, depreciation and bond interest, as against $4,065,596.26 for the preceding twelve months, an increase of $242,166.26, or approximately 6 per cent, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

Earnings for the period are equivalent to $22.27 a share on the outstanding 6 per cent preferred stock. After providing for preferred dividends there remained a balance of $3,147,220.48 for the common stock, all of which is owned by the Pacific Lighting Corporation.

Gross earnings of the company for the twelve months' period totaled $21,303,240.30, as against $19,483,643.51 for the preceding twelve months, a gain of $1,819,596.79, or more than 9 per cent.

Gross earnings for the month of March aggregated $2,026,039.71, or $99,358.79 less than that of March, 1927, which was a peak month. Operating expenses and taxes were reduced from $1,143,052.94 in March last year to $1,133,461.65 for March this year. The balance for dividends and surplus after all charges amounted to $511,955.35, or $90,689 less than the previous March.

Combining The Advantages of Short and Long Term Bonds

An unusual opportunity to combine the marketability and stable value of short-term securities, and the appreciation possibilities of long-term bonds selling at a considerable discount, is offered by our recent issue of PROVINCE OF UPPER AUSTRIA External Secured 6% Gold Notes, due 1930, priced at 98½ and interest, to yield 6.75%.

These notes are the direct obligation of the Province and are directly secured by deposit of Upper Austria External Secured Sinking Fund 6½% and 7% Bonds, for a principal amount equal to $1,570 per $1,000 note.

These notes will be exchangeable at the option of the holder for 6½% Secured Gold Bonds of the Province due in 1937 at prices ranging from 93 to 93½, the difference between the exchange price and the principal amount of the note to be paid by the holder in cash.

In view of the rich natural resources, balanced budget and steadily increasing revenues of the Province, we believe the issue constitutes a sound investment yielding an attractive return today and offering decidedly attractive appreciation possibilities for the future.

Circular descriptive of the Province of Upper Austria and the details of this issue will be gladly furnished on request. Call, phone or write.

Merger Rumor Spurs Buying of Eastern Group

Sensational Gains Recorded by Several Issues

Industrials Irregular But Generally Higher

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—A national buying movement in railroad shares based on confirmed rumors of important decisions in the eastern trunk-line consolidation plan, overshadowed other developments in today's market. Gains of 3 to 10 points distributed among a dozen railroads while New York and Boston changing hands in small lots, ran 187 points to 480 and closed points below the top.

The average of twenty leading rails, compiled by Associated Press, advanced nearly 4 points to a high for all time at 139.85.

Despite absence of official comment, Wall street apparently was fer granted reports that L. F. Loree finally had acquiesced to the trunk-line plan and had agreed to turn control of the Delaware & Hudson holdings over to the Pennsylvania and accept a 65-point basis on Wabash common stock. Both were and Hudson soared more than 11 points to a new high at 2 and closed within a fraction of the top, and Wabash was up 9 points to a new peak at 91 then eased to 90 1-4.

NEW HIGHS SCORED

New York Central, which is expected to issue valuable subscription rights before the end of the year, was pushed up nearly 7 points to a new peak at 127. Baltimore and Ohio, Canadian Pacific, Chicago-Northwestern, Big Four, Kansas, Texas and Pacific and Missouri Pacific complete the list of new peaks and Texas and Pacific was up 7 points.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—The curb market turned bullish today and buying, which increased in volume right to the close, lifted prices 1 to 16 points throughout the list. Utilities led the advance after the early morning hesitation had passed, but surrendered the position to the oils late in the day. Railroads were strong in sympathy with the advance of rails on the "big board" and a heavy demand appeared for industrial specialties. Total sales were just under 1,000,000 shares.

Low-priced oils and shares of companies having South American connections attracted most of the buying, evidently on the strength of an advance in gasoline prices here and abroad. Domestic oils were rather weak, probably in reflection of reports showing increased production. Atlantic Lobos, Darby Petroleum, Ryan Consolidated Magdalena, Savoy and Solar Refining were among the oils to reach new high ground. Chesebrough Manufacturing gained more than 16 points, reaching a new peak at 151½. Some pipe lines made substantial gains.

Profit-taking reduced the early gains of most of the utilities. American Gas and Electric, Cities Service, United Electric certificates, United Gas Improvements closed 1 to 4 points higher.

Alabama Great Southern Railroad common moved up 5 points and the preferred 2 and Pittsburgh and Lake Erie reached a new top at 150 3-4, although it later sagged about a point. Atlas Plywood, Bohn Aluminum, Columbia Graphaphone, Mengel and Libby Owens closed substantially higher, the latter ending the day with a gain of 11 points net at a new top of 131 1-2. Marvel Carburetor, Borg & Beck and Brockway Motor Truck made outstanding gains among the rather irregular motor and accessory shares. Renewed demand lifted Bancitaly more than 3 points on a heavy turnover.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the bid.

Common Stock (No Par Value)	173,500 Shares*	166,000 Shares

*17,500 shares of the Common Stock to be reserved for warrants issued in connection with the offering of 7% First Preferred Stock as explained below.

The 7% First Preferred Stock and Common Stock offered will represent no new financing for the Company, being acquired from stockholders.

Mr. J. H. Adams, President of the Adams-Millis Corporation, summarizes his letter dated April 24, 1928, regarding this 7% First Preferred Stock with Common Stock Purchase Warrants, as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: This Company will be organized under the laws of the State of North Carolina, and will acquire through consolidation all the assets and business of an existing company bearing the same name, and of the High Point Hosiery Mills, Inc., Piedmont Mills Company, Kernersville Knitting Company and the Pointer Hosiery Company. All of these companies have been in operation for many years and are entirely owned or controlled by the same interests that control the existing Adams-Millis Corporation.

The businesses which are being acquired by the Company were started with the erection of the High Point Hosiery Mills in 1905 on an original capital of $22,500. The mills were erected to manufacture cotton stockings to retail at low prices, and later rayon was included to meet the popular demand. The greater part of the business is confined to a stocking that sells at 25c a pair retail, the balance ranging from 20c to 50c a pair. Approximately 75% of this merchandise is sold to the large well-known chain store companies of this country. Of this product more than 50% is in men's half hose, with the balance consisting of hosiery for women, misses and boys. The present output amounts to 15,000 dozen pairs a day, or at the rate of over 4,000,000 dozen pairs yearly, probably making the Company the largest single manufacturer of this class of stocking in the country.

EARNINGS: Net profits for the past three years, after all charges, including depreciation, and after State and Federal Income Taxes, were as follows:

	Net Profits As Above	Times Dividend on $1,750,000 First Pfd. Stock	Balance Per Share of Common After Pfd. Dividends
1925	$355,818.76	2.90	$1.27
1926	557,278.62	4.54	2.58
1927	706,582.57	5.76	3.51

Net profits as reported above for the three-year period thus averaged more than 4.40 times the dividend requirements on the 7% First Preferred Stock.

FINANCIAL CONDITION: The Pro-forma Balance Sheet of the Company as of April 7, 1928, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., after giving effect to the consolidation, the present financing and other adjustments mentioned therein, shows current assets of $2,209,933.97 against current liabilities of $400,638.94.

The Company, in addition to a strong liquid position as to cash and accounts receivable, acquires a large investment in readily marketable bonds and securities. Funds are therefore available for a normal growth without recourse to the issuance of further securities.

COMMON STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS: Each share of 7% First Preferred Stock will be accompanied by a detachable warrant entitling the holder to purchase one share of the Common Stock of the Company on or before July 1, 1931, at $32.50 per share.

MANAGEMENT: The present management has brought this business to its present excellent financial and operating condition and has created for it a very valuable goodwill in the trade. No change is contemplated in the management, which owns a substantial majority of the Common Stock as well as of the 7% Second Preferred Stock.

FUTURE: Practically all of the divisions are running full time, with day and night continuous operation (except Sundays) in the knitting mills. Total shipments for the months of January, February and March, 1928, showed an increase of 25.56% over the corresponding months of 1927.

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which we believe reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us.

Legal Proceedings are subject to the approval of Messrs. Buckman, Bogue, Clark & Grimson, New York, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Brooks, Parker, Smith & Wharton, of Greensboro, N. C., and Messrs. Robinson, Haworth & Reese, of High Point, N. C., for the Company.

Price $105 per share and accrued dividend

42,400 shares of Common Stock are also being offered by us at $28.50 per share

We offer the above Stock "when, as and if issued and received by us" subject to allotment or prior sale, and subject to the approval of counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about May 15, 1928, in the form of temporary or permanent certificates.

A Well-Secured Bond—Backed by Highly Responsible Institutions

PRICED TO YIELD OVER 7.10%

THE widespread prosperity of the United States today has resulted in a tremendous increase in available investment capital, with a consequent reduction in bond interest rates. In view of this smaller return obtainable on domestic issues, we believe investors will welcome the exceptional security and liberal 7.10% yield offered by ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH WELFARE INSTITUTIONS IN GERMANY 7% Secured Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, due 1946.

Bonds are the direct joint and several obligation of three leading Roman Catholic organizations of Germany, which, with their affiliated institutions, own real property with an estimated value of at least $300,000,000. Bonds are specifically secured by first mortgages on real property, valued at approximately four times the amount of the individual loan.

No Roman Catholic Church organization in Germany is known to have ever defaulted on any of its obligations.

Price 98 and Interest, to yield about 7.10%

UPTURN IN RAIL LIST FEATURES

Maryland, advanced 3 to 10 points. Jersey Central soared 25 points to a record high at 345, but lost 5 points of its gain. A score of others advanced 1 to 3 points.

Industrials were mixed, but mainly higher. There was little in the day's trade news to influence the price movement. The weekly steel reviews indicated a falling off in production and an easing price tendency, particularly for finished steel. There was no change in the credit situation, although an undercurrent of uneasiness was still apparent over the possibility of an increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rediscount rate after the close of the market tomorrow. Call money was in plentiful supply all day at the renewal figure of 5 per cent and there was no change in time money and commercial paper.

OIL LIST STRONG

Oils gave one of the best demonstrations of group strength in the industrial list on buying influenced by stiffening gasoline prices. Atlantic Refining was bid up more than 6 points to a new high at 132 3-4. Richfield Oil of California again was heavily bought on reports that negotiations were under way for the sale of the property to one of the large independent companies, moving up more than 3 points to within a fraction of the year's high.

Mexican Seaboard ran up to another new high at 33 3-4, but lost most of its gain on realizing. Advance Rumely shares each advanced about 10 points to new high records and striking gains were recorded by some of the express, fertiliser, food and insurance issues.

New York Tractions, which had been bought in anticipation of a Federal court decision granting the application of the Interborough for a 7-cent fare, turned weak for no apparent reason. Heaviness also was quite pronounced in Greene Cananea Copper, Liquid Carbonic, Postum Cereal and Standard Milling. Foreign exchanges were reactionary, sterling cables easing slightly to around $4.85, with minor recessions in most of the continental rates.

Sharp advances in wheat and cotton futures, based on unfavorable weather reports, featured the commodity markets. Wheat advanced 3 to nearly 4 cents a bushel on reports that the Southwest was in danger of a drought and that the West was suffering from low temperatures. Cotton advanced 1.25 to nearly 2.50 a bale. Sugar quotations held steady, while coffee futures sagged 12 to 23 points.

When Confidence is Foolhardy

BECAUSE you're confident, would you attempt to walk the length of a steel girder high above the street . . . blindfolded?

Yet that's practically what 95 men out of every 100 are doing by trading themselves in their stock market operations. They lack the qualified knowledge, intensive training and long years of experience which are necessary for success.

Continuous profit-taking is what they seek. Continuous profit-taking is what we have been giving our subscribing members for many years through our specialized, skilful guidance.

This Service is specific . . . it tells you what, when and why to buy or sell; intimate . . . it recognizes your personal needs and commands accordingly; unbiased . . . we neither buy nor sell. It is only advisory!

Don't allow overconfidence to play havoc with your experienced judgment. An investigation of our Service will be to your advantage. Fill in and mail the coupon provided below for a copy of our booklet. It contains a wealth of information on investing.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

All Stocks Strengthen on General Rising Price Movement in Local Market

Merchants' National, United Security Bank and Richfield were the strong spots yesterday in a generally rising price movement on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Throughout the entire list, advances were the rule and losses the exception. Merchants' National, following its 40-point rise of Tuesday and on an overnight accumulation of orders, shot up 6 points in the first few minutes of trading and reached a high for the day of 222. The stock sold in high territory most of the session but toward the close weakened for a net loss of 4 points, with the last sale at 212.

United Security continued its advance to new high levels and jumped 7 points to a record price of 300. The stock closed at 295 for a net gain of 2 points. Bancitaly Corporation stock was another issue to show considerable strength and on a transfer of more than 3000 shares, advanced 1 3-8 points to 104 5-8. Bank of Italy, after touching a high of 269 1-2, closed at 284 for a net gain of 2-3. Security Trust and Savings added 2 to close at 340. Other banks were steady.

Richfield was again unusually active and on an advance of 2 3-4 points set a new record mark at 44 3-4. It closed at 44 1-8. The preferred, with warrants, also climbed to a new record with a gain of 1 7-8 to 14 3-4. Union of California and Union Associates each added 1-2 to close at 84 and 58 1-4, respectively. Standard of California gained 1-4 to 59 5-8. Pan-American Western moved up 3-4 on considerable activity, to 28.

Central Investment sold up 1-2 to a new record of 104 in the miscellaneous division. Laguna Land and Water sold to a high of 3.85. In the utilities, Southern California Edison gained 1-4 to 45 1-2 and Los Angeles Gas and Electric, 1-4 to 112 3-4. The mines were steady with the exception of Sunnyside, which gained 5 cents but the previous day. It closed at 30. Comstock Silver regained a cent to 14.

Stock transfers amounted to 165,439 shares. Bond transactions totaled $68,000.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 25. (AP)—Semi-speculative bonds were in brisk demand again today, sympathizing with strength of delated issues on the stock exchange. Mortgages of a strictly investment character, however, displayed considerable irregularity in reflection of continued uncertainty over the credit situation. Although time money quotations were unchanged, it was generally conceded that the probability of an increase in the New York rediscount rate either this week, or next, was about even.

Prompt oversubscription of the $50,000,000 Cities Service 5s, and the $12,000,000 City of Copenhagen 4½s indicated a continuance of the firm demand for new issues.

The new St. Paul Mortgages, which have been sagging for two or three days under profit-taking, started upward again, although most of the gains were lost before the close. Hudson and Manhattan income 5s reached a new high for the year, but dropped back a point and closed fractionally below yesterday's last price. Minneapolis and St. Louis 5s again reached a new maximum of 61, and Iowa Central 5s sold at 48 3-8 for the first time this year.

Quiet continued to rule the industrial group, with further recessions among the tobacco issues. Lorillard 7s receded about a point. Anaconda Copper 7s and Andes 7s were a point or so higher. Selling of some of the New York traction liens, which have been gaining ground steadily for several weeks, was the principal development in the public utilities list.

Profit-taking caused recessions of a point or so in the Italian industrial obligations, which reached new peaks yesterday. Otherwise the foreign department was without important features. Price changes and volume of trading in the United States government list were small.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (the thousands of dollars) and the highest and closing prices in the order given, for the day specified. Where no sales are entered there the same as the day, and both bid and asked when same as block.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, April 25. (AP)—A small amount of business in 64s and finer French combing western grown domestic wools is being done. The limited demand is combing wools is coming principally from mills. Wools suitable for worsted manufacturers are fairly active with some houses, but with others very dull at all. Inquiries are being received for low grade bred scoured wool, but actual trade is very limited in these lines, asking prices being very firm.

PRODUCE MARKET

(By U. S. Bureau of Markets)
Trading continued dull Wednesday morning. Asparagus was steady. Lettuce sold slowly at lower prices. Cherries continued to arrive. New potatoes, strawberries, tomatoes and beans were slightly weaker. Celery strengthened. A few Imperial Valley cantaloupes were on the market. There was a slightly better demand for summer squash.

State of Parana

UNITED STATES OF BRAZIL

7% External Sinking Fund Consolidated Gold Bonds

Dated March 15, 1928. Due March 15, 1958

These Bonds, and £1,000,000 Sterling Bonds being offered in London by Messrs. Lazard Brothers & Co., Ltd., constitute the present authorized amount of the State of Parana Consolidated Bonds.

Principal and semi-annual interest, September 15 and March 15, payable in New York City in United States gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness at the principal office of or, at the option of the holder, in London in sterling, at the fixed rate of exchange of $4.86 to the pound sterling at the office of Lazard Brothers & Co., Ltd., without deduction for any present or future taxes of the United States of Brazil or any State authority thereof or therein. Redeemable in whole or in part, at the option of the State, on March 15, 1933 or on any interest date thereafter on three months notice at 102 and accrued interest. Coupon bearer bonds in denominations of $100 and $500.

NON-REDEEMABLE EXCEPT FOR SINKING FUND BEFORE MARCH 15, 1933.

The Bonds of both issues will be entitled to the benefit of a semi-annual cumulative sinking fund, commencing September 15, 1928, calculated to be sufficient to retire both issues by maturity through purchase of Bonds of either or both issues at or below 100 and accrued interest, or, if not so obtainable, through drawings by lot in equal amounts of each issue, at 100 and accrued interest.

The following summary is based upon a letter signed, on behalf of the President of the State of Parana, by M. Khawel Soares de Lavalaye and Dr. Dilfino Angelo Fernandes da Veiga, Financial Representatives in Europe of the Government of the State of Parana:

GENERAL: Parana, one of the States of Brazil lying south of the State of Sao Paulo, has an area of about 93,300 square miles. It has a population of approximately 870,000, which is increasing rapidly through European immigration attracted by the equable climate and the potentialities of the State. Direct communication with the sea is furnished through its ports of Paranagua and Antonina. Curityba is the capital, with a population now estimated at 100,000.

The greater part of the population of the State is engaged in agriculture, the chief product at present being "herva mate" (Brazilian tea), which is produced in larger quantities than in any other State in Brazil. In 1926-27 exports of this commodity amounted to the equivalent of approximately $11,787,000. Other important agricultural products are cereals, cotton, fruits, tobacco, sugar cane, bananas and coffee. The State contains areas particularly adapted to the production of coffee. The State likewise includes large tracts of timber land as yet largely undeveloped.

The principal industries of Parana are the preparation of herva mate and timber, which is largely exported for building and other purposes. Other industrial establishments are flour mills, match factories, breweries, potteries, tanneries, and boot and shoe factories.

FINANCES: During the last five fiscal years the revenues of the State have shown a steady increase. In this period the total revenues have averaged $2,241,766 per annum, as against expenditures, including capital expenditures, averaging $2,229,804 per annum. Revenue for 1927-28 is estimated at $3,192,000. Actual receipts for the first half of the financial year amount to about $1,800,000, which is in excess of the estimate.

SECURITY: The Bonds of the present issues will be the direct obligation of the State of Parana which pledges its good faith and credit for the punctual payment of principal and interest. In addition, the Bonds will be specifically secured (upon retirement of the French loans hereinafter mentioned and 8,011 contos of internal bonds) by a first lien or charge on the whole of the revenues, present and future, of the State, derived from tariff rates, duties and impositions of whatever nature. Such revenues for 1926-27 were the equivalent of $2,423,369.

The State reserves the right to issue additional Consolidated Bonds from time to time which will rank "pari passu" in point of charge with the present issues of Bonds; provided that the amount required for service of interest and sinking fund of the Bonds issued, and then to be issued, shall not exceed one-third of the average annual tax revenues of the State for the three preceding fiscal years, or one-third of the amount of such revenues for the last year immediately preceding the date of issue, whichever be the less.

PURPOSE: Owing to a difference of view as to the currency in which its French loans of 1905, 1913 and 1917 are payable, the State of Parana has entered into an agreement with the National Association of French Bondholders (Association Nationale des Porteurs Français de Valeurs Mobilieres) under which the State intends to retire all three loans. A sum sufficient to effect the retirement of these three loans in accordance with such agreement will be reserved from the proceeds of the Bonds and held in a special account for such purpose. The balance of the proceeds of the Bonds not required for redemption of the French loans will be devoted to the construction of railways and roads, the completion of harbor works of Paranagua and other public works of a productive kind.

DEBT: The Dollar and Sterling Bonds, upon retirement of the French loans above mentioned, will constitute the sole external debt of the State. Including internal funded and floating debt, equivalent to approximately $3,324,000, the total per capita debt will then amount to less than $15.

All conversions of Brazilian milreis into United States dollars have been made at the rate of 1$ to milreis, approximately the current rate of exchange.

The foregoing is subject to the more complete information contained in the circular, copies of which may be obtained from any of the undersigned.

All offerings are made "when, as and if" issued and received by us and subject to the approval of all legal proceedings by counsel. Delivery in the first instance may be in the form of Interim Receipts or Temporary Bonds.

Price 98 and interest, to yield about 7.15%

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

A new wildcat well is to be drilled in the Arvin district, south and east of the Wood Patch area, in the San Joaquin Valley within the next thirty or sixty days, it was reported yesterday. The well will be drilled by the California Petroleum Corporation as the result of negotiations between that company, and the Maryland Oil Company, which were completed yesterday.

The Maryland Oil Company has been conducting a careful geological survey of the Arvin district for the past year, applying new methods of interpretation to the information gathered in the field, and studying carefully the conditions and formations in water wells in the area. As a result of the survey, the Maryland has leased approximately 4000 acres and this new well will be drilled by the California Petroleum Corporation on a farming agreement.

The new well will be the first to be drilled down in the Arvin district, although the surrounding area has been a favorite playground for operators in recent years. The information resulting from these prospecting efforts has been used by the Maryland in developing its survey.

The Deeper Zone

The Standard Oil Company has extended its test of the shallow sands at Seacliff, six miles west of Ventura, and is drilling deeper in the Southern Pacific No. 1 well, according to officials of the company. The well produced a few barrels a day from the upper zone for a couple of weeks before the Standard decided to go on down. Bottom is now at 2020 feet.

The Standard has just spudded in another well on the Southern Pacific right of way at Seacliff, and is drilling fast. Southern Pacific No. 1 is the only other active drilling well. R. P. No. 3 being shut down.

Weekly Report

The total number of new wells completed in California to date this year is 1255 against 1413 new wells in the same period of 1927, according to figures released yesterday by the State Oil and Gas Supervisor. In the same period 202 wells have been abandoned, against 175 abandoned to the same date in 1927.

Labor Situation

Careful analysis of the new wage scales for oil-well drillers, which have just been adopted by the Standard Oil Company of California, indicates that it was apparently resolved for the purpose of keeping a group of loyal employees, when the Standard does not expect to lose, across the dull period which has been brought about by the temporary suspension of active field operations.

Just now the company is drilling about fifteen new wells in the entire State. These wells have been running three crews of drillers each, the crews averaging four men. Figuring five to the crew of fifteen men on each well, there are only 225 drillers working on the wells for Standard. These men are now working an eight-hour day and putting in seven days a week.

The company is now swinging the regulars over to a six-day week at the same pay per week as it creates three days' work on each well, for drillers who would otherwise perhaps be idle and off the pay roll. Thus, on fifteen new wells, the company creates forty-five extra working days per week, which helps a lot when times are dull.

The present condition, which is not an emergency matter, it is believed, would doubtless be cut off if the company undertook to put the system when field work is booming. For instance, where Standard now has 225 drillers working on new wells, a year ago it had seven drilling wells in Huntington Beach alone.

Production in Decline

According to figures collected by the American Petroleum Institute the total production of crude oil in California for March amounted to 18,118,274 barrels, an average of 584,460 barrels per day. This was a decrease of 5296 barrels per day from February production.

The stocks of crude and all products in Pacific Coast territory increased during the month 417,488 barrels. The total stocks at the end of the month were 140,798,874 barrels. The total block increase for the year to March 31, was 1,458,524 barrels. Comparative figures as of March 31, 1928, February 29, 1928, and March 31, 1927, are shown in the table on the second page of this section.

Forty-five wells were completed in the month with an initial daily production of 35,353 barrels, as compared with seventy wells completed during February with an initial production of 49,323 barrels.

Old Well In

Scenes of the early days of the Torrance field are revived by the completion yesterday of the Torrance No. 4 well in that field, for the Union Oil Company. The well, No. 4 is located in the extreme eastern part of the field, just north of the Maxwell area, and west of Main street.

According to field reports the well is making only about 100 barrels a day, with the bottom at 5060 feet. The sand is said to be clean, and to be of the high gravity characteristic of the Torrance field, which averages from 42 to 44 deg.

The Torrance field developed when the Pacific Western first began the Packard-Bell area, and was one of the first to be brought in by the Union. One well was completed on the property, but it never has been a large producer.

Gas Showings

R. O'Donnell has been making some encouraging showings in his wildcat well near Gaviota, six miles south of the Gaviota wells of the Pacific Production Company, according to field reports. The well is now about 3900 feet, and has had gas indications at several places. The well is now drilling in a shale formation, it is said.

Gas Found

The Rundell Oil Company is reported to have found gas at 1000 feet in its O'Dea No. 9 well in the southeastern part of the Ventura field, according to field reports. The well has not as yet been completed, however, and any definite information as to the commercial value of the gas showing cannot be obtained for several hundred feet more drilling.

OIL NEWS

By HOWARD C. KEGLEY

A new wildcat well is to be drilled in the Avon district, south and east of the Huntington Beach-Seal Beach area, in the San Joaquin Valley within the next thirty days, it was reported yesterday. The well will be drilled by the California Petroleum Corporation as the result of negotiations effected by the Standard Oil Company, which were completed yesterday.

The Midland Oil Company has been conducting a careful geological survey of the Arvin district for the past year, applying new methods of investigation to the information gathered in the field, and studied carefully the conditions existing in water wells in the district. As a result of the survey the Midland has leased approximately 4000 acres and this territory will be drilled by the California Petroleum Corporation on a 40-acre spacing.

The first well will be the first to be drilled in the Arvin district. The territory surrounding the area has been a favorite playground for oil operators in recent years. The information resulting from these preliminary prospecting efforts has been gathered by the Midland in developing the survey.

The Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company has completed its test of the shallow oil sand at Seacliff, six miles west of Huntington Beach, and is drilling deeper in the Southern Pacific No. 1 well, according to officials of the company. The shallow sand produced a few barrels a day of tarry oil, but the upper zone for a number of weeks before the Standard Oil Company pulled its rig on down. Bottom is expected at a depth of 4000 feet.

The Texas Company has just spudded in a new well on the Southern Pacific side of the line, about a quarter of a mile west of Seacliff, and is drilling deeper in the Southern Pacific No. 1 well, which is now standing idle. Bottom is expected at a depth of 4000 feet.

Activity in the Seacliff district has been resumed by the Texas Company after a shutdown of several months. The well is now drilling in a shale formation at a depth of 1800 feet, and has been deepened 200 feet since it was abandoned, against 175 abandoned in the same date in 1927.

Several new wells are to be completed in Glenwood to date this week, it was reported yesterday by oil men. Approximately 240 new wells have been added to the district since the first well was completed in 1927, according to figures released yesterday by the California Oil and Gas Supervisor. The number for the week ending last Saturday was 240, against 175 abandoned in the same date in 1927.

Under Stanolind

Initial analysis of the new wage agreement to be signed by oil-well drillers, which has been adopted by the Standard Oil Company of California, indicates that it was apparently framed for the purpose of keeping a group of loyal employees, since the Standard does not appear to be across the dull period which has been brought about by the suspension of active drilling.

Under the new agreement the company's only will be paid fifteen new wells in the entire state. These wells have been running three crews of drillers each, to crew averaging four days a week. Starting five to the crew will be put on each well, there will be 25 drillers working on the basis of five days a week, instead of working an eight-hour day and getting in seven days a week.

The company is now swinging its drillers over to a six-day week at the same pay per week for the three days' work on the new wells. Drillers who would prefer perhaps be idle and off will be given fifteen new wells, the company creates forty-six working days per week. Under a lot when times are

Good Condition

The present condition, which is not an emergency matter, it is stated, is due to the fact that drillers be out of work if the company undertook to keep the system when field work is slack. For instance, where there now has 225 drillers working, there will a year ago it had only twenty drilling wells in Huntington Beach alone.

Under Stanolind

The total number of new wells drilled in California to date this year is 2000 against 843 new wells drilled in the same period of 1927, according to figures released yesterday by the California Oil and Gas Supervisor. The number for the same period 202 wells have been abandoned, against 175 abandoned in the same date in 1927.

Dealer Held on Arson Charge

Sufficient testimony was produced at the preliminary hearing yesterday to hold Richard Budelier, 39 years of age, motorcycle dealer, for trial on charges of arson and burning insured property with intent to defraud. Municipal Judge Gibbs ruled. Bail was fixed at $5000, which Budelier promptly furnished to gain his liberty.

Detectives Adams, Packam and Price testified they arrested Budelier following a small fire in the rear of his store building at Twenty-second and Main streets on the evening of the 5th inst.

The preliminary hearing was continued until yesterday by Judge Gibbs after requiring practically all day Tuesday for prosecution testimony.

Hearing Set to Decide Fate of Health Worker

Is it proper for an employee of a city department to use her acquaintanceship with a City Councilman to block efforts to have her job abolished, or should she be dismissed for insubordination?

The foregoing question is to be decided by the Civil Service board in the case of the discharge of Mrs. Conyers P. Heidge, social hygiene worker in the health department.

The charges were brought by Dr. George Parriah, city health officer, who asserted that Mrs. Heidge got a Councilman to block an ordinance which was to abolish certain positions in the health department, including her own.

The name of the Councilman was not divulged at the board meeting, but the commissioners approved a request that the Councilman and all parties concerned in the Heidge case appear before the board at its next meeting to have the facts aired.

FORESTER TO DIRECT CITY PLANTING URGED

The appointment of a City Forester to encourage tree planting in Los Angeles and make recommendations as to the kind of trees to be planted was recommended to the Council yesterday by the Wilshire District Chamber of Commerce.

POOR PA

EXPERT TO ELUCIDATE EPILEPSY

London Medical Leader Prefers Hollywood to Professional Tours

BY ALMA WHITAKER

A most alarmingly important, erudite person, this tall, hooked-nosed, sandy-haired, humorous-eyed Dr. S. A. Kinnier Wilson of London, who fills up nearly a column of Who's Who with scholarly degrees and attainments and fellowships in the august medical and neurological societies of the world.

DR. SAMUEL A. KINNIER WILSON

He arrived in Los Angeles yesterday as the guest of Dr. Cecil Reynolds to address a joint meeting of the Los Angeles Medical and Clinical societies and the Pathological Society this evening before he leaves for the north to address the State Medical Society.

You see, he knows all about brains as well as nerves, glands and all the other little things that make life complicated for the higher animals.

"With so many brilliant scientists devoting themselves to insanity and its kindred ailments, is the world getting saner or sillier?" we wanted to know.

"Now that," said Dr. Wilson, with almost a wink, "is an embarrassing question. We know a lot more about insanity and epilepsy, what to do for it, what it is, but we aren't much on prevention. Insanity is increasing, more people are getting more crazy all the time . . ."

"What, even with our scientific dieting, our better babies, our microbe scares and all the other things the doctors have put over on us . . ." I marveled.

Dr. Wilson smiled sphinxily. "All this celery stuff . . . weighing the baby and the baby's food . . . pshaw. Very amusing vogue." Whereupon he ordered roast pork for lunch with fried potatoes, ice cream and cake. . . . "Nothing is bad for you if you really like it. If one thinks something doesn't agree with one, why keep right on eating it, and after a couple of weeks one's stomach gets trained."

"Are you really a modern, frightfully successful, highly distinguished doctor?" we gasped, "and do you tell these things at the medical meetings?"

"My subject is epilepsy," he explained, grinning. "I never digress." (There were several six-syllable words before "epilepsy," which made it sound much more awful and scientific.)

CITY MOVES TO SAVE BEACHES

Commissioners Ask Council to Act Quickly

Venice Ocean Strand Acres Under Scrutiny

Los Angeles Asserts Title by State Act

Recovery by Los Angeles of several thousand feet of valuable beach frontage and a large acreage of ocean strand in Venice is being sought by the playground and recreation commissioners, who have adopted a resolution requesting the Mayor and City Council "to set in motion such legal machinery as may be necessary to obtain for the city all artificial accretions on the Venice water front." This includes tidelands which may be unlawfully claimed or occupied illegally by other parties.

The action of the commissioners was precipitated because of certain sales of built-up land and commencement of homes on this land, the title to which is questioned. A home now being constructed on a strip of the beach north of Del Rey pier is said to belong to Mae Murray, motion-picture actress.

ACTION SPEEDED

The evident intention to subdivide the strip, shutting the public off from access to the beach, brought about hurried action by the playground commissioners.

The artificial accretions referred to by the commissioners consist of beach lands built up through construction of groins, jetties and breakwaters and the use of ocean currents and tides, which make fills.

Ownership of the tide and submerged lands, the commissioners point out, is vested in the State. In 1917 the State passed an act granting to Venice the tidal and submerged lands within the boundaries of that city. Los Angeles, as successor of the City of Venice, it is said, therefore is interested in ac-

MONUMENT TO CITY'S PROGRESS

ORDER OF MARCH IN PARADE TO NEW CITY HALL AT 10 A.M.

Following is the order of the parade today given in connection with the dedication ceremonies of the new City Hall, the parade consisting of an official delegation and four divisions under the grand marshal of the day, Brig.-Gen. Walter P. Storey. It will move at 10 a.m. from Sixteenth and Hill streets, north on Hill street to Pico street, east on Pico street to Broadway, north on Broadway to First street, east on First street to Spring street, north of Spring street to the reviewing stand in front of the City Hall:

The first division, commanded by Col. Harcourt Hervey, One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, forming in Praeger Park area, will follow the grand marshal at fifty yards, in the following order of march:

(1.) Coast Artillery, Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, with band.

(2.) One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry with band.

(3.) The Harvard Military School with band.

The tread of thousands upon thousands of hurrying feet, the stirring strains of martial music from two-score bands, the rumbling of heavy floats and purring of automobiles, flashes of brilliant color, flags, bright uniforms, floral decorations, great crowds massed along miles of gaily bedecked streets. Thus will Los Angeles today begin a great day of celebration, with a military, civic and patriotic parade preceding the impressive ceremonies at the formal dedication of the new twenty-eight-story City Hall.

The parade, starting at 10 a.m. from Sixteenth and Hill streets, will include 22,000 marchers thirty-four bands, hundreds of gaily decorated automobiles and numerous fraternal, business and floral floats. This marching and moving demonstration of civic pride and progress will be the most important event of the day's program until 3 p.m. when the formal ceremonial of dedication starts lending a period of dignity, praise and commendation to the celebration.

COOLIDGE TO TAKE PART

The fitting climax to the day of dedication will take place at 7 p.m. when President Coolidge from his office in Washington will touch a golden key transmitting a spark to the powerful beacon atop the snow-white structure and the Lindbergh light will flash its initial message of cheer and guidance through miles of darkness, a tribute to the age of aviation and a perpetual landmark for the thousands of flyers of the future who will travel the night air lanes of the West.

More than 200,000 visitors are expected from other Southern California towns and northern cities, and with hundreds of thousands of Angelenos will pack the streets during the four-hour passing of the parade.

A short time before the formal dedication program gets under way army birdmen will pay their tribute to the powerful beacon when a squadron of flyers from March Field at Riverside will encircle the City Hall tower. The aviators will pilot their planes in squadron formation and slipping over the city from the east will make two complete circles and then fly directly over the tower, dipping their wings in salute. The squadron then will return to the flying field.

The dedication ceremony will be of great interest but the limited stand and seating area near the new building will provide accommodations for only between 50,000 and 75,000 persons. Loud speakers are in place around the speakers' stand on Spring street and every word and note of music will reach the very edge of the massed listeners, while the elaborate musical program, band concerts and addresses will be broadcast over KPLA, Los Angeles, and KYA, San Francisco.

ALL READY FOR PARADE

Automobiles, floats and marching bodies will line up for the parade early this morning.

"Everything is in readiness for the largest civic procession ever seen west of Chicago, and every effort will be made to move on the exact hour. This will be necessary

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE father of the murdered Frank boy left a bequest to provide a memorial for his son.

I suggest a design—a cock-eyed figure of Justice—with the figure of Leopold and Loeb fingering their noses at it.

FEATHERS FOR SOLONS

The problem whether City Councilmen should wear top hats, morning coats and striped pants has been a crisis bridged—but only temporarily. It will break out anew and with increased violence.

After all, it is vital and important that the dignity of a Councilman should be distinguished in some way.

Personally, I feel that they should wear a uniform with a peacock feather fan. I don't know—right off the reel—just what this uniform should be like. But I do feel the strongest possible conviction that it should be buttoned down the back.

HIGH-TONED SPINES

Miss Mae Murray—who seems to spend her vacations in the courts—has done much to illuminate the problems of a bewildered world.

For one thing, she has shown that antiques are not to be judged under the intoxication of a pipe organ.

And now her lawsuit against her ex-masseuse . . . It is demonstrated that it is a waste of intellectual effort to study medicine, art on the learned professions when you can get $250 per week for punching a lady's spinal column.

But imagine the shining ecstasy of having a spine so illustrious?

"CONFESSION GUS"

"Confessing Gus" is symptomatic of a new police problem.

In olden days the police used to fasten folks on a rack and pull them apart to induce them to confess. But now every crime is followed by a stampede of ground and lofty confessers.

That these confessors never have any fear of paying the penalty indicates either a supreme confidence in the law—or a supreme contempt for it. I am not sure which.

HER WEDDING DAY

The most remarkable local event that has happened is the sixtieth wedding anniversary of a couple in San Fernando. For the first time in the known history of the world, the wife managed to get through the day without telling the reporters her recipe for happy married life.

N. B.: If they were really sincere, the recipe given by most of them would be "Plenty of fights."

MONOCLES

The movies of Baron von Huenefeld, who gambled his life and his fortune on the Bremen flight, show him as a fastidious, dressy young person with a monocle screwed into his right eye.

Jokes about one-barreled eyeglasses have always been fastened on the English. But in reality it was the Prussian army officers who adored them.

There was a well-encouraged reason for this half-insolent sangfroid. A German officer was always taught that he was the visible symbol of the empire.

He never allowed himself to appear to be tired or worn, or otherwise than magnificently poised—because empires do not get that way.

THE FAMINE

The terrible famine in China has a bearing on the reforestation campaign in California. The primary reason for these periodic famines is that the Chinese skinned their watersheds of trees—just as we are doing.

Dealer Held on Arson Charge

Sufficient testimony was produced at the preliminary hearing yesterday to hold Richard Budelier, 39 years of age, motorcycle dealer, for trial on charges of arson and burning insured property with intent to defraud. Municipal Judge Gibbs ruled. Bail was fixed at $5000, which Budelier promptly furnished to gain his liberty.

Detectives Adams, Packam and Price testified they arrested Budelier following a small fire in the rear of his store building at Twenty-second and Main streets on the evening of the 9th inst.

The preliminary hearing was continued until yesterday by Judge Gibbs after requiring practically all day Tuesday for prosecution testimony.

Hearing Set to Decide Fate of Health Worker

Is it proper for an employee of a city department to use her acquaintanceship with a City Councilman to block efforts to have her job abolished, or should she be dismissed for insubordination?

The foregoing question is to be decided by the Civil Service board in the case of the discharge of Mrs. Conyers P. Heidge, social hygiene worker in the health department.

The charges were brought by Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, who asserted that Mrs. Heidge got a Councilman to block an ordinance which was to abolish certain positions in the health department, including her own.

The name of the Councilman was not divulged at the board meeting, but the commissioners approved a request that the Councilman and all parties concerned in the Heidge case appear before the board at its next meeting to have the facts aired.

FORESTER TO DIRECT CITY PLANTING URGED

The appointment of a City Forester to encourage tree planting in Los Angeles and make recommendations as to the kind of trees to be planted was recommended to the Council yesterday by the Wilshire District Chamber of Commerce.

EXPERT TO ELUCIDATE EPILEPSY

London Medical Leader Prefers Hollywood to Professional Tours

BY ALMA WHITAKER

A most alarmingly important, erudite person, this tall, hooked-nosed, sandy-haired, humorous-eyed Dr. S. A. Kinnier Wilson of London, who fills up nearly a column of Who's Who with scholarly degrees and attainments and fellowships in the august medical and neurological societies of the world.

DR. S. A. KINNIER WILSON

He arrived in Los Angeles yesterday as the guest of Dr. Cecil Reynolds to address a joint meeting of the Los Angeles Medical and Clinical societies and the Pathological Society this evening before he leaves for the north to address the State Medical Society.

You see, he knows all about brains as well as nerves, glands and all the other little things that make life complicated for the higher animals.

"With so many brilliant scientists devoting themselves to insanity and its kindred ailments, is the world getting saner or sillier?" we wanted to know.

"Now that," said Dr. Wilson, with almost a wink, "is an embarrassing question. We know a lot more about insanity and epilepsy, what to do for it, what it is, but we aren't much on prevention. Insanity is increasing, more people are getting more crazy all the time . . ."

"What, even with our scientific dieting, our better babies, our microbe scares and all the other things the doctors have put over on us . . ." I marveled.

Dr. Wilson smiled sphinxity. "All this celery stuff . . . weighing the baby and the baby's food . . . quahaw. Very amusing vogue." Whereupon he ordered roast pork for lunch with fried potatoes, ice cream and cake. . . . "Nothing is bad for you if you really like it. If one thinks something doesn't agree with one, why keep right on eating it, and after a couple of weeks one's stomach gets trained."

"Are you really a modern, frightfully successful, highly distinguished doctor?" we gasped, "and do you tell these things at the medical meetings?"

"My subject is epilepsy," he explained, grinning. "I never digress." (There were several six-syllable words before "epilepsy," which made it sound much more awful and scientific.)

CITY MOVES TO SAVE BEACHES

Commissioners Ask Council to Act Quickly

Venice Ocean Strand Acres Under Scrutiny

Los Angeles Asserts Title by State Act

Recovery by Los Angeles of several thousand feet of valuable beach frontage and a large acreage of ocean strand in Venice is being sought by the playground and recreation commissioners, who have adopted a resolution requesting the Mayor and City Council "to set in motion such legal machinery as may be necessary to obtain for the city all artificial accretions on the Venice water front." This includes tidelands which may be unlawfully claimed or occupied illegally by other parties.

The action of the commissioners was precipitated because of certain sales of built-up land and commencement of homes on this land, the title to which is questioned. A home now being constructed on a strip of the beach north of Del Rey pier is said to belong to Mae Murray, motion-picture actress.

ACTION SPEEDED

The evident intention to subdivide the strip, shutting the public off from access to the beach, brought about hurried action by the playground commissioners.

The artificial accretions referred to by the commissioners consist of beach lands built up through construction of groins, jetties and breakwaters and the use of ocean currents and tides, which make fills.

Ownership of the tide and submerged lands, the commissioners point out, is vested in the State. In 1917 the State passed an act granting to Venice the tidal and submerged lands within the boundaries of that city. Los Angeles, as successor of the City of Venice, it is said, therefore is interested in ac-

MONUMENT TO CITY'S PROGRESS

ORDER OF MARCH IN PARADE TO NEW CITY HALL AT 10 A.M.

Following is the order of the parade today given in connection with the dedication ceremonies of the new City Hall, the parade consisting of an official delegation and four divisions under the grand marshal of the day, Brig.-Gen. Walter P. Storey. It will move at 10 a.m. from Sixteenth and Hill streets, north on Hill street to Pico street, east on Pico street to Broadway, north on Broadway to First street, east on First street to Spring street, north of Spring street to the reviewing stand in front of the City Hall:

The first division, commanded by Col. Harcourt Hervey, One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, forming in Praeger Park area, will follow the grand marshal at fifty yards, in the following order of march:

(1.) Coast Artillery, Fort MacArthur, San Pedro, with band.
(2.) One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry with band.
(3.) The Harvard Military School with band.

The tread of thousands upon thousands of hurrying feet, the stirring strains of martial music from two-score bands, the rumbling of heavy floats and purring of automobiles, flashes of brilliant color, flags, bright uniforms, floral decorations, great crowds massed along miles of gaily bedecked streets. Thus will Los Angeles today begin a great day of celebration, with a military, civic and patriotic parade preceding the impressive ceremonies at the formal dedication of the new twenty-eight-story City Hall.

The parade, starting at 10 a.m. from Sixteenth and Hill streets, will include 32,000 marchers thirty-four bands, hundreds of gaily decorated automobiles and numerous fraternal, business and floral floats. This marching and moving demonstration of civic pride and progress will be the most important event of the day's program until 3 p.m. when the formal ceremonial of dedication starts lending a period of dignity, praise and commendation to the celebration.

COOLIDGE TO TAKE PART

The fitting climax to the day of dedication will take place at 7 p.m. when President Coolidge from his office in Washington will touch a golden key transmitting a spark to the powerful beacon atop the snow-white structure and the Lindbergh light will flash its initial message of cheer and guidance through miles of darkness, a tribute to the ace of aviation and a perpetual landmark.

More than 200,000 visitors are expected from other Southern California towns and northern cities, and with hundreds of thousands of Angelenos will pack the streets during the four-hour passing of the parade.

A short time before the formal dedication program gets under way army birdmen will pay their tribute to the powerful beacon when a squadron of flyers from March Field at Riverside will encircle the City Hall tower. The aviators will pilot their planes in squadron formation and slipping over the city from the east will make two complete circles and then fly directly over the tower, dipping their wings in salue. The squadron then will return to the flying field.

The dedication ceremony will be of great interest but the limited stand and seating area near the new building will provide accommodations for only between 50,000 and 75,000 persons. Loud speakers are in place around the speakers' stand on Spring street and every word and note of music will reach the very edge of the massed listeners, while the elaborate musical program, band concerts and addresses will be broadcast over KPLA, Los Angeles, and KYA, San Francisco.

ALL READY FOR PARADE

Automobiles, floats and marching bodies will line up for the parade early this morning.

"Everything is in readiness for the largest civic procession ever seen west of Chicago, and every effort will be made to move on the exact hour. This will be necessary

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE father of the murdered Frank Ivy left a bequest to provide a memorial for his son.

I suggest a design—a cock-eyed figure of Justice—with the figures of Leopold and Loeb fingering their noses at it.

FEATHERS FOR SOLONS

The problem whether City Councilmen should wear top hats, morning coats and striped pants has been a crisis bridged—but only temporarily. It will break out anew and with increased violence.

After all, it is vital and important that the dignity of a Councilman should be distinguished in some way.

Personally, I feel that they should wear a uniform with a peacock feather fan. I don't know—right off the reel—just what this uniform should be like. But I do feel the strongest possible conviction that it should be buttoned down the back.

HIGH-TONED SPINES

Miss Mae Murray — who seems to spend her vacations in the courts — has done much to illuminate the problems of a bewildered world.

For one thing, she has shown that antiques are not to be judged under the intoxication of a pipe organ.

And now her lawsuit against her ex-masseuse . . . It is demonstrated that it is a waste of intellectual effort to study medicine, art or the learned professions when you can get $200 per week for punching a lady's spinal column.

But imagine the shining ecstasy of having a spine so illustrious?

"CONFESSION GUS"

"Confessing Gus" is symptomatic of a new police problem.

In olden days the police used to fasten folks on a rack and pull them apart to induce them to confess. But now every crime is followed by a stampede of ground and lofty confessers.

That these confessers never have any fear of paying the penalty indicates either a supreme confidence in the law—or a supreme contempt for it. I am not sure which.

HER WEDDING DAY

The most remarkable local event that has happened is the sixtieth wedding anniversary of a couple in San Fernando. For the first time in the known history of the world, the wife managed to get through the day without telling the reporters her recipe for happy married life.

N. B.: If they were really sincere, the recipe given by most of them would be "Plenty of fights."

MONOCLES

The movies of Baron von Huenefeld, who gambled his life and his fortune on the Bremen flight, show him as a fastidious, dressy young person with a monocle screwed into his right eye.

Jokes about one-barreled eyeglasses have always been fastened on the English. But in reality it was the Prussian army officers who adored them.

There was a well-encouraging reason for this half-insolent sangfroid. A German officer was always taught that he was the visible symbol of the empire.

He never allowed himself to appear to be tired or worn, or otherwise than magnificently poised—because empires do not get that way.

THE FAMINE

The terrible famine in China has a bearing on the reforestation campaign in California. The primary reason for these periodic famines is that the Chinese skinned their watersheds of trees—just as we are doing.

so that the parade will be over before the dedication," Brig.-Gen. Walter P. Story, grand marshal, said.

Mayor Cryer, members of the City Council, the directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other officials will head the procession.

The motion-picture division will be headed by Cecil B. De Mille and will be one of the parade features. Nearly every motion-picture studio in Southern California will take part. The division will include individual film stars, odd vehicles and floats, decorated automobiles, troops of cowboys, and a number of surprises which are being kept secret by those in charge.

THOUSANDS TO MARCH

Nearly 5000 marchers are expected in the military units alone and there will be thousands in the civil division. The city's department of water and power alone will have 1200 men in the long line, and nearly as many will march in the fire department unit. The Salvation Army will be represented by 175 members and the Red Cross by 300 nurses, all in uniform.

Immediately following the parade at 12:30 p.m. a dedication luncheon, honoring visiting California mayors and municipal executives, Los Angeles city officials and prominent Southern Californians, citizens will be given at the Biltmore. Admission will be by card only and President Thomas Fiske Pierce of the Optimist Club, chairman of the luncheon committee, announced last night that all reservations have been taken and that some 500 persons will attend.

MAYOR TO RECEIVE

At 2:30 p.m. Mayor and Mrs. Cryer will receive the California mayors and visiting city executives in the official reception hall on the twenty-fifth floor of the new building. During this reception visiting bands will give concerts in front of the building.

A chorus of 500 voices singing "The Star Spangled Banner" will open the formal dedication ceremony, under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer, and as the notes of the national anthem sweep over the vast multitude the Stars and Stripes will be slowly moved to the top of the City Hall flagpole.

The keys to the City Hall then will be presented to Mayor Cryer by President Arthur Eldridge of the city Board of Public Works, and the Mayor then will make the dedication address. Mayor Rolph of San Francisco will respond for the mayors of other California cities.

BANDS WILL PLAY

At the conclusion of the dedication ceremonies, visiting bands will give concerts in front of the City Hall, starting at 4 p.m. and concluding at 7 p.m., just before the start of the program dedicating the Lindbergh beacon.

The beacon ceremony will be directed by President Eastman of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, which donated the revolving light, following a suggestion made at the time of the Lindbergh visit to Los Angeles on his return from his trans-Atlantic flight, by George Watson, a photographer of The Times. Judge Leonard Wilson will introduce the Chamber of Commerce leader, who will read a message from President Coolidge.

The City Hall will be illuminated and thrown open for public inspection at the close of the beacon ceremony and the inspection period will continue through tomorrow and Saturday and Saturday night.

PAGEANT SATURDAY

The three-day dedication program will close Saturday night with a brilliant parade and pageant depicting the romantic history of California, under the supervision of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West. The pageant, "The Passing of the Flags," will be presented on a large stage in front of the City Hall.

Delegations of city officials from northern points began arriving yesterday afternoon and last night, while early this morning automobile caravans are on the highways timed to reach the city in time for the parade. A delegation of Oakland city officials, headed by Mayor Davies, arrived yesterday at 7:45 p.m. on the Daylight Limited. They were met at the station by the reception committee and escorted to their headquarters at the Biltmore. The Oakland officials will spend several days here.

A battalion of cadets from the San Diego Army and Navy Academy, accompanied by a staff of ranking officers, arrived yesterday at 5 p.m. Headquarters for the cadets, who will march in the parade, was established at Hotel Stowell by Col. Thomas A. Davis, and last night the battalion members were the guests of the commanding officer at the Biltmore Theater. The band will play a short program this afternoon and the cadets will return home at 7 p.m.

BROADCAST TO FARES

The broadcast of the speeches and music at the dedication ceremony will be heard in ten parks and playgrounds, through arrangements made yesterday. The parks where all the portions of the program transmitted through the air may be heard are: Westlake, Echo, Lincoln, Exposition, Sycamore Grove, South Park and Brookside Park in Pasadena, City Park in Compton, Hermosa Beach and the city playgrounds at Venice.

There will be no meeting of the City Council today, and all public improvement hearings set for this morning have been postponed until tomorrow, when visitors will be permitted to inspect the building as well as see the city rulers at their legislative duties.

A holiday today was declared for all employees of the Harbor Department, by a resolution passed yesterday by the Harbor Commissioners. Only a sufficient number of employees required for harbor maintenance work, which cannot be delayed, will remain on duty, while all others will participate in the parade and program.

TREASURY OPEN IN MORNING

The City Treasury will be open today from 8 a.m. to 11 a.m., City Treasurer announced yesterday, and persons having business with that department are requested to use the Main-street entrance.

Supreme Court Justice Shenk of San Francisco, yesterday expressed his regrets at being unable to attend the dedication in a letter to Mayor Cryer. In his letter Justice Shenk said:

"Permit me to join with you most heartily in the great civic accomplishment of a beautiful new City Hall. When we were co-laborers in the city's service we certainly felt the need of an adequate municipal stephouse. Our hopes have at last been realized. I regret my necessary absence from the celebration Tuesday."

Mayor Cryer was assistant city attorney under Justice Shenk.

Mayor Eberhart of Mill Valley, sent his regrets, but tendered congratulations on the new City Hall.

WOMEN TAKE PART

Los Angeles club women and other women prominent in the affairs of the city have arranged an extensive program of entertainment for the thousands of women from over the entire State who will attend the three-day dedication celebration. Today, tomorrow and Saturday a number of these women will act as assistant hostesses in the official reception room in the City Hall tower. Mrs. Lavina Thomas is chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. Mabel V. Socha, hostess chairman; Miss Mary E. Smith, and others. Miss Mary Workman is in charge of automobiles and transportation for the visitors.

Local club women have arranged the following entertainment program for out-of-tow nvisitors:

The Ebell Club, today from 2 to 4 p.m. with a tea; the Friday Morning Club, tomorrow from 2 to 4 p.m.; the Catholic Woman's Club, Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; the W.C.T.U., all day tomorrow and Saturday; the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs, tomorrow; the Council of Jewish Women; the Hollywood Women's Club, the Studio Club, tomorrow from 2 to 5 p.m.; the Philanthropic and Civics Club, tomorrow and Saturday; the League of Women Voters, tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., and the Y.W.C.A. tea and music every day from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. each day at Temperance Temple.

FLYER SIGHTS FIRE FROM AIR

Aviator Lands, Sounds Alarm and Brush Blaze Soon Extinguished

Paul E. Richter, Jr., vice-president of the Aero Corporation of California, discovered a blaze while flying over the city yesterday. He quickly landed, turned in an alarm and the fire speedily was gotten under control.

Ignited probably by a cigarette or match, firemen believe, brush in a vacant space at Manchester and Western avenues burned briskly and might have started a serious conflagration if it had not been noted by the flyer.

CELESTIAL BEAUTIES WILL RIDE ON FLOAT

Chinatown's promised participation in the dedication ceremonies today of Los Angeles' new City Hall was given added interest when pretty little Bo Ling, Chinese actress, was named Queen of Chinatown and assigned to ride upon the oriental float to be in the line of march.

With Queen Bo Ling will be her twin sister, Bo Ching, who will be chief maid of honor. There will be five other Chinese beauties aboard the float and six others will ride in attendance on horseback.

The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Park, 621 South Hope street. The father is official interpreter for Both girls were born in Hawaii, where they also attended school until two years ago, when they came here.

Chinatown's float is sponsored by the Chinese Benevolent Association, known also as the Chinese Six Companies, with headquarters at 427½ North Los Angeles street. The 15-year-old Chinese girl was appointed as queen after a popular vote in Chinatown.

CITY MOVES TO SAVE BEACHES

quiring all the beach lands which legally belong to it.

PRIVATE PERMITS

Private parties constructing the groins and jetties opposite their land in Venice, did so under permits issued by the United States War Department, it is stated. But a recent statement from the United States district engineer holds that these permits do not convey property rights or franchise, and that the permit is merely that the groins or jetties do not interfere with navigable waters.

"Accretions resulting from artificial works clearly belong to the State, or a municipality where it holds the tidelands in trust," according to the United States engineer's statement, "and the State or municipality is expected to guard its own interests."

ARMY BOARD MAY GOVERN BEACH LAND

City Attorney Stephens yesterday advised the City Council that it has the power to confer jurisdiction over the city-owned water-front lands and beaches to any board of the city government. This report was made as part of the Council's efforts to protect the city's water front and beaches from oil-well drilling and operations and from pollution by oil.

The City Attorney informed the Council that the city charter gives the Council ample authority to protect the beaches and he suggested that an ordinance be adopted definitely giving this authority over city-owned beaches to the department of playgrounds and recreation.

Control over barges, fishing boats and other boats anchored off the beaches and within the limits of Los Angeles is to be granted to the city Board of Harbor Commissioners under an ordinance which was sent to the City Council yesterday by City Attorney Stephens. The ordinance was sent to the Council's Harbor Committee for consideration.

VETERANS URGE FITTS MAKE RACE

Lieutenant-Governor for District Attorney Choice of Soldier Element

Lieut.-Gov. Fitts was asked yesterday by a committee of Unit No. 107, United Veterans of the Republic, as "a public and patriotic duty," to be a candidate for District Attorney. This was a result of action Tuesday night of the organization in the adoption of a resolution which read:

"Los Angeles Unit No. 107, United Veterans of the Republic, unanimously urges you as a public and patriotic duty to be a candidate for District Attorney and a committee awaits the opportunity of presenting to you personally the sentiment and unanimous support of veterans."

The Lieutenant-Governor was called to Sacramento on business and was unable to meet the entire committee. The message from the veterans, however, was delivered before his departure by two members of the committee. Fitts promised a definite answer to the veterans' demand within the next two or three days.

Veteran circles have been hopeful for some time that Mr. Fitts would give in to the widespread demand that he be a candidate for the District Attorneyship. When it became known that Fitts had been asked by one veteran organization to make the race many indicated they would await his formal announcement. They stated, however, that should he decide favorably veterans of all wars and in all walks of life would support his candidacy almost unanimously.

are remarkable fellows," he was saying presently. "One wanted me to talk about birth control. Upon my word, I don't know a thing about it. But he did—drew me diagrams and made it very clear. I always learn something when I am interviewed. Another young man was most anxious for me to talk about companionate marriage. I really couldn't, you know. Another tried to involve me in a spiritualistic life-after-death discussion. I'm afraid I'm materialistic—get worse as I grow older. Do you suppose," he added confidentially, "I shall have any chance to do inside a Hollywood dining place?

"My medical friends want to take me with them to see their epileptic cases or the hospitals or the museums where they have the ancient bones," and he sighed a little wistfully. "Being in Hollywood, you know, I thought perhaps . . .

"Not looking for any brain-surgery business, are you?" we asked anxiously.

"No, no; oh, no, indeed. Now if I could see Chaplin's place and how he works . . ."

Do you know, I believe the man finds his fellow-physician-neurologists a bit stodgy, in the intervals between epilepsy.

LOOKOUT BIDS REJECTED

All bids for the construction of a lookout station on top of municipal warehouse No. 1 at the outer harbor were canceled by the harbor board yesterday on recommendation of the harbor engineer and general manager that they are too high. New bids are to be advertised for and received by May 9.

Phil Ainsworth's Sentence Held Up

Passing of sentence on Phil Ainsworth, former husband of the late Barbara La Marr, who was convicted of forgery, yesterday was continued by Judge Burnell to Monday when counsel for Ainsworth interposed a motion for a new trial.

Ainsworth is asserted to have forged an indorsement to a check for $25. It required but ten minutes for the jury to return a verdict of guilty.

Under the verdict Ainsworth faces a penitentiary term of from one to fourteen years.

STREET OPENING ASKED

The La Cienega Boulevard Improvement Association yesterday asked the Council to appropriate $12,500 toward securing the dedication for street purposes of the only block remaining to make Cienega Boulevard a through street from Santa Monica Boulevard to Washington street. The unopened block is between Beverly Boulevard and Third street.

SISTERS OFFER NO FORGERY DEFENSE

FILM EXTRAS ORDERED HELD FOR TRIAL ON FIVE CHARGES

Offering no defense at their preliminary hearing, Dollie Larkin, 22 years of age, and her sister, Renee, 22, motion-picture extras, were held for trial yesterday by Municipal Judge Stafford on four counts of forgery and one of conspiracy to commit forgery.

The checks, ranging in denominations from $10 to $18, were passed on local drug stores, according to testimony adduced by Dept. Dist.-Atty. Thomas. Names of the following were forged to the checks, it was testified: B. F. Jochim, 447 Canon Drive, Beverly Hills; W. A. Shirek, 434 Canon Drive, Beverly Hills, Ted Wilson and John L. Smith.

Pending trial in the Superior Court, the sisters are being held in the County Jail, unable to raise bail of $1000 each.

THREE SET FREE IN JULIAN CASE

Ruling Result of Lewis's Motion

Ordered to Let Trio Take Stand

Court Adjourns for Week as End Nears

Superior Judge Doran yesterday granted the indictments against [illegible] Campbell, Charles E. Reese and Louis Berman in a surprise move that dropped like a bombshell and caused consternation for [illegible] defendants in the ranks of the [illegible] defendants charged with overselling spurious Julian Petroleum Corporation stock.

The ruling came as a result of a motion made Wednesday a week ago by E. C. Lewis, indicted Julian official, who declared he wanted Lewis as defense witnesses, and which was concurred in by all [illegible] attorneys.

Yesterday, without warning, Judge Doran asked Lewis whether he desired those men as witnesses. Lewis was obviously bewildered and requested a reply to [illegible] that he did. Without [illegible] Judge Doran dismissed [illegible] and ordered him to the [illegible] stand.

JUST ONE QUESTION

[illegible] surprised for the sudden [illegible] asked Campbell four [illegible] performance questions and [illegible] he was through [illegible] answer but one question, [illegible] Lewis, had ever ordered [illegible] place his stamp signature [illegible] new stock certificate [illegible] his old certificate had been [illegible] and canceled. Campbell had not.

[illegible] based his ruling upon [illegible] of the State Penal [illegible] question that when two [illegible] are included on the [illegible] and the court is of [illegible] that in regard to a [illegible] defendant there is not [illegible] to put him on his [illegible] I must order him dismissed [illegible] the evidence is [illegible] he may be a witness for [illegible]

[illegible] dismissal of Berman and [illegible] of all three [illegible] was ordered by the court [illegible]

[illegible] was called to the stand [illegible] to refute the asserted misstatement on the stock books of [illegible] & Co., which occurred [illegible] the Julian company's [illegible] Berman reiterated previous [illegible] that the books were [illegible] after entries had been [illegible] in other journals and [illegible] were to be used in an [illegible] way than by William [illegible], one of the defendants.

MOTION DENIED

[illegible] made later in the afternoon [illegible] the indictment [illegible] H. Rosenberg, Jacob Berman, brother of Louis; William G. Kottemann [illegible] L. L. Rouse, former vice-president of Wigg & Co., and son of Charles E. Reese, was denied by the court.

Only one more witness will be heard when court reconvenes next Wednesday morning, and immediately afterward arguments to the jury will begin.

Yesterday all remaining seven defendants rested excepting I. L. Rouse, banker, whose attorney, Le Compte Davis, announced that he would call Charles E. Reese as a witness, but said he will not use him for more than fifteen minutes.

Court adjourned for a week to allow all attorneys in the case to prepare their arguments and instructions, which are to be handed to the court next Wednesday morning. At that time a decision will be rendered by Judge Doran on the length of time to be allotted each attorney. Yesterday it was indicated that all but two will want nearly a day, which will probably put the case into the hands of the jury the latter part of the following week.

C. C. Streeter, broker, who was called as a witness for Lewis appeared yesterday morning and testified that he had dealings with the stock-transfer clerks and others in the Julian company.

He declared his dealings with these men was in currency while he used checks in deals with other brokers.

The acquittal of the three defendants dismissed yesterday has been forecast since the trial started if their cases were not dismissed by the court. A motion to dismiss charges against Reese and Louis Berman was also made several weeks ago by Dist.-Atty. Keyes but was refused at that time by the court. Since, however, there has been no evidence introduced against them, the court held.

Reese was represented by Roland Swaffield of Long Beach; Campbell by William Neblett, and Berman by John F. Murphy.

The remaining defendants are E. H. Rosenberg, Jacob Berman, brother of Louis; William G. Kottemann, I. L. Rouse, T. P. Conroy, R. M. Reese and S. C. Lewis.

THREE MINUTES COSTS HIS JOB

Lineman Discharged for Disobeying Order Asks Reinstatement

A problem faces the city civil service commissioners in the case of Archie J. Fitzhugh, lineman in the water and power department. He was discharged by Foreman Richardson for disobeying orders.

Fitzhugh, according to Richardson, was ordered to go up a pole in his duties as a lineman, but refused to comply because it was three minutes to noon.

Commissioner Kenyon was delegated to investigate the case, but as he was not present at yesterday's meeting the disposition of Fitzhugh's plea for reinstatement went over one week.

[illegible] Hugh of San Francisco, [illegible] State Commissioners Dehon, Hirn and McQuire. [illegible] of the Board of Public [illegible] no high hat. Will wear [illegible] dress. The four members of the Board of [illegible] have argued far hours [illegible] Hardigg, but he has [illegible] firm against the high-hat. [illegible] four members of the [illegible] planning to have some [illegible] who will turn in their automobile formally dressed to impersonate the fifth member of the board.

City Councilmen Martin, Ingram and Hughes in high hats, etc. Public announcement of the bravery of the three was made yesterday from the floor of the Council by Councilman Martin. They are urging the others to join them in dress-up week, but the rest so far are firm, although Councilman Webster, who has worn and can wear a tall silk hat with distinction and honor to himself, is weakening when this dispatch was written from the battle front.

Police Commissioners Webster, Thorpe, Insley, Gilmore and Schweitzer will wear high hats, etc.

The high hatters and their antagonists were active all day today trying to win converts to their sides, so there may be many high hats in today's parade. Citizens who have heard of the controversy are telephoning the high-hat Councilmen to stand firm for the formal dress, most of these pleas coming from women.

MARKED DOWN

The chemist says that the constituents of the average man can be bought in a drug store for 98 cents. What has become of the $1 men we had during the war?

INDOOR SPORTS

Another bit of research shows that with 92 per cent of the high-school girls dancing is the favorite amusement, while only 3 per cent of the boys feel the same way. Think of the gallantry of the 80-odd per cent of the lads who sacrifice their time and inclination that the girls may indulge their pet diversion.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Los Angeles county, with 39 per cent of California's registered voters, has but 18 per cent of California's Congressmen. Some day the politicians who, by refusing reapportionment, are cheating vast numbers out of the political rights supposed to be guaranteed them by the Constitution, will be wondering what happened to them and why.

THE GERMAN DIET

The rule in Germany in training athletes is to give them a mixed diet. They have meat, vegetables and fruits at every meal. They eat rather often, but never a heavy meal. Any or all of the things that are considered good for the human body may be indulged.

Peas appear to be more highly commended than other vegetables although most of them are approved. It is no great hardship to be on the training table in Germany.

MANY FLYERS

After all California appears to lead the country in aviation. Nearly 25 per cent of the country's air mail is handled here. There are now in this State 456 planes that have been regularly licensed by the Department of Commerce. New York is second with but 268. Illinois comes next with 215, and Texas fourth with 204. Dozens of different designs in planes are now manufactured in California and this section seems destined to be a world center for flyers. Looks as if we would quickly need all the airports we have in mind.

PERFECT SCORES

Gunners on the New Mexico and other of Uncle Sam's fighting ships have been proving their service in Pacific waters by indicating the finest marksmanship that the world has ever known. What the experts call a theoretically perfect score has been beaten many times. If war were a golf game these gunners would be making eagles at every hole. When a marksman can take a squint at a book of mathematics and then point a gun into the sky so that the charge breaks a slate behind a hill twenty miles away it may be called good shooting.

THE BOND BUYERS

According to the financiers most of the baby bonds have grown up. In the days of the war thousands of investors began their thrift adventure by the purchase of a $50 or $100 Liberty Bond and for several seasons many corporations encouraged small investors by issuing bonds in small denominations. But now the investors ask for bonds in larger figures. Securities in the denomination of $1000 seem to be the favorite and lots of men and women who began their savings with a $100 Liberty Bond may now be calling for the $1000 obligation of some railroad or utility corporation.

LITERARY TOURNEY

Never can tell where the passion for contest will break out. Now the colleges threaten to indulge in intellectual sparring. A team of ten mental giants from Yale is being lined up to meet a like group of the Harvard intelligentsia. It is to be a literary and classical tournament for points. They are going to see how far the Greek hexameter can be thrown. What they will do to Homer and Hesiod will be a fright. It will be a fine thing when a student can earn a sweater or a letter by juggling roots. The lads who detest the brutalities of the gridiron may find recompense in Victorian poesy.

HOOVER'S FIRST TEST

Herbert Hoover's first real test of strength came Tuesday in the Ohio primaries and resulted in a victory as impressive as it would have been, a few months ago, unexpected. When Hoover entered the Ohio race against the advice of many of his friends, it was considered certain that the Ohio Republican organization, headed by Senator Willis, would be able to hold that pivotal State against any candidate who might be brought forward with the exception of President Coolidge himself. It was feared by the more timid among the advisers of the Secretary of Commerce that a defeat in Ohio would impair Hoover's chances and that it was better to let the State go by default than to make a fight and lose.

Hoover, however, is not that kind of a candidate. He declared at once that if there was no genuine popular demand for his nomination the fact should be demonstrated in time to let him step out gracefully, and that he would make a contest in Ohio and abide by the result.

The death of Senator Willis was a handicap, not an aid, to the Hoover ticket. In the first place, those opposing the Secretary in that State were not rallying to Willis because in fact they favored him as a candidate; by their support of the Senator they meant support of Dawes or Lowden or some dark horse upon whom the politicians could agree at the convention. In the second, Senator Willis's passing under such dramatic circumstances created sympathy for the cause he was considered as representing and doubtless influenced many votes. In the third place, it induced many of those favoring Hoover to believe he had a walkaway and so to stay away from the polls. The vote was much lighter, therefore, than it would have been with Senator Willis living to champion his own list of delegates. Yet with all these influences working against him, Hoover emerges from the contest with all the State's delegates at large and sufficient of the district delegates to give him a clear majority—the count, it appears, will stand about 31 to 20.

His popular majority was even more impressive, since the vote for him was very nearly three to one. In the cities the Hoover vote was in the ratio of about six to one, support of Lowden in the rural sections accounting for the difference.

This real and substantial victory in a fight made against odds is expected to have its influence in Indiana. The Hoosiers and Buckeyes differ in several respects, but politically they are pretty much of a piece, and the same current of thought that sways one State usually sways the other. In Indiana Hoover is pitted against Senator Watson as a "favorite son" and the power of the Watson organization, and defeat there would be no disgrace, while victory would overwhelm the opposition and cause practically all the unattached delegates everywhere to swarm to the Hoover bandwagon.

The result in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Oklahoma and other States which made their choices Tuesday did not mean so much. In Massachusetts Hoover's name was written in on the ballot by more than 70,000 voters, more than 90 per cent of those who indicated a preference choosing the Secretary of Commerce. No candidates' names appeared on the Massachusetts ballot, but a blank space was provided in which the elector could make known his choice if he wished. Massachusetts had been conceded to Hoover and there was no real contest at the primary, but the State apparently stands nearly ten to one for him. The Pennsylvania delegation is uninstructed, but many of the delegates chosen are known to favor Hoover. In Michigan two more Hoover delegates were chosen. Oklahoma, in a State convention, gave its delegates a choice between Curtis and Lowden. This also was expected.

A summary of the results indicates that James W. Good of the Hoover committee in Washington had some justification for his sweeping declaration that "Nothing now can stop the nomination of Herbert Hoover."

"The Ohio and Massachusetts primaries," said Mr. Good, "have given the rank and file of the Republicans the first real opportunity to express their choice. They have done so in no uncertain terms. What the Republicans of Ohio and Massachusetts have said, the Republicans of the nation feel."

As an incident of the Ohio result, Senator Simeon D. Fess, who had been suggested as temporary chairman of the Kansas City convention, was defeated. This probably means that some one else will be elected to deliver the keynote speech at that gathering.

MARINES IN NICARAGUA

Those who express surprise that men of an organization which so covered itself with glory at Belleau Wood should be unable to overcome, after months of effort, a bandit with a mere handful of followers, have little understanding of the very difficult military problem faced by the United States Marine Corps in Nicaragua. They are operating in a little-known country, never adequately mapped or surveyed, with no roads but jungle trails, and though they have what would be decisively superior equipment for ordinary warfare, it is of little use under the peculiar conditions of this struggle.

The campaign is comparable in some respects to the memorable one which Gen. Braddock attempted to conduct against the Indians near Pittsburgh and that they have not met with disaster as Braddock did is a high tribute to the officers and men of the marines. The principal handicap they suffer from is that they are bound to observe the rules of civilized warfare and that Sandino is not. He and his men can live off the country, getting their supplies by plunder and pillage. Sandino has and needs no definite objective; he is not trying to give battle to the marines, he is trying to elude them; and as he is in familiar country and traveling light, he has been able, so far, not only to do so, but to score what are for him some conspicuous successes, including his latest of a descent upon a band of unarmed and unsuspecting mine workers and the kidnaping of four Americans and a Briton.

The marines could score an equivalent success daily, without half trying. Unlike Sandino, they cannot shoot just anybody they see, and the Sandinistas being without uniforms, it is not always easy to distinguish them from members of the peaceful population. The marine campaign has not been aided, either, by the sniping from behind such as has been in progress in the Senate at Washington.

Once again it should be emphasized that the marines are in Nicaragua at the express invitation of the constituted government and with the approval of the majority of the inhabitants, including the real leaders of the Liberal party. They are entitled to sympathy and support from every genuine American.

A RACE WITH DEATH

On the wings of the wind, in storm and snow and sleet, through uncharted air lanes of low visibility, holding his own life a pawn where the cry for help came from the bedside of a brother aviator, Col. Lindbergh has again justified the faith and affection reposed in him by the American nation and the civilized world. His heroic dash from New York to Quebec adds another stanza to the epic of the skies, perhaps even more appealing than his many other feats of peace and good will, because into it is written the unhesitating response of strength and courage to the cry for help.

The world's first aviator lost the race with death. Whether the serums he carried were the ones the case required, whether the mission of mercy would have been hopeless to stay the hand of the grim reaper had all of medical science been carried northward in his rushing 'plane, enters not into the question. "Theirs not to reason why, theirs but to do or die" is the only command acknowledged by the true soldiers of humanity, among whom the young aviator of the air-mail service has earned and won a marshal's baton.

Col. Lindbergh could not save a life already required by a power no human effort can control. But he did all that mortal man can do, not knowing when he started whether it was his own fate or that of the stricken aviator in the Quebec hospital of which the morrow would tell the tale, or whether the finis would be told with smiles or tears. And it is safe to say that in the climax the death of the intrepid young flyer, Floyd Bennett, overshadowed all thought of triumph in having conquered the fierceness of the elements in another epochal flight.

A poignant note is added to the last chapter of him who lost because he, also, was engaged on an errand of relief to other aviators still farther north when double pneumonia struck him down in the prime of strength and youth. Floyd Bennett, since he flew over the North Pole with Commander Byrd, had been, like Lindbergh himself, a promising figure in the coming records of man's conquest of the air. His name, too, is enrolled in the honor list of those who place the advancement of the race above the quest for personal glory.

Truly the new science of aviation is breeding a spirit of heroism and chivalry to confound the romanticists of the days when knighthood was in flower.

THE MERRY GO ROUND

The Senators investigate; the government prosecutes, and the jury acquits. The people pay.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
By Lee Shippey

IF TODAY'S colyum is a bit wobbly and breathless it's because we're just emerging from a storm of letters about Los Feliz Boulevard.

We'd never dreamed there were so many students of Spanish and history here.

The Spanish students have assured us the name should be Los Felices, to be good Spanish, and have proved it.

But the history students also have proved the name is quite right as it is.

Like lots of arguers, both sides are correct.

Los Felis

The Public Library, always our refuge in time of storm, has made it all clear to us. When this was a Mexican town Juan Antonio Felis owned a noble hacienda which was known as Rancho de los Felis, just as one might say the home of the Smith family, and in a case like that the ordinary rule governing plurals does not apply.

In 1871 "Rancho Los Feliz" was patented to Maria Ignacio Verdugo de Feliz. It then contained 6547 acres, one boundary of which was the middle of the stream of the Los Angeles River. The old Felis adobe, we are told, stood in what now is Griffith Park, where parts of it still may be seen. No doubt it was the trail to Los Felis which has grown into the boulevard of the ought-to-be-happy.

Cure for Speeders

If some of them now dying young
Go straight to heaven, as they say,
St. Peter, traffic judge, each day
Must find himself compelled to say:
This is the third time you have sprung
That alibi and won a slap—
So now I'll take your wings away!

We'd Much Rather Tuttle

Sir: As a winter visitor from the East, I enjoy your column. But permit me to correct one item. That sign of Call & Tuttle, Tailors, was not in Philadelphia, but in Boston, where, I recall, it was suggested that the last name should be changed to Settle.—Andrew Jackson.

Do You Believe in Signs?

LS: Anent signs, Amend & Amend are attorneys in a downtown office building. And do Freese & Freese, real estate brokers, specialise in frozen assets?—L. D. Bayer.

Leeside: With so many advertising themselves as painless, shouldn't you award a medal for frankness to Dr. Payne, dentist, on South Vermont?—F. I. K.

Leeside: Since The Times goes all over the Pacific Slope, and by airplane, at that, a sign I saw in Portland, Or., may interest. It read: "Utter Bros., Dentists, Utterly Painless."—C. U. Later.

Yeah, but we'll bet some of their patients do some plain and fancy uttering, at that.

Morning After Thought

Lee: Yes, it's true. Abstinence makes the heart grow fonder.—Parke Rowe.

Astonishing

The most startling thing we heard yesterday was that the lawyers of Los Angeles are poor bill collectors—for themselves.

F. W. Donovan, a public accountant in the Subway Terminal Building, was telling us about it. "A lot of the very best lawyers," he said, "often get so absorbed in the legal side of a matter that they forget all about its business side. In one case recently, by checking the files against the books, I discovered that one firm had never put in any bills for several thousands of dollars' worth of services rendered. Other accountants tell me they often have had the same experience. Often a lawyer will sit up half the night to study into some matter, then hurry home to bed without making any charge for it, and be too busy next day to remember it. Lawyers generally recognise this as one of their worst business failings."

Thinking we might need a lawyer some time, we urged him to tell us who some of the most absent-minded lawyers are, but he wouldn't.

Our Semiannual Thought

Many a good egg is spoiled by getting too hard boiled.

GREAT PORT GROWTH

Figures recently compiled by the Los Angeles Harbor Department show tremendous gains in the value of the tonnage handled by our port, now one of the most important in the United States. Commerce passing through Los Angeles during March was valued at $83,978,045, the highest in the history of the port.

A satisfactory feature of the department's report is that relating to our foreign trade, which has been growing by leaps and bounds. Sixteen million dollars' worth of products shipped to or from foreign ports passed over the docks during March, exports exceeding imports by 100 per cent. Hawaiian trade continues its healthy upward tone, reflecting the benefits of the augmented service of the Los Angeles Steamship Company, which has increased its shipping facilities owing to the expansion of our trade with the islands.

Our best foreign customer is England, which expended $2,075,259 here during the month, while Canada's purchases were a little over $1,000,000. How Los Angeles is expanding its trade with the Orient and the Antipodes is seen by their looming into second place as buyers of our products, with purchases amounting to $1,772,245.

This record bespeaks a great future for the exportation of Southern California products, already in general use and consumption in nearly every part of the world.

THE OPTIMISTS

By James J. Montague

Along the edges of the stream
And o'er the hill beyond
Where rows of tiny whitecaps gleam
When catspaws sweep the pond,
And in the rivulets that sing
And murmur all day long
The little frogs are echoing
The robin's earliest song.

Before the sun is in the skies,
When night still lowers gray,
Their little shrilling voices rise
To hail the coming day.
And when the evening afterglow
Is mirrored in the rill
And deepening shadows come and go
They keep on singing still.

The night may fall, but now and then
I waken from my sleep
And hear, from yonder mossy glen
A thin and drowsy "cheep,"
And know that somewhere in a bog
Beneath the moon's white beams
Some happy-hearted little frog
Is singing in his dreams.

He has no dark foreboding fear
Of grief or stress or storm.
Enough for him that spring is here
And days are bright and warm.
And though I'm sure I shouldn't sing,
How grateful I should be
If only a returning spring
Could mean so much to me!

Harbor Charges

WILMINGTON, April 23.—[To the Editor of the Times:] The question of increasing port charges is not raised by the people of Los Angeles, who all realize that they are building a harbor.

The rates from Chicago and St. Louis to Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles Harbor are the same. If the port charges are even a little higher at Los Angeles Harbor than at other Pacific Coast ports, shipments will be handled via other ports. The same is true for cargoes coming from the Orient and bound for Chicago and St. Louis.

Los Angeles is building up a harbor and building up a harbor means more than wharves; it means business passing over the wharves. San Francisco has been building a harbor for seventy-five years. Barriers against commerce should not only not be erected, but port charges should, by all means, be lowered all possible in order to get business to build up the port.

If an Italian ship coming to the Pacific Coast can get its entire cargo at one port, it will be more economical for it to do so. The more ports a ship stops at, the more expensive for the ship. Pilotage charges, for example, into Los Angeles Harbor would be $75 and $75 out, with a berthage charge based on tonnage, averaging $36 to $37 per day. The ship's insurance rate is higher, as there is more danger of accidents the more ports it enters. Knocking over a piling, which occurs, and does not get into the newspapers, costs $100 a pile. Hence, the increased insurance rate.

If the amount of cargo offered is not large, it is difficult to induce the steamship company to add Los Angeles Harbor to its ports of call, anyway, without raising port charges. Viewed from all angles, the board of directors of this Chamber of Commerce is opposed to any increase in port charges, rather they should be made as low as possible in order to foster commerce.

WILMINGTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Artist Congratulated

LOS ANGELES, April 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to compliment the Los Angeles Times, as well as your sketch artist, Gale, upon the wonderful drawing which appeared in the issue of the Los Angeles Times on Friday morning, April 20, headed "Hurry Up With Those Heroes." Mr. Gale's inspiration was very keen, and I wish to show my appreciation at this time, as a representative of the California Staats-Zeitung, as very often readers of newspapers, while they are impressed with articles or sketches, fail to express themselves, so kindly extend my congratulations to Mr. Gale, your artist.

What Next?

SAN GABRIEL, April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Congratulations on the flying accomplishment!

Congratulations and thanks for the beautiful Pre-View!

CARLSBAD CAVERNS

BY RANSOME SUTTON

We can call these caverns ours, even though they lie in New Mexico. For President Coolidge's proclamation, setting aside the Carlsbad National Monument, makes them the property of the people. Few people realize, however, that these caverns, so accessible to cross-country travelers, are "the most extensive and spectacular caverns yet discovered in America, and perhaps in the world."

The quoted words are from a book by Vernon Bailey, biologist of the United States Biological Survey, which has just been issued by the Williams & Wilkins Company, Baltimore. The book tells the whole fascinating story of life in and around these caverns, ancient and modern, animal and human. Mammoth Cave, once regarded as one of the world's Seven Wonders, would be insignificant, a mere closet, in these vast caverns. There is one chamber in the Carlsbad Caverns 450 feet wide and 250 feet high, and there are caverns under caverns, overhead and all around, connected by so many miles of vaulted corridors that one can walk for days without reaching the end. The lowest chamber is 700 feet below the floor of the entrance chamber. It is difficult to describe the immensity and cathedral magnificance of this silent subterranean city of palaces—carved within the Guadalupe Mountains by the seeping waters laid down as ice during the Great Glaciation. The mountains here are hollow.

I once explored for the National Railways of Mexico another city of caverns, not far from Saltillo, which compare in grandeur with these. But to visit the Garcia Caverns in Mexico, one has to go into a foreign country and rough it, whereas one can go to Carlsbad by automobile or train, and the remaining eighteen miles of distance is covered by a fair dirt road, which will soon be improved into a speedway.

The Carlsbad Caverns used to be alive with bats. Although the bats have mostly vanished, their very valuable guano remains. At least some remains, despite the fact that more than 100,000 tons was removed from one big chamber, the "Bat-room," before the caverns were nationalized.

After the bats came the Indians, our own cave dwellers, who left their mortars and pestles, broken arrowheads, pieces of pottery, and some of their bones, buried in the guano beds at the back of the caves. These caverns contain the story of the Old Stone Age. Vernon Bailey had extracted the story a little at a time, then pieced the parts together, so we can visualize the whole—see the processions of birds, bats, bugs, beasts and people that have passed in and out of the caverns.

KINGDOM FOR A JUMPER

Richard III is reported to have cried on Bosworth Field, "A horse! a horse! my kingdom for a horse!" Richmond came along later with Richard's crown in his own baggage so it appears that Richard must have paid with the country whether he got a good horse or not. The modern flaming prince, he of Wales and the fox chases, already has his horse. English observers insist that Wales is a fearless horseman and also one of the best, and that he falls often because he rides hardest and takes the jumps the others all detour. He's a wiser man than his predecessor, Richard III, for he is, it seems, using a horse to secure his kingdom to himself.

LOS ANGELES CITY HALL

BY HARRY BOWLING

I

Out of the confines of the noisy street,
Into the quietude of space unspanned,
Men raised a tower on high, where two worlds meet,
In beauty molded and for service planned;
Oh, will it—while things change on every hand—
Immune to man's invincible unrest—
Solid and true from base to shining crest—
To symbolize in stone the Spirit of the West?

II

Castle, cathedral, workshop, all compact,
A rock of ages in the sands of youth,
Its stout feet clamped to earth with solid fact,
Its proud head free to heaven's eternal truth:
Oh, will it through the years stand true to both
The substance and the spirit? Nor replace
Its large conception with the spindling growth
Of meager minds bred from a smaller race—
But point the way that leads to higher spheres of grace?

III

Out of the slough of things not too well done,
Finding firm ground for better things to do;
Out of the crimson of the setting sun,
Into the dawn that starts the day anew;
Leaving old fields where weeds too rankly grew
To plant new gardens rich in flower and seed,
Till civic pride compels that higher view,
Never imagined by the lesser breed,
Only revealed to those who serve before they lead.

IV

Bronze doors alone do not protection give
Nor storied frescoes all of truth express;
Chiseled in granite ancient texts will live
Only if flesh and blood their power confess;
Steel structures braced to stand the strain and stress
Of years—tile floors and marble fair to see,
These may inclose a sepulchre, unless Beside the gates a guardian angel be
To roll away the stone and set the spirit free.

V

Oh, never may vainglory nor the boast
Of idle braggart desecrate this shrine!
They speak their city fair who love it most,
Who through the earthbound vision the divine;
So, from this tower we see hope's beacon shine
And faith imbedded in each massive wall;
Knowing this mortal must its task resign,
We dedicate today our City Hall
To Him alone who gives and guides and governs all.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Among the beautifully appointed affairs of yesterday was the luncheon given by Mrs. Gerald Gunnerson at her home, 1818 Victoria Drive, in honor of her daughter, Miss Ellen Gunnerson, the occasion also serving to announce formally Miss Gunnerson's betrothal to Selmon R. Pletz of Minneapolis.

The decorations were charmingly carried out in orchid and yellow, the floral centerpiece being of tulips and ferns and the place favors were corsages of spring flowers with the announcement cards hidden in the blossoms.

Those included were Mrs. Thomas Bunn, Mrs. John Francis Ohmer, Mrs. George Prindle, Mrs. Joseph Graner, Mrs. Harry Webb, Miss Elizabeth Myers, Miss Mary Wattles, Miss Margaret Wattles, Miss Marjorie Rankine and Miss Virginia Patten.

Miss Gunnerson is an alumna of Girls' Collegiate and also of the Chauinard School of Art. The wedding will be an event of June 29, and after the wedding trip Mr. Pletz will take his bride to Minneapolis to make their future home.

The ceremony will be read in the late afternoon in the gardens of the home of the bride's parents and Rev. Willsie Martin will officiate.

Miss Gunnerson was one of the bridal entourage at the recent wedding of her brother, John Marshall Gunnerson, and Miss Viola Vollmer.

Circus and Dance

Invitations are being issued by the cadets of Urban Military Academy for a society circus and dance to be given at the academy, Wilcox and Melrose avenues, tomorrow at 7:45 p.m.

Campus News

In an effort to make the most of their last few weeks of association on the college campus, graduating seniors at the University of Southern California are to hold their second "Senior Snap" this evening, at the Sigma Chi fraternity house, 948 West Thirty-sixth street. A series of these affairs are given each year during the spring semester and this year they are in charge of Miss Alda Mills, vice-president and social chairman of the graduating class. Tommy Bryant is in charge of the orchestra and Miss Ruth Loftus is in charge of the general arrangements, with the assistance of Miss Mildred Marts.

Beta Alpha Psi, national honorary accounting fraternity at the University of Southern California, announces the recent pledging of Bob Behlow, president of the junior class and chairman of the deputations committee; Paul Slater, business manager of the Wampus; Clifford W. Twombley, Claude Clark, and Prof. R. J. Burby, C.P.A. and formerly dean of accounting at Southwestern University.

Recent Initiation was held by Kappa Delta sorority at the University of Southern California for Miss Mollie Masher, Miss Ruth Ogden and Miss Auralie Tillman. The ceremony was performed at the chapter house, 2711 Ellendale Place, and was followed by a dinner in honor of the new members.

Attractive Affair

One of the most attractive affairs of the month was a beautifully appointed bridge-luncheon and bridal shower with which Mrs. Thomas R. Dempsey entertained at the Wilshire Country Club Saturday, honoring her charming niece, Miss Rosina Rupley, who will become the bride of Arthur Mackenzie of Glendale early in June. The bride is a graduate of La Salette Academy of Covington, Ky. Mrs. William Heidecker and her attractive young daughter, Miss Hilda, of Cincinnati, O., were also honor guests.

The table was beautifully decorated with large baskets of spring flowers. Tall orchid tapers were tied with tulle bows carrying out the pastel tints of the flowers. Dainty maids dressed in delicate colored tulle marked the places of the forty-two guests. At the bride-elect's place was a demure bride with a long white tulle veil.

Many lovely gifts of linen were presented in a pale blue hamper decorated with large bows of white tulle.

Mrs. Dempsey will leave about the middle of June with Mr. Dempsey and their two daughters for a summer in Europe.

Entertains Old Friends

Mrs. Esther Loeb entertained with a very charming luncheon party in her apartment at the Gaylord last Friday. All of the guests were born in Los Angeles and attended school together more than fifty years ago. The tables were attractively decorated in red roses and novelty place cards. The guests were Mrs. C. Cohen, Mrs. J. Levine, Mrs. E. Germain, Mrs. H. Baer, Mrs. B. Voorsanger, Mrs. S. Levingston, Mrs. J. Stern, Mrs. I. Spitz, Mrs. W. Hellman, Mrs. H. Levi, Mrs. I. Norton, Mrs. E. Winterfield, Mrs. I. Kauffman and Mrs. F. Lazarus.

New Address

Mrs. Mary C. Morgan of Albany, N. Y., former guest of the Ambassador and now making her home at the Arcady, Wilshire and Rampart, entertained a group of friends with an exquisitely appointed dinner Thursday evening.

Smart Affair

One of the smartest fashion revues of the season was held at the Hotel Arcady last Wednesday and was the first of a series of similar affairs to be given there. The second of these was given yesterday at noon in the main lounge, and a special luncheon was served in the dining-room during the revue.

APRIL BRIDE EXCHANGES VOWS

Reception Follows Church Wedding

Mrs. John H. Wents, Jr.

IN THE presence of a large gathering of intimate friends the wedding of Miss Lynette Faure and John H. Wents, Jr., took place Saturday afternoon in the Little Church of the Flowers, Glendale, with Rev. Dr. Douglas officiating. The bride, only daughter of Mr. Eleanor Stroud Faure of San Francisco, was gowned in rose-beige lace and wore a picture hat to match, a wrist corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley worn on her left forearm. Miss Genevieve Wents, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor in frock of light blue dotted chiffon with picture hat to match and carried a shower of Cecile Brunner rosebuds. Norman Rehme served Mr. Wents as best man. A wedding reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wents at 264 North Highland avenue followed the ceremony.

Modess

A Revelation of Comfort and Safety

THE new softness and protection of Modess, the absence of chafing and clumsiness are specially welcome to the active woman.

The superiorities which make Modess so much more acceptable than other sanitary napkins are the result of four years of research and invention in the Johnson & Johnson laboratories.

A way was found to soften the gauze and to cushion it with a film of cotton. The sides are smoothly rounded, doing away with hard, chafing edges. An entirely new substance was invented for the disposable filler, fluffy and downy as cotton but amazingly absorbent. The back is moisture-repellent.

You will be astonished and delighted that a napkin could be so noticeably better.

Embarrassment may be avoided by handing the Silent Purchase Coupon to the sales person.

Costs fifty cents for a box of 12.

Rest - for Tomorrow

FOLLOWING these days of hectic and almost heart-breaking struggle to attain your goal. When you are "dead tired" and feel as if you would drop in your tracks, nothing can take the place of restful sleep to prepare you for tomorrow. Nothing is more satisfying than to slip into a good bed . . . where the mattress gives soft, yielding support to your tired body.

Sanotuf is that kind of a mattress, and the little ventilating eyelets—126 of them—keep the filling material clean, fresh and airy.

Sanotuf mattresses will never get lumpy, because the flexible, hinged tabs on the inside keep the filling from shifting and insure uniform thickness.

These mattresses have a smart tailored appearance, and have no tufts to catch the dirt and dust. The many attractive ticking materials are reinforced and will not stretch. There are five grades to choose from, A, B, C, D and E. Look for the grade and specification labels when you buy.

3 EXCLUSIVE FEATURES

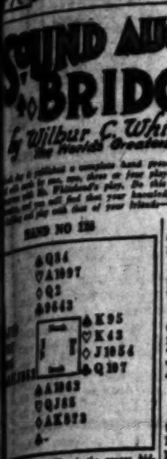
SOUND AUCTION BRIDGE

by Wilbur C. Whitehead

The World's Greatest Authority

Each hand is published a successive hand presented by Mr. Whitehead. These hands may be played with four players. Fill out a chart of your own and compare your score with Mr. Whitehead's plays. Do this each day and carefully read Mr. Whitehead's comments and you will find that your knowledge of the game will progress rapidly. Compare your score with that of your friends—the comparison may be illuminating.

HAND NO 128



Note to Duplicate Whist: Place in the proper bidding box.

Record the bids that each player should make, assuming that he does not see any of the other hands.

These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i.e., as though all four hands were exposed.

NOTE—In recording the Auction, or the play, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use "N.T." for No Trumps, "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your Bridge problems. Write to him care of this paper, inclosing self-addressed stamped envelope.

Yesterday's Hand as played by Mr. Whitehead

THE BIDDING

South Bids	West Bids	North Bids	East Bids
Pass	Pass	Pass	1S
Pass	1NT	Pass	2D
Pass	Pass	Pass

South to play 2 D. Played by East.

Salient Points of the Bidding

East, with his powerful two-suiter, opens the bidding Fourth Hand with one Spade, and follows with two Diamonds upon his partner's denial of Spades.

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2. With the Ace of Hearts and three trumps as re-entries in Dummy, Declarer plans to establish Dummy's Clubs.

Trick 11. South is squeezed. He must either bare his King of Spades or discard his Queen of Hearts and make Dummy's Jack good.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

FINISHED THINGS SHOULD HAVE A VALUE

Betty is 6 years of age and extremely clever with her hands. She is able to draw and paint and sews innumerable doll rags. Her mother is an extremely indulgent one. Anything Betty wishes to do is all right. When she rifles her mother's drawers and uses whatever she finds for her dolls, her mother just laughs. When she goes into a stranger's home and insists on opening the ice box and demands what she can have to eat, her mother thinks it cunning.

Betty has always been an inveterate seamstress. She can amuse herself cutting and sewing for hours at a time. When materials for this constant sewing are not forthcoming she has been allowed to cut up the doll's bed sheets or the doll's blanket, (to make a coat,) or even old handkerchiefs.

When it was pointed out to her mother that by so doing Betty would tend to lose all sense of the value of "finished" articles and feel that any use to which she wanted to put a thing was more important than its present use, her mother could not see it.

"If the doll coat is more important to her than the doll blanket, I think she should have the coat."

All of these chickens came home to roost with a particular bang the other day, when Betty took from the wall an ivory miniature of her mother and proceeded to paint it up to suit her own fancy with an indelible red pencil!

The mother could think of no punishment severe enough for this offense, but she has come to understand that while a whipping might prevent Betty from taking the miniature from the wall again, the real cause of the trouble was the attitude which Betty had toward finished things. A five-cent handkerchief has a value just because it is a handkerchief and not a scrap of unfinished material. Even if the mother argues that it only cost 5 cents in the beginning and may as well be sacrificed as some other piece of material, she makes a mistake when she allows the child to cut into it. The doll blanket was important because it represented a finished and useful article, and to be able to cut it to pieces minimized its value in the child's eyes. To you, the old book may be quite suitable for cutting up, but if the child makes a habit of cutting up books he may some day slash into one which is valuable to you. Never belittle the value of finished things whatever their cost.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Retain Their Flavor

Pour a half inch of olive oil on the top of the brine in the half-finished bottle of olives and then cork tightly. The olives will last indefinitely and still retain their flavor.

WILL LOOSEN THE DIET

Soak the very soiled curtains and blankets over night in a solution of cold water and a handful of borax. It will loosen the dirt wonderfully and warm soapsuds will soon remove the dirt entirely.

Bags for Bulbs

Start saving any stout brown paper bags that are brought into the house. They prove almost a necessity in the late summer, when bulbs have to be put away for another year's growing. The bulbs can be placed inside, a label pasted on the outside with their names thereon and the bags hung in the cellar until the following spring.

CELERY AND OLIVES

Cut one can, sliced, one can hearts, one-fourths of a cupful each of pineapple juice and orange juice, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt and heat to the boiling point; beat the yolks of two eggs very light, add gradually one tablespoonful of sugar, add to the mixture in the double boiler very slowly, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, add another tablespoonful of sugar, and combine with the first mixture just before removing from the fire.

RAISIN AND CITRON PIE

Place in a bowl one cupful of seeded raisins, one-half cupful of chopped citron peel, one cupful of sour cream, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of sugar; one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon, ginger and cloves, two eggs, well beaten, and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Mix altogether and bake in two crusts.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but forwards for recipes. All answers in this department. PRACTICAL RECIPES published every Tuesday.

Cut the peppers in half lengthwise, remove all the seeds and white fibers, immerse in boiling water and boil for five minutes. Plunge into cold water, when cool enough to handle, peel off the thin skin, cover with cold water and set in the ice box an hour to crisp. Mix the crab meat and potatoes, let stand a few minutes with the lemon juice sprinkled over them. Mix with the dressing, place in the pepper halves on individual plates, garnish each plate with shredded lettuce and a sprig of parsley.

GOLDEN SALAD DRESSING

In a double boiler mix one-fourth of a cupful each of pineapple juice and orange juice, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt and heat to the boiling point; beat the yolks of two eggs very light, add gradually one tablespoonful of sugar, add to the mixture in the double boiler very slowly, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, add another tablespoonful of sugar, and combine with the first mixture just before removing from the fire.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: W. M. F. writes: "I have a continuous feeling of nervousness and depression, also always have a red nose. What do you suggest?"

Answer: Overcome constipation and intestinal poisoning, as this is no doubt what makes you nervous and also causes the red nose. Take an enema each day until you learn enough about diet to correct your trouble. Send for my special article on the cause and cure of constipation.

Q.: Young Mother asks: "Do you recommend the use of raw milk instead of the pasteurized? I always thought the pasteurized milk best because it is claimed this process kills the germs. Besides, it is almost impossible to get raw milk in some localities."

A.: I consider good certified milk to be the best of all purposes except in localities where the laws are not strict and inspection rigidly enforced. Pasteurization does very little harm to the food value of milk, and many authorities claim that the epidemics from contaminated milk have been entirely stamped out wherever the law compels the pasteurization of milk.

Q.: Mrs. J. K. asks: "Please tell me what causes the arms to go to sleep and get numb at night? Is this because of high blood pressure?"

A.: If you know you have high blood pressure you have doubtless answered your own question, as this does cause the arms to become numb. Valvular leakage of the heart is also sometimes responsible for poor circulation and numbness in the arms.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

by Dr. Frank McCoy

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Times. Letters stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

COOKED AND RAW FOOD

The old-fashioned belief that one could live without "books" and without "cooks." But the number of people trying to live on uncooked food—"raw-foodism" claim to be in good health on vegetables, fruits, nuts, etc.—have been increasing of late. Some of the body's repair tissue must most people get from animal foods. Vegetarians claim that one can get enough protein from vegetables, cheese and eggs, but it is certainly true that the majority of vegetarians are not in the best of health. Cheese and eggs are certainly protein foods, but they are not complete foods. They do not provide enough of the vitamines, and they are deficient in mineral salts. Fruits and vegetables provide plenty of vitaly nourishing food, but has several drawbacks, which make it an impractical diet to use day after day, and year after year. It is necessary to use a large amount of food on this diet, as most of the vegetables and fruits used contain so much water and cellulose that the stomach must be filled to capacity in order to be sure of a sufficient amount of material which is tissue-building.

The herbivorous animals spend most of their waking moments engaged in the pleasant pastime of chewing, swallowing and digesting food. Modern man does not have the inclination or energy to use up so much time in order to get enough nourishment. The keen-minded man of today cannot give so much of his attention to food, but the dull, phlegmatic man, who is willing to be mostly a walking digestive organ, still exists.

Another good reason why a strict raw-food diet is not practical is that it is a most "unsocial" diet. If one persists in such a radical diet, he will invariably select the most are willing to dine with him.

Because he does not wish to seem "queer" the raw-fooder will eat his own restricted diet, and then to be sociable use some of his friends' tasty dishes. In place of deliberately choosing a good steak, he will invariably select the most unwholesome foods because of their pleasing taste. He is also very liable to fill up between meals on ice cream, candy and soft drinks. In fact, the candy stores would soon go out of business if it were not for the undernourished people who patronize them. These same people are usually overfed, but still starving for the right foods out of which they can secure the proper elements to build and repair their bodily tissues. Craving something else, their appetite tries to secure satisfaction by the use of sweets. This is particularly true of the earnest student of dietetics, who attempts to live on an exclusive uncooked diet. The craving for sweets always seems to be present, and is never satisfied.

The best plan is to use enough raw vegetables and fruit each day to supply the needed organic minerals, and to also use such cooked foods as the grains, and the valuable proteins, such as meat, fish, fowl, etc. These meals will be abundantly satisfying if cooked greens are also added.

Man may indeed live without cooks, but it is far better for him to use some foods each day in their natural state and supplement such foods with those which can be improved by the art of cookery.

"Undies" faded? TINTEX so easily restores the color

. . . . the very next time you launder your "undies," notice their color. Has their prettiness gone because the color has faded?

. . . . then sprinkle a little Tintex in a basin of water and "tint as you rinse" in the final rinsing water. Sounds simple doesn't it — and it is simple! Millions of women know that Tintex is easiest to use. And the results are always perfect — never a sign of a streak or spot.

. . . . these millions of women know, too, that Tintex is for every home-tinting and dyeing need. There is Tintex in the Gray Box for tinting and dyeing everything from sports-wear to curtains. And there is Tintex in the Blue Box for tinting lace-trimmed silks without coloring the lace. Ask your dealer to let you see the Tintex Color Card which shows the very colors in vogue for both your wardrobe and home-decorations.

—THE TINTEX GROUP—
Products for every Home-tinting and Dyeing Need

Tintex Gray Box—Tints and dyes all materials. Tintex Blue Box—For lace-trimmed silks—dyes the silk, lace remains white. Tintex Color Remover—Removes old color from any material so it can be dyed a new color. Tintex—A special blueing for restoring whiteness to yellowed silks and woolens.

ALLEN TO HEAD PORT BELT LINE

George F. Squires Named as General Manager

New Board of Control Meets for Organization

Other Executives Selected and Plans Mapped

President Walter B. Allen of the Harbor Commission was chosen chairman for a year of the board of control of the Los Angeles Harbor Belt Line Railway when that body held its first meeting and was organized in the Harbor Commissioners' quarters in the City Hall yesterday.

T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific Railway, was chosen vice-president and Harbor Commissioner J. A. Crawford was selected as secretary. J. G. Starr, secretary of the Harbor Commission, was chosen tentatively as executive secretary of the board. All the selections were unanimous.

The date of meetings was chosen for the first Tuesday of every month and the place will be the Harbor Commissioners' meeting room in the City Hall.

George F. Squires, assistant freight traffic manager of the Pacific Electric Company, was chosen general manager of the Belt Line Railway, the only paid position created under the agreement between the city and the railways. The amount of the pay has not been fixed. He was instructed to attend all meetings of the board of control.

TAKES OFFICE AT ONCE

Squires took office immediately and read the names of the railway representatives from the four railways to the board of operations of the belt line, to which he will report. They include F. L. Annable, general superintendent of the Pacific Electric; G. E. Gaylord, superintendent of the Los Angeles division of the Southern Pacific; J. R. Hitchcock, assistant general manager of the Santa Fe, and E. E. Cunningham, superintendent of the Los Angeles division of the Union Pacific.

The foregoing officials will have offices in the Pacific Electric Building, where General Manager Squires also will be located. They will meet twice a month.

The Harbor Commissioners yet have to appoint a representative of the city on the board of control, and this will be done within the next week, making five members on the board of control.

General Manager Squires announced that the first work, which has been assigned to him to handle is formal application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval of the plan of operation under the unification agreement.

PERSONNEL OF BOARD

The commission also is to be asked to authorize the pooling of the belt line revenues.

The commission also is to be queried if, under the Interstate Commerce Act, a certificate of public convenience and necessity is required, and if so, to grant it without a hearing as to this phase.

The application to the Interstate Commerce Commission has been signed and verified by the Harbor Department, the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad, and the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Company.

The personnel of the board of operations, present at the first meeting, included President W. G. Bonnelli of the City Council; W. K. Etter of the Santa Fe Line; President Walter B. Allen of the Harbor Commission; T. H. Williams of the Southern Pacific; Harbor Commissioner J. A. Crawford; D. W. Pontius of the Pacific Electric; F. H. Knickerbocker of the Union Pacific and Harbor Commissioner Emerson Spear.

SQUIRES MAN OF EXPERIENCE

Squires enjoys the distinction of being the first official of the kind in America. This is because the line is now under operation jointly by a municipality and the railroads.

He has been in railroad work since he was 15 years of age, when he started to work for the Los Angeles-Pacific Line operating to Santa Monica, then known as the Sherman & Clark line. He was promoted to station agent, telegraph operator, cashier and agent and then to the freight-train department of the Pacific Electric.

He was transferred to the passenger-train service in 1915. He became train dispatcher for the western division of the Pacific Electric. Subsequently he became traveling passenger inspector, conductor instructor, tariff compiler, chief clerk and traveling freight agent. In 1925 he was made assistant freight traffic manager, which position he relinquishes to become general manager of the Belt Line Railway.

UNIQUE CLUB COMPLETES THIRD YEAR

Women's Athletic Group Innovation Establishes Successful Record

The Women's Athletic Club, 833 South Flower street, the only organization of its kind in Southern California, yesterday completed the third year of its existence as a successful enterprise, as revealed in reports presented at the annual meeting held last evening.

Started in 1928 under the leadership of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette as president, the club has surmounted every obstacle in the path of its progress until today it is considered one of the outstanding women's clubs of the country, with a membership of approximately 2500.

The growth of the club, according to Mrs. Bertha M. Cable, manager, is indicated by the fact that the seventy sleeping rooms of the club have been occupied during the entire time and there always is a waiting list. There has been a marked increase in the general use of the club this year, she said, as well as a greater patronage of its various, specialized departments.

New members of the board of directors elected yesterday are Mrs. Mae Carvell, Mrs. H. H. Kerckhoff Miss Elisabeth Kenney, Mrs. Alice Lynch and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy.

CONDUIT APPROVED

The fire and police alarm division of the city building and safety department has been granted permission to lay an underground conduit under the railroad tracks at the foot of Twenty-second street, San Pedro, by the harbor board. The conduit is to serve the outer harbor.

SWEET GIRL JUST RUINED IN MARRIAGE

Madge Bellamy's Husband Relates Change Wrought; Actress Says Nothing

Marriage turned out to be the promptest of cures for love in the case of Madge Bellamy, screen actress, and Logan F. Metcalf, broker, according to the tale he told Judge Schauer yesterday.

MADGE BELLAMY

"She was the sweetest thing in the world while I was courting her," Metcalf related. "Fifty-fifty in everything, and I thought she would make an ideal wife. Then I married her.

"That was last January. At our first meal after the wedding she started being temperamental. She began to argue with me over what I should order, and made such a fuss that it was embarrassing. She called me names and was particularly difficult about appointments. She either wouldn't go with me at all or else she would be extremely late. This lasted just four days and we parted."

Judge Schauer granted Metcalf a divorce on charges of cruelty. Miss Bellamy was not in court.

Coast Market in East Grows

New England offers a market for California fruit and vegetables which although extensive still is developing, according to Nathan W. Hawkes, vice-president, and F. J. Mullaney, general freight agent, of the Boston and Maine Railroad, who arrived here yesterday. They are making an extensive tour of the State.

Conditions in New England are very good and there is perhaps lacking only some of the California brand of boosting, the officials declared. Manufacturing products in metropolitan Boston have increased more than $600,000,000 in value in the last ten years. There has been a gradual but steady improvement in business and the number of wage earners employed in Massachusetts is increasing. The Boston and Maine road has spent more than $1,000,000 in the construction of fruit houses and terminal facilities that California trade might be served properly.

SAN FERNANDO SEWER FUNDS DELAY ASKED

The Major Development Association yesterday petitioned the Council to appropriate funds for the extension of the present outfall sewer into the San Fernando Valley only when the complete main sewering of the valley section can be financed including trunk line sewers to serve the districts adjacent to the Chatsworth reservoir.

NANCY PAGE

Hollandaise Sauce is Best for Fresh Asparagus

By Florence La Ganke

Nathalie's dinner party was a great success. In the first place she had congenial guests. Next she chose a simple menu but had everything well cooked. The food was beautifully served. Hot foods were hot and cold dishes were cold. There was nothing lukewarm about the meal, not even the guests' enjoyment. They all had a good time.

The vegetable was the only vegetable to serve in the spring time—fresh asparagus. Nancy reveled in it. Peter ate the Hollandaise sauce like a little man. He wanted to ask for more.

Nathalie enjoyed their pleasure. When Nancy asked for the recipe for the sauce she gave it willingly.

¼ cup butter, 2 egg yolks, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and ½ cup boiling water.

Divide butter into thirds. Put one-third in upper part of double boiler. To it add egg yolks and lemon juice, using a small egg beater or egg whisk, stir it until butter is melted. Add second third of butter. When the mixture starts to thicken add last piece. Add boiling water. Cook 1 minute by the clock, season and take from fire. Serve hot or cold. "When I use it with artichokes I serve it cold, but for asparagus I keep it hot," said Nathalie.

How would you like to serve a new salad at dinner? Write to Nancy Page, care of this paper, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for her leaflet on Salads.

PATHE RETAINING TWO PLAYERS

Lina Basquette, George Duryea Sign New Contracts; Writer Discovers Beautiful Actress in Mexico; Seiter Remains With First National

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Evidently Cecil B. De Mille feels that he has made two new star discoveries in Lina Basquette and George Duryea, who play the leading roles in his new production, "The Godless Girl," for Pathe has just signed them both under long-term contracts.

LINA BASQUETTE

This news has been expected for some time in the film colony, since it is known that both give splendid performances in the De Mille picture. Just how much faith indeed Pathe and De Mille have in these new people is indicated in the announcement that they will be featured in some of the most important pictures of the forthcoming Pathe program.

It is still a question whether Cecil B. De Mille will make "The Pioneer Woman" or another story. In case he decides against that feature, I understood that Rupert Julian is to produce it. If Julian does, it is reported a certainty that Jacqueline Logan will play the name part.

Leatrice Joy having left the concern, Lina Basquette is to inherit some of the special roles which Miss Joy was to have filled, according to the announcement. This may mean that if De Mille decides to film "The Pioneer Woman," Miss Basquette will be starred in it.

George Duryea at the present time has been loaned to Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer to play the lead in "Tide of Empire," but he will return to the De Mille lot immediately upon its completion.

Conrad Veidt's New One

Conrad Veidt's new picture for Universal will be "Grease Paint," in which Mary Nolan will have the feminine lead.

CONRAD VEIDT

Edward Sloman has been assigned to direct the picture, under the supervision of Paul Kohner.

"Grease Paint" was written by Svend Gade, who seems to have forsaken directing entirely for writing.

The star having made such a hit in the pictures in which he has appeared, Universal is planning to make this feature a special production.

Writer Discovers Talent

Producers haven't any corner on the discovering of embryo acting genius, it seems. At any rate, while Agnes Christine Johnston was in Mexico recently, she claims to have discovered another Dolores Del Rio.

The young lady in question is Miss Blanca Alcaraz, who owns a sugar plantation in Las Mochis, but who, despite her wealth, is not averse to playing before the camera. She is a very beautiful young woman, has done a little amateur theatrical work, and gives great promise. She is shortly to visit Los Angeles, when certain movie officials have promised to give her an opportunity.

Miss Johnston is enthusiastic over the visit, which she and her husband, Frank Dasey, recently made to the Johnston sugar plantation in Mexico.

"It's seldom I get so many breaks at once," she remarked yesterday, "a vacation after finishing the scenario of 'Divine Lady' and before beginning 'Outcast' for Corinne Griffith, an invitation to visit the ranch, and my house burned down!

"We found life at the Johnston ranch fascinating — sophistication and luxury in the midst of the most primitive wilderness. We dressed for dinner and had immaculate butlers to serve us, with peacock instead of chicken for the meat course. The house is like a palace, while outside there are only dirt roads. I wish you could see the movie theater. It has no roof and is all wood, with a prompter's box in the center of the stage, for legitimate offerings. They have Pearl White serials and pictures about ten years old, mostly.

"We found the Mexicans charming people, and called on many of them in their picturesque adobe houses, all with patios filled with trees and flowers.

"We went right through the Yaqui Indian country on the way down. They send a carload of soldiers with every train, and trains run every three days. But nobody seems much worried about hold-ups. They say you just sit quietly in the car until the fight is over and they don't hurt Americans. And they declare they have fewer than Chicago, anyway!"

Seiter's Four

William Seiter, who directed a number of the most successful Reginald Denny pictures for Universal, signed yesterday a four-picture contract with First National. Seiter has just completed "Heart of Heart" for First National, with Colleen Moore as the star. This was his first picture away from the Universal lot in a number of years.

Gladys Brockwell in It

Gladys Brockwell has been cast for one of the featured roles in Irving Cummings's Fox picture, "Lagrings," in which Lionel Barrymore and Kenneth Thompson have the leading roles.

Peggy Hamilton in Vaudeville

That lively young prophet of the styles, Peggy Hamilton, is going into vaudeville. She will commence May 13 at the Orpheum here in a fashion show revue, remaining a week and playing San Francisco a week. She will have a bevy of twenty-two girls to aid her in showing what the well-dressed woman should wear, and in order that nothing of the fine effect may be lost, she is having special music written to accompany the clothes symphony.

George Fawcett in "Empire"

Slowly but surely Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is collecting an excellent cast for "Tide of Empire." The newest acquisition is George Fawcett, who will have an important character part.

AUTOS STOLEN

Vandals in the closet

VANDALS that ruin your clothes—greedy, hungry mothworms! They do all the damage—flying moths eat nothing! Insect-killers, moth-balls, tar-bags and cedar chests won't stop mothworms from eating! But Larvex will, because it mothproofs the cloth itself! Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping Magazine. Odorless, non-injurious and non-inflammable. Larvex comes in two forms: Spraying Larvex and Rinsing Larvex. Use Spraying Larvex for clothes, rugs, etc. Costs as little as pressing enough to thoroughly mothproof two suits, only $1.00. Simply spray it on and they are mothproofed for an entire year. Use Rinsing Larvex for all washable woolens—blankets, sweaters, wool hose, baby garments, etc. Easy as rinsing! Dissolve in water—put woolens in—and they're completely mothproofed until washed again. A $1.00 package mothproofs all the washable woolens of the average family. Sold by drug and department stores. Spraying Larvex; pints, $1. In combination with special atomizer, $1.50. ½ gallons, $3. Gallons, $5. Rinsing Larvex, package of 4 tubes, $1. The Larvex Corporation, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

WHIMSY OF NOVEL IS RETAINED

Stage Version of Arnold Bennett's "Buried Alive" Provides Merriments

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Those who know the traditions of England may readily conjecture what an error it would be to entomb a valet in Westminster Abbey instead of a famous artist. And in case you aren't familiar with all the outrageousness of the violation of a good British custom, Arnold Bennett's "The Great Adventure" will be sufficiently explanatory.

"The Great Adventure" is a paraphrase of Bennett's novel "Buried Alive"—as ingenius a piece of fiction as any contrived in its day. The book was immensely successful some eighteen or twenty years ago and might indeed even now be considered a classic of modern literature.

"The Great Adventure" is being presented for four matinees at the Hollywood Playhouse, the first of which was staged yesterday. Prominent in the cast are Reginald Pole, Mary Worth and Mario Carillo. The production is under the auspices of the Hollywood Community Players.

The plot of "The Great Adventure" bears retelling. It is a very interesting plot, pervaded with the charm of Bennett's style and enhanced by his skill in sketching inimitable characters.

Ilam Carve, an illustrious painter, an eccentric and a recluse, allows the impression to go out to the world that he has died. In reality it is his valet who has passed away. He is mistaken early in the play for the servant rather than the master, and permits the idea to persist. Indeed, it persists in spite of himself. For, on account of his very peculiar connection with the world, he is at practically no time to be able to inform anyone of the exact and lifelike status of the artist Carve.

The valet is duly buried and the artist is taken to shelter by an English housewife who drops her aitches. She marries him and is a thoroughly good wife, but regards his painting as unimportant until it begins to bring in money.

The fact that the artist's death is entirely by proxy is eventually discovered. An art expert determines his identity from the characteristics of the canvases which he paints under the name of the valet.

The play is long but seldom tiresome. It has a sparkle that almost seems to blend the whimsy of Barrie and the pungent wit of Shaw. It is without an exceptional piece of entertainment.

While Mr. Pole is entirely at home in the portrayal of the painter, it is Miss Worth's performance that catches the fancy with a very quaint and effective reality. She it is who plays the practical English provincial lady, who becomes the wife of the artist.

There are some very funny bits assisted by Syd Louis Young and Ray Wilcox, as the two young curates, and Elanor Risher Wood as their mother, who comes to claim the supposed valet as her husband.

William Moran, Bram, Noreen Forrest Barnes, Ernet Tan and Jean Plumalet are among others who may be especially mentioned. Carillo is very acceptable as the art dealer. Pole is, as always, the finished and capable actor, and gives high conviction in his interpretation in this particular and very interesting production.

"BARE KNEES" SEEN ON TOWER SCREEN

Flappers and "Reformers" Liven Gotham Production at Broadway House

A gay, breezy tale of the adventures of a flapper in modernizing her old-fashioned sister is "Bare Knees," Gotham production, directed by Eric C. Kenton, which opened at the Tower Theater yesterday in conjunction with a new Vitaphone program.

Virginia Lee Corbin is the vivacious, youthful "reformer," while Jane Winton portrays the character of the elder sister, whose natural penchant for gayety has been smothered in the repressive atmosphere of the small community in which she has made her home.

When young sister launches a thorough campaign of "flapperization," short skirts, jam and frivolous parties, Jane looks on with horrified eyes, although she herself is even then becoming entangled in a love affair with a man other than her husband. Eventually, young sister proves that it is the flappers who think straight—who know their signals when to stop and when to go ahead," and saves Jane from embarrassing complications at the possible cost of her own happiness.

The picture is light, airy and moves along at a fairly good speed, although various incidents calling for more logical plot development are skipped over with nary an explanatory subtitle. This is particularly true in the climax when in one scene Miss Corbin and Johnnie Walker are seen plunging to their death from a blazing pier and a few sequences farther on, without further explanation, are discovered in fond embrace, about "to live happily ever after." Obviously, somebody must have saved them!

Others of the cast include Donald Keith, Forrest Stanley and Mande Fulton.

There is a Fox newsreel, unhappily minus the usual Movietone accompaniment and a program of Vitaphone short subjects.

Dramatist Made Script Adviser

Joseph Schildkraut, director-general of the Hollywood Play House, where "From Hell Came a Lady" is now breaking all box-office records, yesterday announced the appointment and acceptance of George Scarborough as consulting dramatist and literary adviser for all productions under the Schildkraut regime.

VICTOR McLAGLEN IN PERSON

Victor McLaglen, who plays the starring role in "A Girl in Every Port," will be seen tonight on the stage at Pantages Theater.

New Theater Throws Doors Wide

Dolores Costello and Conrad Nagel

INVENTION EMPLOYED IN 'TRAIL'

"Fantom Screen" Will be Used for Local Screening of Alaskan Film

Awe-inspiring episodes in "The Trail of '98" are to assume colossal proportions through the employment of the "Fantom Screen," at the premiere of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama of the Far North the night of May 7, at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

This new wonder in cinematic projection is to be presented for the first time here by Sid Grauman to his first-night audience. A special express car, required to house the paraphernalia, now is speeding toward Hollywood from New York.

The new screen is said to be startling in its effects. At certain episodes in "The Trail," the device is brought into play, magnifying the view to four times its ordinary proportions, at the same time that it appears to move toward the audience.

The new invention is sixteen feet wider than the standard silver sheet at the Chinese and requires extra space for its operative gear. Special movable writhgs will be required in the spectacular prologue Grauman is preparing to introduce the Alaskan picture.

Re-enactment on a big scale of the avalanche on Chilkoot Pass, the burning of Dawson City, and the shooting of the rapids on the swollen Yukon River during the gold rush of the late nineties are only a few of the thrills in "The Trail of '98."

Dolores Del Rio, Ralph Forbes, Karl Dane and Harry Carey head a cast of a score of principals.

FILM IS ENHANCED BY ROXY'S MUSIC

For the first time with the Movietone accompaniment on any screen in the West, "Sunrise," which F. W. Murnau filmed for William Fox, opened its initial downtown engagement at the Criterion Theater yesterday. This opening inaugurated the new continuous policy of the house.

Janet Gaynor and George O'Brien in the stellar roles, shared honors with the accompaniment, written by S. L. Rothafel of Roxy Theater fame. Not only did the score itself win the plaudits generally of Criterion patrons, but also much favorable comment was aroused concerning the evident importance and value of Movietone for such work.

Movietone presentations are to be a permanent feature under the new policy.

Sharing the program with "Sunrise" is a rollicking Movietone short feature, "Shamrocks," in which Pat Rooney and family mingle comedy, singing and dancing. An interesting issue of the Fox Movietone News includes a short talk by Judge Ben Lindsey, which has a distinct feminine appeal, "Horses' Rights for Women."

SCHILDKRAUT NIGHT IS SET FOR FRIDAY

Friday has been set aside as Joseph Schildkraut night at the Hillstreet, where Schildkraut is featured on the screen in "The Blue Danube," a drama of the Carpathian Mountains. In this Schildkraut portrays Ludwig, the hunchback.

BREMEN HEARD ON MOVIETONE

Fred Miller of the Carthay Circle Theater, where Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are establishing new attendance records with their love story, "Street Angel," announces this morning that the Carthay Circle is showing as a special, added feature a Movietone subject of the take-off from Ireland of the Bremen, airplane which scored the first nonstop flight from Europe to the American continent.

All the details have been recorded by this new invention.

ORIGINAL COMPANY IS INTACT

"Command to Love" Cast Coming Here; No Changes Made in Line-up

Edward Belasco and Fred J. Butler announce that they have secured the original New York company intact, of "The Command to Love" to open a limited engagement at the Belasco Theater, May 21.

After months of negotiation the local producers have arranged with William A. Brady, Jr., and Dwight Deere Wiman (in association with John Tuerk) to bring the entire company and production direct from the season at the Longacre Theater, New York City, to the Belasco Theater here.

The new screen is said to be startling in its effects. At certain episodes in "The Trail," the device is brought into play, magnifying the view to four times its ordinary proportions, at the same time that it appears to move toward the audience.

The new invention is sixteen feet wider than the standard silver sheet at the Chinese and requires extra space for its operative gear. Special movable writhgs will be required in the spectacular prologue Grauman is preparing to introduce the Alaskan picture.

Re-enactment on a big scale of the avalanche on Chilkoot Pass, the burning of Dawson City, and the shooting of the rapids on the swollen Yukon River during the gold rush of the late nineties are only a few of the thrills in "The Trail of '98."

Dolores Del Rio, Ralph Forbes, Karl Dane and Harry Carey head a cast of a score of principals.

The cast of "The Command to Love" may accurately be termed "all-star." Mary Nash, Basil Rathbone and Violet Kemble Cooper are starred and Henry Stephenson is featured, and among the names of players in the cast will be found those of Ferdinand Gottschalk, T. Wigney Percyval, Anthony Kemble Cooper, Percy Heming and others.

"The Command to Love" was written by Rudolph Lother and Fritz Gotzwald and adapted for the American stage by Herman Bernstein and Brian Marlow. It was staged by Lester Lonsgran, one of the leading directors of New York.

Benefit Shows Rich in Stars

Naming such inimitables as Jack Benny, Montagu Love, Johnny Hines, Charles Murray, Ben Bard, Edmund Lowe and Georgia Jones as masters of ceremonies, announcement was made last night of the first group of stage and screen celebrities scheduled to entertain at the N. V. A. midnight benefit show May 5 at the Orpheum and Pantages theaters.

Among others included in the announcement are Olsen and Johnson, Ben Bard, Ruth Roland, Anita Stewart, Jane Barton, Ed and Frankie Rooney, Claire Windsor, Benny Rubin, Lou Archer, Joe E. Brown, Theodore Kosloff dancers, Four Cameros, Eddie Nelson, Murray and Oakland, Foy Family, Jere Delaney, Bessie Love, Jackie Coogan, Karyl Norman, Winnie Lightner, Larry Rich, Adele Rowland, May Wirth, Daphne Pollard, Felowis Rosita, Eddie Borden, Alice Gentia, Clyde Cook, Joseph Diskay and William Demarest.

Each theater will present the same program, the artists going from one to the other.

Final Pair of Concerts Due

The final pair of concerts by the Philharmonic Orchestra take place this evening and tomorrow afternoon. Georg Schneevoigt, conductor, who in one short season has made a name for himself not only in Los Angeles but on the whole Pacific Coast, has made his final concert of the year a monumental one.

Conductor Schneevoight leaves immediately for Holland to conduct a series of summer concerts there.

ULTRA-MODERNIST TO BE HEARD IN RECITAL

Dane Rudhyar, an interpreter of the ultramodernist and a composer-pianist of high attainment, will be heard in recital at the studio of Frank C. Walmsley, sculptor residing at 1121 El Centro avenue in Hollywood, tomorrow night.

A new composition of Mr. Rudhyar's will be played on Saturday morning at the concert of Adolph Tandler's Little Symphony in the Biltmore Ballroom.

GIFT DAY CELEBRATED

Gift day for the kiddies will be featured at the Million Dollar Theater Saturday, and every youngster who comes to see Harold Lloyd in "Speedy" will be presented with four toys by the theater management. The unusual event has been arranged in honor of the "younger generation" because Harold Lloyd's film is especially suited to children, being just the sort of fast-moving, fast-laughing type that they most enjoy.

FILM HAS LUXURIOUS MOUNTING

'Garden of Eden' is Smart Comedy of Continental Life at United Artists

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

There isn't a snake, an apple or an ingenue with a Lady Godiva haircut in "The Garden of Eden," a Corinne Griffith starring picture, which opened at the United Artists' Theater yesterday.

The Garden of Eden in question is not the place one learns about in Sunday-school lessons, but the garden of a famous hotel in Monte Carlo, the well-known roulette and galloping dominoes resort on the Mediterranean.

It is a luxurious sort of picture, cafe life in Budapest, and continental society set down in the gayest watering place of all Europe. The star wears no end of elaborate costumes and settings are picturesque and beautiful. Apparently no effort was spared to lift "The Garden of Eden" out of the ranks of ordinary program pictures. Avery Hopwood wrote the stage adaptation from the European play, and this, in turn, was adapted to the screen by Hans Kraly. Lewis Milestone, who proved his sense of comedy values in "Two Arabian Knights," directed, and George Marion, Jr., wrote the titles. Surely an impressive array of talent.

The picture ranks as among the more entertaining of recent Corinne Griffith pictures, easily the best since "Classified." Perhaps the deliberate tempo used in telling a somewhat fragile story, may prove tiresome at times. This criticism might be directed in particular to the middle of the film when action should have been speeded considerably. The first and last reels are very good.

Miss Griffith appears as the daughter of a Viennese baker who dares to disguise as to embark on an opera career. Instead she finds work in a cabaret. When she repulses the advances of one of the best patrons she is discharged. She is befriended by the wardrobe mistress, a penniless baroness who saves all year in order that she may have two weeks at Monte Carlo, the gay life that had been hers before the war. Corinne goes along as her daughter. There she falls in love with a wealthy young man.

There are a number of bright and amusing sequences, fitting examples of Milestone's directorial ability in this sort of thing. One scene that evokes laughter is the signalling with room lights which Miss Griffith indulges as a flirtation with the young man across the court. In no time at all most of the rooms in the hotel are signalling, too. Another instance, when Charles Ray, the forest fairy, takes a draught of sneezing powders by mistake in the midst of a proposal and drops off to sleep. Yet another, when Miss Griffith eats her first oyster cocktail.

For the people who like to see Corinne Griffith without many clothes—and who doesn't, may I pause to ask?—there is the scene wherein she strips off her wedding finery before a room full of guests.

The star gives a pleasing characterization, and has been exquisitely photographed, particularly in two or three color sequences. Charles Ray does nicely as the lover although his appearance is very mature. Louise Dresser gives the outstanding performance as the baroness. Lowell Sherman is rather a nice kind-hearted villain, and Maude George is the woman-owner of the Budapest cafe.

Hugo Riesenfeld conducts an interesting symphonic arrangement of "Rain," and there is a lovely atmospheric prologue, a springtime garden, a replica of the Garden of Eden in the picture.

One of the most interesting events on the program is the short film subject depicting the history of aviation from the time of the Wright brothers to Lindbergh.

JAVANESE DRAMA IS SCHEDULED

Oliver Morosco Acquires Belmont for "Hell Cat;" Two Signed

With the same policy that brought him notice as a theatrical producer, Oliver Morosco will take over the managing reins of the Belmont Theater and present, for a world premiere, "Hell Cat," a tale of the Java Isles. Morosco will personally direct the production. May 10 is the opening date.

Morosco intends to present three screen players in the leading roles. Jeanne Naevelle, of the French stage and screen, who has earned something of a reputation in America by her acting and her dancing, including in the title role.

Alphonz Ethier, New York stage actor, will be seen in another of the principal roles. Ethier is a former Angeleno, having last appeared here in 1921 in "A Fool There Was," which played at the Mason. He also appeared in the stage production of "Ben Hur." His last work in New York was in "The Jest."

CHANEY, TELEVISION SHARE BILL HONORS

Beginning tomorrow, Lon Chaney in "Laugh, Clown, Laugh" will be presented at Loew's State with the assurance by the management that this is Chaney's supreme dramatic triumph." The public will get its first glimpse of television as demonstrated in Fanchon and Marco's novelty "Radio-Television" idea on the stage. Benny Rubin will be chief announcer and several stars of radioland include Jack Waldron, Mosby's Blue Blowers West, Lake and Hare, Frances St. George, Pearl Twins and Nat Strector.

AT BILTMORE TONIGHT

A trio will give a concert this evening in the Biltmore Music Salon, under the management of Mae Norton O'Farrell. Mozart and Tschaikowsky trios will be heard as well as two movements of the Brahms Quartet, Opus 60. In the last number, the trio consisting of Olga Steeb, pianist; David Crecov, violinist, and Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, will have the able assistance of Philip Kahgan, violist.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

VALLEY WANTS FLOOD RELIEF

Substitute for Swing Bill May be Demanded

Failure of Present Draft in Congress Feared

Ranchers Propose to Send Brockman to Capital

EL CENTRO, April 25.—Impatient over delays that threaten the success of the Swing-Johnson bill at the present session of Congress, many ranchers in this district are urging C. W. Brockman, director of the Imperial Irrigation District, to go to Washington and ask that a flood-relief measure be substituted for the present complicated bill and presented for action as an emergency consideration.

SLIGHT HOPE HELD

Clark Adair, pioneer farmer in the Seeley district, declared today that he and a group of ranchers are ready to finance the trip if Brockman will go to the national capital.

Commenting on the situation, Brockman stated that he was reluctant to interfere in the present legislative program so long as there appears to be the slightest chance for the passage of the present bill.

"Imperial Valley almost has reached the point of despair so far as the Swing-Johnson bill is concerned," said Brockman. "With Congress already talking of adjournment and the bill not yet on the floor of either house, a critical situation is developing in Imperial Valley.

"Many landowners who have adhered loyally to the program advocated by Congressman Swing and the Los Angeles Water and Power Bureau, are beginning to feel that their interests are being jeopardized by the complicated provisions of the present measure.

VALLEY NEEDS IGNORED

"There is a growing belief here that Imperial Valley's flood-relief needs are being sacrificed on the altar of domestic water and power for Los Angeles and the coast area.

"During the past few days scores of landowners have expressed the sentiment—forget the Swing-Johnson bill and get a low dam that will provide flood relief and restore Imperial Valley's credit.

"Unless there is a favorable break in the situation at Washington within the next two weeks, I look for a valley-wide movement that will take the form of a definite demand on the Boulder dam legislative lobby for abandonment of the present program and introduction of an emergency measure."

It was stated today that District Directors Mark Rose and Earl Pound, who have been at Washington for several months working for the Boulder bill, have been advised of the undercurrent of dissatisfaction in the valley. During a brief visit here two weeks ago Pound indicated that the valley's legislative delegation is reconciled to the idea of a low dam.

ACTION DEMANDED

Valley ranchers are going to demand more than mere passive acceptance of the low-dam idea, however, according to Brockman's opinion.

"Imperial Valley wants aggressive action, and unless the situation becomes more favorable within the next three weeks I probably will go to Washington to convey to administration leaders the valley's demand for flood relief and the elimination of power, water, all-American canal and other considerations which long have blocked the passage of the present bill."

POLICE CHIEF AND DEPUTY ARRESTED

RIVERSIDE, April 25. — Chief of Police Franklin and Deputy Chief Boche today were placed under arrest and taken into Justice Court on a warrant sworn to by William Charlton charging malicious searching of his home at 110 South Brockton avenue on a liquor-law violation warrant. Charlton is a former guard in the county prison camp.

Justice Difani set Monday afternoon as the time for the two officers to plead. Charlton's action is an outgrowth of a raid a month ago when three officers under the direction of Deputy Chief Boche removed four gallons of liquor and a quart of benedictine from Charlton's home.

WELFARE WORKERS ELECT

VENTURA, April 25. — Mark W. Durley, Oxnard attorney, was elected president of the Ventura county department of social welfare, at a meeting of the organization here. Miss Alice Davis was elected secretary and director of relief.

RANCHER NEAR CENTURY MARK

Long Life Attributed to Hard Labor

Samuel Fesler,
Pioneer rancher of Covina, celebrates his 94th birthday by sawing up big pile of wood and attending to chores around his home.

COVINA, April 25.—Samuel Fesler, pioneer rancher of this city, celebrated the ninety-fourth anniversary of his birth yesterday by sawing a large pile of wood at his ranch home on West Bedillo street. "I must keep my muscles fit," the aged man said.

The near-centenarian is active about his ranch, where he cultivates his gardens and trees and takes care of a flock of chickens.

Mr. Fesler was born in Rockingham county, Virginia, and came to Covina in 1891. He attributes his longevity to abstinence from all intoxicating drinks and tobacco.

"I have worked hard all of my life and have made it a practice to retire early every evening, which is also responsible for my 94 years," the man said.

SITE GETS APPROVAL FOR FISH HATCHERY

AZUSA, April 25.—Officials of the State Fish and Game Commission, L. Phillips and A. E. Culver with Deputy Commissioner Charles Baudder made a technical survey yesterday of Sycamore Flats, the selected site for the proposed fish hatchery in San Gabriel Canyon, according to E. E. Skidmore, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who stated that the commissioners indorsed the location as satisfactory.

The next step in establishing the hatchery in the canyon will be to confer with the forestry department, as the site is on government land, it was said.

Negotiations are now under way with District Ranger Arthur Shay, who will take the matter up with the State Rangers' Association, Skidmore said. As soon as the forestry department grants permission, work immediately will start on the first unit of the hatchery, which will consist of sizing ponds, where fingerlings will be planted, and later released in the San Gabriel stream when they reach fishing size.

LONG-LOST BROTHER LOCATED IN MORGUE

FULLERTON, April 25.—A news dispatch sent out from Fullerton concerning a search being made for relatives of John E. Lee, elderly prospector, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident near here, was seen in a San Diego paper by his sister, Mrs. J. Dykema of Pacific Beach. Mrs. Dykema came here and identified the body as that of her brother, who she had not seen for thirty years.

New Auditorium Good to Look at but of No Use

RIVERSIDE, April 25.—The fate of Riverside's magnificent new Soldiers' Memorial Civic Auditorium today rested with the Board of Public Utilities. The beautiful structure, which was erected from the proceeds of a special bond issue, today stands, according to former Mayor S. C. Evans, who has represented the city during the construction of the hall, "as a scenic asset and useful for nothing else."

With the funds practically exhausted, the auditorium is without lights, stage equipment and other essentials for the uses for which it was intended. In desperation the City Council today turned to the Board of Utilities, whose coffers are presumed to be overflowing with profits made from the Municipal Light and Power Department.

In an urgent plea, the Council requested the board to donate to the auditorium fund the sum of $54,000. If the board sees fit to grant the Solons' request, the massive mission structure at Seventh and Lemon streets will be rushed to completion, Councilmen said.

STUDY CAMP SITES FOR IMPROVEMENTS

AZUSA, April 25.—A survey of all available camp sites in the San Gabriel Canyon has been completed by Dan McFarland, flood control engineer in the canyon, for the local Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today by E. E. Skidmore, secretary.

The survey contemplates building of firebreaks about the camps, installation of water pipe, and erection of adequate rest rooms, Skidmore said.

The Chamber of Commerce committee on canyon affairs, of which Hugh Morgan is chairman, will next confer with county officials to have funds appropriated for the improvement of canyon camps, it was said. Others on the committee are Jack Calvert, A. B. Lockey and Skidmore.

FINAL RITES FOR VENTURA PIONEER

VENTURA, April 25. — Funeral services for one of Ventura's oldest pioneers, a resident of Ventura for a half-century, are to be conducted tomorrow afternoon from the St. John's Methodist Church here, of which the deceased, Mrs. Sarintha M. Brooks, was a charter member.

Mrs. Brooks was born in Louisiana, May 31, 1841, and in 1861 was married to Dr. Charles W. Thacker. With her husband and three children she came across the plains in a covered wagon, taking from April to October, 1868, to make the trip. She was married to Charles Brooks in December, 1887, but after ten years was widowed again.

WOMAN ON TRIAL IN TAR-FEATHER FEUD

SAN BERNARDINO, April 25.—With selection of a jury to try Mrs. Bernice Tucker of Twenty-Palms, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, the court hearing of the feud which reached its climax in the district when the comely widow plotted to tar and feather Robert and Jack Furniss, her neighbors, opened today.

Scores of homesteaders of the district, far out on the desert east of Mt. San Gorgonio, were in the courtroom to hear the trial.

MAN FREED BY WORD OF EXPERT

Signature on Note Said to be Forgery

Ontario Dairyman Dismissed at Preliminary

Criminal Complaint Asked for Plaintiff

SAN BERNARDINO, April 25.—The testimony of a handwriting expert late yesterday freed Ray Van Horn, prominent Ontario dairyman, and Balles G. Walker of El Centro, accused by Nathan Landsberg, Los Angeles loan broker, of defrauding him out of $12,000.

A charge of obtaining money by false pretenses was summarily dismissed by Justice George W. Holbrook at a preliminary hearing, when J. Clarke Sellers, nationally known criminologist and handwriting expert, testified that signatures purporting to be those of Van Horn on a $12,000 note and a letter addressed to Landsberg were forgeries.

Landsberg charged that he was defrauded out of the $12,000, which he said he advanced to Van Horn to purchase a herd of dairy cattle from Walker. After Sellers, testifying as a defense witness, told the court that Van Horn's signatures were forgeries the case was dismissed without either Van Horn or Walker being called to testify.

Attorney Edgar B. Hervey of San Diego, representing Walker, announced that he would request the issuance of a perjury complaint, but Dist.-Atty. George H. Johnson refused to act, stating that a forgery complaint should properly be instituted, but not in San Bernardino county, as the asserted forgeries were not committed in this county.

Landsberg testified that he was defrauded when Van Horn and Walker represented that a herd of cattle was paying a net income of $100 daily and that he advanced $12,000 for the purchase of the herd, which he later learned were afflicted with tuberculosis.

Island Park Site Proposed

OXNARD, April 25.—That Santa Cruz Island, off the coast of Ventura county, would make an ideal location for a State park, was the statement of F. J. Hokin, secretary of Oxnard Community Service, who with Dr. W. R. Livingston and John H. Everhard, are back in Oxnard today after a stormy trip to the channel islands. The party which went to the islands in Dr. Livingston's sea-going craft, the Moana, were delayed in returning on account of a strong current and high winds. For a time fears were felt for their safety.

For two days it was impossible to get near the rocky coast line of Anacapa Island and finally the boat was headed for the more peaceful waters of the inland harbors on Santa Cruz Island. After a visit to Pelican Bay the navigators put in at Orizaba Bay and went for exploration trips during the day and slept on the boat at night.

It was the opinion of the visitors that the island is fully as beautiful as Catalina but suitable transportation would have to be developed either from Hueneme, Ventura or Santa Barbara before a State park or resort could be successfully operated on Santa Cruz. This location is one of the many that was suggested to State Parks Board for consideration in its program of establishing a series of State parks throughout California.

Summer School Courses Given

SANTA BARBARA, April 25.—Offering the most complete summer-school course in its history, the State College here today issued its bulletins announcing the summer studies. The program is arranged for 200 to 300 students, largely school-teachers, and includes lectures by outstanding men.

Dr. Alfred L. Hall-Quest of Columbia University will give special lectures in education. Dr. Hall-Quest is one of the recognized leaders in the field of education. Dr. Melville E. Haggerty of Harvard will also lecture on education. The bulletins disclose courses in industrial education, home economics, physical education and liberal arts.

The course starts on July 2 and ends August 10. It includes dances, picnics, beach parties and other recreational events besides the curriculum. Talks are to be given in the biweekly assemblies by Dr. Frank Nuzum, Ross A. Ross, Dr. W. B. Sansum, Earle Ovington, George McClelland, Winsor Soule, Calvin McCray, Arthur S. Pope and H. A. Adrian.

Heavy Clothing Protects Upper Part of Body When Hit by Buckshot

REDLANDS, April 25.—Ernest Hill, employed at the Pinney Rock crusher in the wash north of this city, will stand up for most of his meals, for a time at least.

It will be more comfortable for him but, will likely be a constant reminder to his brother, George Hill, that a charge of assault with a deadly weapon is hanging over his head.

The two brothers work at the crusher. This morning they were racing to get to work first and there was a collision of the two cars. George blames Ernest, and Ernest blames George. Fenders of the two cars were scratched and the brothers were sore. They talked and said things and became very angry.

Finally George went to a tool shed and came back with a shotgun in his hand. Ernest thought he was fooling at first and then, when his brother stopped about eighty yards away and drew the shotgun to his shoulder, Ernest turned his back and tucked his head between his shoulders.

Buckshot peppered him all over but a thick sweater and jumper kept it out above his waist. Below his waist it tore holes in his overalls and tattooed his legs. Although bleeding Ernest refused to go to a doctor to get the shot extracted until he had filed a complaint. George will have his preliminary hearing May 3 in Judge Potter's court.

Flags Donated to Inglewood

INGLEWOOD, April 25.—Inglewood American Legion Post, No. 188, last night presented to the city two silk standards, both topped with golden eagle and silken tassels, one being the bear flag of California and the other the national colors.

The presentation was made by Commander Leroy Dixon of the post and the address of acceptance on behalf of the city was made by Mayor Hugh B. Lawrence.

The presentation ceremonial was impressive, as seen by a throng of several hundred citizens that thronged the Council chamber, where the two flags will remain.

The drill squad of the post, in full uniform, in command of Capt. John F. Grayson, and details from all the Boy Scout troops of the city acted as an escort of honor to the color guard, the latter being Barney Aspinwall in A.E.F. uniform and William Kemp in the uniform of a sailor.

HUNTINGTON PARK OFFICIALS NAMED

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 25. Two new city commissions have been appointed by the City Council, a Fire Commission and a Police Commission.

The Fire Commission consists of A. G. Bolenbaugh, H. L. Ferguson, John F. Prickett, S. L. Caldwell and Hector Slain, and the Police Commission consists of Judson P. Nichols, Floyd W. Parish, F. J. Ransons, Herman Boshard and O. W. Leonard, the latter being president of the Board of Trustees several years ago.

Scott J. Resley has been appointed chief of the fire department and expects to take up his new duties this week. He was for eight years head of the fire department, filling this position until July, 1925.

MAYOR OF GLENDALE PLANS RANCH FIESTA

GLENDALE, April 25.—Inviting the mayors and Councilmen of all neighboring communities, Harry G. MacBain, Mayor of this city, has announced a barbecue and picnic at his ranch on the Ridge Route Sunday.

Mayor MacBain is preparing to feed at least 2000, he announced. A program has been arranged by Harry James, manager of radio KELW, MacBain's ranch is known as Frazier Mountain Park. It is reached by way of the San Fernando Road, then over the Ridge Route, and is about eighty-five miles north of Los Angeles.

ANNEXATION URGED

HUNTINGTON PARK, April 25. Petitions are expected to be placed in circulation in this city within two days to call an election to annex to Los Angeles. If sufficient signatures are secured, it is reported here, the Los Angeles City Council has granted permission to circulate such petitions for annexation.

TWO-DAY RAID GETS RESULTS

Sixty-four Arrests Made in Ventura

Sheriff Spins Elaborate Web as Trap

"Service Station" Becomes Popular

VENTURA, April 25.—Weary deputy sheriffs were finishing a two-day, two-night liquor clean-up which has taken them into all corners of the county and which has resulted in sixty-four arrests.

Beginning Monday evening, the deputies set to work on the leads which had been given by a group of operators stationed at Hueneme. Seizures of liquor ranging from one pint to five gallons and varying in quantity from a small bottle labeled "Breath of Hollywood-Giggle Soup," through alleged asserted wines, to "Gordon gin and plain old jackass whisky."

RUSE WORKS

The web spun by Sheriff Clark and his men was the most novel since his famous "movie set" on the sands at Hollywood Beach. A service station was found at Hueneme which had not been a paying proposition and the Sheriff arranged to have the detectives come in and operate it and the garage in connection, rent free, to Oxnard. It was then carried out that the Sheriff and deputy were forced once to raid the station to verify the suspicions of other garage men and Hueneme residents who began to notice the type of customers.

The men were brought before Justice of the Peace G. A. Robinson but evidence sufficient to convict had not been obtained by the Sheriff.

"I bet I know those men are bootlegging, though," the justice insisted.

Sheriff Clark was planning today on taking the men over and introducing them to the justice.

PEDDLERS CATALOGUED

In some cases the "mechanics" were able to get in touch with liquor wholesalers. Raid victims from as far east as Fillmore and north and west into Ventura and Ojai townships were drawn into the net. The detectives buying from these peddlers on the representation that they wanted in turn to sell to customers and friends of their service station, got a list of nearly seventy-five liquor dealers from all sections of the county.

Monday night the raiding began, assisted by the Ventura and Santa Paula police. The Sheriff and his men began to drop in on homes, service stations, rooming-houses, stores, and all the other establishments from which the booze was being distributed. In the case of one woman whose name was withheld by the Sheriff to protect her son, a high-school student, a unique system was discovered. Although many men had purchased liquor in her boarding-house, few if any could swear to having purchased of her.

WOMAN IN SCHEME

The system was for the customer to stand outside a curtained doorway. The money was handed through the door and presently a woman's hand appeared from behind the curtain holding the liquor. Rather than face the sale charge, however, the woman pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor and this morning Judge Malvern Dimmick fined her $250 and when she failed to pay, sent her to jail for eighty-four days.

In the most cases the accused persons pleaded guilty to possession and took their sentences.

EFFORT IS MADE TO REVIVE DEAD BODY

VAN NUYS, April 25.—After being pronounced dead by the family physician in the morning, relatives of Mrs. H. H. Spencer, 52 years of age, 4948 Diaz avenue, declared she was still alive at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and the inhalator squad from the Van Nuys fire department was called to see if Mrs. Spencer could be revived.

Officer W. J. Hackett and Fireman W. R. Post worked for two hours without result and Mrs. Spencer again was pronounced dead by another physician. The body later was removed to the Van Nuys undertaking parlors.

Relatives had believed that Mrs. Spencer had passed away because of weakness due to her old age, and that the introduction of artificial respiration might bring back a new vitality.

RECALL FIGHT ENDS AFTER CITY BALLOT

SANTA ANA, April 25.—The mandamus suit brought by James D. Douglass against the City Council of Newport Beach before the recent elections to force an election for the recall of Councilmen Felix Modjeska and Harry Williamson, was dismissed yesterday in Judge H. G. Ames's court.

Dismissal was asked by Attorney Roland Thompson, counsel for Douglass, and now legal adviser for the City Council. Success of the anti-administration forces in the recent election, followed by the resignation of Modjeska from the Council, secured the result that the recall sought, namely, control of the administration, it was said.

CITY FIREMAN WILL GATHER AT ONTARIO

ONTARIO, April 25.—Plans are being made for an assembly of firemen here Friday evening when the Citrus Belt Firemen's Association of seventy-five members gathers at Ontario fire department headquarters. Battalion Chief Fuller and Fireman Putnam of Pasadena fire department will be principal speakers. Jack Gordon, chief of the local department, heads the committee to receive the guests from Redlands, San Bernardino, Upland, Riverside, Chino, Corona, Pomona, Claremont, Monrovia, Guasti and Alta Loma.

STUDENTS TO BALLOT UPON MERGER PLAN

Reorganization of Crown City School Bodies is Offered for Approval

PASADENA, April 25.—Pasadena High School and Junior College students will vote Friday on plans providing for the unification of the student body governments which has been made necessary as the result of the adoption by the Board of Education of the six-four-four school reorganization program.

Several weeks ago the question of the unification of the two student bodies in line with the decision to combine the high school and college into a single four-year institution, was discussed by the student officers.

A commission form of government is now in effect at both institutions and this has been chosen, subject to ratification by the student bodies, for the unified school.

If the recommendations of the student officers are ratified, there will be one newspaper, one yearbook, and the emblems and old traditions of the high school Bulldogs and Junior College Pirates will be scrapped.

Doheny, Fall Hold Confab at Pasadena

PASADENA, April 25.—E. L. Doheny, wealthy oil man of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Doheny, chatted for half an hour with Albert B. Fall at Mr. Fall's Las Encinas Sanitarium bungalow yesterday, it was learned today.

The meeting is said to have been in the nature of a conference relating to recent developments which are expected to follow the acquittal of Harry F. Sinclair in the Teapot Dome case.

E. B. Isett, Las Encinas Sanitarium business manager, stated today that Mr. Fall has slept much better during the last three days, and that it is expected that he will regain his health sufficiently to enable him to leave the sanitarium within six weeks or two months.

Police Break Up Dog Scrap

ONTARIO, April 25.—Two little words, "sic 'em," led to more than a dog fight in East A street at an early hour this morning. L. R. Morgan, 23 years of age, was arrested, and posted bail to appear in court on a peace disturbance charge. A woman who stood on the sidelines and cheered as the dogs tangled and aroused the neighborhood was sought on another complaint of being too noisy during the canine war. She refused to tell her name and walked out of the picture.

Mabel G. Birch caused the arrest to be made. She charged that Morgan "sic'd" another dog on her pup. The result of the racket brought police to the scene. The dog fight was declared a draw.

SPANISH MISSION TO BE DEDICATED

VAN NUYS, April 25.—Dedication of the Spanish Mission Church, which has just been completed at Delano street and Lennox avenue, will take place Tuesday at 2 p.m., it is announced by Rev. John Lasby, pastor.

Several ministers and missionaries will take part in the ceremonies, including Rev. Francisco Arrendondo, who will be the pastor hereafter in charge of the mission. Rev. Howard Clark, pastor of the local Methodist church, will be one of the speakers.

NEW POSTOFFICE FOR BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, April 25.—Lease of the new $8000 building, which Postmaster I. D. Jaynes is erecting south of the Southern Counties Bank here, has been authorized by the Post-office Department at Washington, Jaynes announced today.

The building will be ready for occupancy by June 15. New features including a cancellation machine and new lock boxes will make the postoffice more modern than the one now in use.

CITY OFFICIALS ASSEMBLE

Town Planners and Other Municipal Executives in Annual Conference in Pasadena

PASADENA, April 25.—Delegates from 500 California cities, including twenty mayors and city managers, arrived here today for the third annual convention of California City Planners which will open tomorrow in the Hotel Maryland for a three-day conference.

The first session of the convention will open at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow, with W. L. Pollard, State chairman of the city planning division of the California Real Estate Association, presiding.

Clayton R. Taylor, chairman of the Pasadena Board of City Directors, will welcome the visiting officials. The first speakers will include Carroll S. Nelson, president of the Pasadena Realty Board; R. F. McClellan, chairman of the Board of County Supervisors, and Franklin Thomas, past president of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce.

Greetings from other cities will be delivered by I. N. Gilbert, Mayor of San Bernardino; Sol P. Elias, Mayor of Modesto; J. C. Albers of Beverly Hills, president of the League of California Municipalities; Oscar W. Lord, Mayor of Eureka; Miles Humphreys, president of the Fresno City Planning Commission; Harry G. MacBain, Mayor of Glendale; A. C. Hobart, Mayor of Palo Alto; Chris Campbell, Mayor of Alhambra; Edward A. Walsh, Mayor of Oceanside; R. V. Orbison, Pasadena City Manager; James Ogden, Bakersfield City Manager; Fred Dohrmann, Jr., president of the Regional Planning Association of San Francisco, and Charles G. Adams, president of the City Planning Commission of Los Angeles.

Hal G. Hotchkiss of San Diego, president of the California Real Estate Association, will be the principal speaker at the morning gathering. His topic is "The Realtors and Their City Plan Activities."

SCOUTS PLAN JAMBOREE

Orange County "Forty and Eight" Will Sponsor Annual Benefit for Boys at Fairgrounds

SANTA ANA, April 25.—The grand-stand inclosure at the Orange County Fair Grounds was flood-lighted last night for the first time this year to allow the Boy Scouts to rehearse their part of the Forty and Eight jamboree program to be presented Friday night.

Boys from every troop in the county will demonstrate everything in the Boy Scout bag of tricks, from playing mouth organs to life-saving methods. Fifteen hundred Scouts and 400 "cubs," under 12 years of age, will take part in drills, stunts, bridge and tower building, tent making and cooking, and many will have Eagle Scout badges awarded to them as part of the evening program.

In addition to the entertainment furnished by the Boy Scouts themselves, a gladway, with concessions and side shows operated by luncheon clubs and other organizations will make a one-night stand, every community in Orange county being represented.

The jamboree idea was sponsored by the Forty and Eight, fun order of the American Legion, three years ago, and has been repeated each April since, profits from the event going to Boy Scout work.

SEX FILM MAN LOSES LAW BOUT

S. S. Millard Denied Writ of Habeas Corpus in Fight on Extradition to Chicago

S. S. Millard, also known as Hild Stanitch, motion-picture producer and exhibitor, lost his fourth legal battle to prevent extradition to Chicago when he appeared yesterday in the court of United States District Judge James. He is being held by local police for Chicago authorities on a charge of obtaining money by a confidence game. He appeared before Judge James on a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted, but dismissed, and he was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Traeger.

Millard had previously sued out two writs of habeas corpus in the State courts in Los Angeles and one in Sacramento, all of which were denied. It is charged by the Chicago authorities that he obtained about $25,000 to produce sex films and never kept his promises to his backers. He is scheduled to appear in Municipal Court Tuesday for hearing on a fugitive complaint.

The case was argued before the court by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Becker for the State, and Isadore Morris for the defense. The court gave the defense attorney until 5 o'clock last night to file an appeal from the judgment of the court with regard to the writ. State Agent Calkins of Illinois is waiting here to take Millard back to Chicago.

CONSULAR BODY FETES NEWCOMERS

Guatemalan and Chinese Honored and Tribute Paid Transferred Official

In honor of the new Consul of Guatemala, Dr. Fabio Padjarua, and W. G. Anching Kung, Consul-General of the republic of China, with headquarters in San Francisco and jurisdiction over Southern California, the local Consular Corps gave a banquet at the Commercial Club yesterday noon.

High tribute was paid to R. A. Ramirez, who, after four years' service here has been transferred to Hamburg, Germany, as Consul-General of Guatemala. Dr. Paniagua arrived from Guatemala City Sunday and officially took office yesterday. He comes to Los Angeles accompanied by his wife, twin daughters, 15 years of age, and a daughter of 5.

Dean Charles E. Roberts, Consul of Costa Rica and Vice-Consul of Guatemala, presided and introduced Consul-General Kung and Lee Thing, secretary of the local Chinese Chamber of Commerce. Each expressed an appreciation of friendship and co-operation which is being shown China by the members of the Consular Corps.

First Alumni Drive Reports Due This Noon

First reports of subscriptions from alumni of the University of Southern California to the library and gymnasium building fund will be received at noon today when three of the seven men's divisions will report their preliminary success at separate luncheons. Captains and majors in the division headed by Clifford Hughes will report at the Alexandria; those in the division led by Loyd Wright will report also at the Alexandria, and those in the division led by Linton Smith will gather at the Elite.

In the course of the next three weeks each of the seven men's divisions will meet at three weekly luncheons, and the alumnae division will gather for a weekly tea at the Biltmore. In addition to these functions all workers will meet weekly for a general report luncheon at the Alexandria. The three general report luncheons to which all majors and captains in the men's division and all unit chairmen and captains in the women's division are invited will be held next Tuesday; Tuesday, May 8, and Wednesday, May 16.

CHARLES S. PROFITT SOUGHT

Charles S. Profitt, a wall-paper salesman of Baltic, Ct., who is believed to be in Los Angeles, is being sought here at the request of his mother, Mrs. F. M. Kenson of the Connecticut town, who is critically ill. He left for Los Angeles January 17, last, and has not been heard from since his arrival here.

AGREEMENT DUE ON DALTON DAM

Many Disputed Points to be Cleared at Meeting

Work Started and Stopped Several Times

Poor Foundation and Larger Cost Main Obstacles

Investigations and controversial discussions that have revolved for months about the construction of the Big Dalton flood-control dam are expected to come up for a final settlement at a joint meeting Monday of the Board of Supervisors, the Board of Consulting Engineers of the county flood-control district and the chief engineer of the district.

Work on this project has started and stopped several times since it was first undertaken nearly two years ago and something more than $200,000 has been spent on it. As yet no actual concrete has been poured into the permanent structure.

ESTIMATES SOAR

The project was originally designed as a multiple arch dam to cost about $550,000, funds for which were provided in the $35,000,000 flood-control bond issue. Owing to changes in design and unexpected obstacles in the nature of poor rock formations upon which to build, it is now estimated that the dam may cost about $900,000. One estimate, however, placed the figure at about $700,000 and the Board of Supervisors have ordered a recheck on the estimates, the final results to be laid before the board at Monday's meeting.

At that time, it is admitted, the board may decide that the project is too expensive, owing to the fact that the reservoir back of the dam will have a storage capacity of only 1200 acre feet of water. The engineers have characterized this capacity as insufficient to produce material flood protection in the case of major floods.

A recent report to the Supervisors from the flood-control board of consulting engineers, including D. C. Henny, J. B. Lippincott and J. W. Regan, brought out, among others, the following points:

The cost of the new structure would exceed the bond funds available by 50 per cent or more.

FOUNDATION POOR

Bedrock conditions at the site are poor, and while a safe structure can be built thereon, "it was anticipated that leakage would occur through the surrounding rock, under the base and around the abutments of the dam, sufficient possibly to cause apprehension on the part of underlying residents."

Under the revised plans, a concrete cut-off wall will be sunk into the stream bed above the dam to a depth of about thirty feet as an additional precaution to prevent, as much as possible, seepage under the dam foundations.

The rock being considered, from an engineering point of view, is entirely safe to carry the dam. The sole question to be decided by the board Monday will be whether or not the flood-control benefits will warrant the expenditure of money involved, it was stated.

The dam is located in Big Dalton Canyon, northeast of Glendora.

BOARD FIGHTS FOR COLLIER

Commissioners Resent Discharge Because City Employee Refused to Lobby for Unions

An appeal from the legal opinion of Deputy City Attorney Neal, involving the discharge of W. B. Collier, foreman of the automobile machinery department of the Board of Public Works, has been taken by the Civil Service Commissioners to City Attorney Stephens for his attitude on the proposed reinstatement of Collier.

It is asserted by Collier that he was discharged by orders of Commissioner John S. Horn because of "lack of work" in his department, but that in reality he was fired as a "grudge" move by Horn because he would not make efforts to get the members of his department to join a labor union.

The commissioners are taking up the fight in behalf of Collier on the ground that the whole future of the civil-service department is at stake if a city employee can be discharged for a stated cause when the discharging is done for something else, as contended by Collier.

Horn, union-labor leader, who is looked upon as the "mouthpiece" of the labor unions in the public works department, balked reinstatement of Collier by the commissioners by getting an opinion from Deputy City Attorney Neal that the civil-service board does not have the right to reinstate a man laid off for "lack of work."

Collier contends that there are the same number of men in his department as before and if they needed a foreman before they still need one.

Investigation by the commissioners is asserted to have disclosed that there is as much work in the automobile-machinery department as ever and that "lack of work" is not the real reason for the discharge.

SERVICE ANNOUNCED TO HUNTINGTON LAKE

Marking opening of the summer season in the Huntington Lake district daily train service will be inaugurated May 1 over the San Joaquin and Eastern Railroad from El Prado to Big Creek. Beginning May 15 stages will make connection. Discontinuance of the through Los Angeles and Jacksonville Pullman car service effective May 1 is announced. The Pullman car will be continued between Los Angeles and New Orleans on the Sunset Limited.

BASIC UNITY IN RELIGIOUS LIFE ASKED

Baptists Hear Concerted Action Will Result in Civic Influence

Pointing to the value of co-operation of all religious forces in a community, Dr. O. P. Gifford, in an address in the First Baptist Church yesterday before delegates to the South Pacific District of Woman's American Baptist Mission Societies, said that civic authorities are always influenced by spiritually united Christian organizations.

Congratulating the delegates on their slogan, "Not machinery but dynamics," Dr. Gifford advised his hearers to "do noble things, not dream them."

"Mission work is Christianity in action," said Mrs. D. W. Schlosser, secretary of the World Wide Guild. "What we need is a bigger construction gang and a smaller wrecking crew."

Among other speakers was Mrs. Mamie Briggs, who discussed "The Daughter of Jairus," saying that one of the needs of today is for "the Master's hand to touch the spiritually dead and make them live."

A musical program was furnished by the Christian Center Girls' quartet and David Wright, organist. Community singing was led by Mrs. E. D. S. Pope.

Today's program will begin with a devotional service at 9:30 a.m. Speakers include Miss Winifred Acock, a missionary from Japan, Mrs. Prudence Worley of China and Mrs. W. H. Sykes and Miss Janet S. McKay on the White Cross department of the South Pacific district, which includes California, Nevada and Arizona.

PAVING PETITIONED

Enduring as "Old Baldy"
Cycol has "endurance beyond belief" because a new refining process retains every bit of lubricating value.
Stability The New Cycol will stand the hardest kind of usage. It is refined to meet the severest conditions of heat and pressure developed by the modern high compression engines, assuring you an unbroken oil film where heat, pressure and friction are greatest.
No Acids The new Cycol refining process eliminates the use of acids, though most refiners use them. While acids clear the "crude oil" they chemically change its structure and composition, thus seriously cutting its lubricating value.
Such oils break down under engine temperatures. They distill off and escape as vapor through the breather exhaust.
The new refining process of Cycol is different in every respect. It selects from the "crude" those elements of greatest lubricating value and stability in performance, rejecting at the same time those elements which readily break down under engine heat and cause excessive carbon deposits.
So Cycol gives a protective oil film on cylinder walls and moving parts, not vapor at the breather pipe.
Less Carbon As to carbon, Cycol like all other oils deposits some carbon. But it deposits less carbon than any other oil. The most exhaustive tests have proven that statement.
And even more important, the carbon that is deposited by Cycol is soft and easily removable. It is not hard or sticky and cannot scratch a cylinder.
Prove it Yourself For these reasons you will find that Cycol gives you the finest results you have ever known—more perfect lubrication, "endurance beyond belief" and the elimination of carbon troubles.
So fill your crank case with Cycol. You can identify it by the new transparent green-gold color.

Evans Found Guilty on Vagrancy Charge

Judge Rebukes Man Named in Poison Inquiry

Ex-Wife's Death Leads to Present Dilemma

Arthur St. Clair Evans, the death of whose second wife was the subject of many official investigations, was convicted of vagrancy in Municipal Judge Gray's court yesterday, principally because he did not marry his third wife soon enough.

Evans was the husband of Helen St. Clair Evans, who died about a year ago in Hollywood, apparently after taking poison. Police investigations called the case a suicide but A. T. Daniels of New York, the wife's father, thought differently.

The series of investigations inaugurated by Daniels resulted in Evans's arrest a few days ago in connection with his former wife's death but these charges were dropped and one of vagrancy substituted by the City Prosecutor's office when it was found Evans had for some months been living with Iris Ashton Badger.

Evans insisted he thought that when he took out papers of intention to wed that it constituted a legal wedding. On last Thursday he married the girl, but Judge Gray yesterday apparently took little stock in the accused man's story.

"The court, after hearing the evidence in this case, cannot believe that the defendant, who by his own testimony has been married twice before, ever thought or believed that he was married to Iris Ashton Badger," said Judge Gray in part. "In addition, the evidence presented of his actions in presenting worthless bank checks for cash show that he is not a man of the moral restraint consonant with the moral standards demanded of an individual of today."

TWO NEW WHARVES APPROVED

Harbor Department Will Build $165,000 Properties for Oil Companies

Two important construction jobs, involving an outlay of $165,000 for new wharves at the harbor, were approved at the meeting of the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday. The work is to be started at once under direction of the Harbor Department. Construction of a private $600,000 case-oil production plant is to follow.

One job is the construction of a 220-foot wharf at Berth 215, on Terminal Island, for the Hancock Oil Company, which has been granted a thirty-year lease. The cost is estimated at $61,800, which the oil company has guaranteed to repay from its revenues, after which it will pay the regular rental.

The other job will be the construction of a 500-foot wharf at Berth 217, on the old site of the former Petroleum Export Corporation lease, on Terminal Island, for the California Petroleum Corporation, at a cost of $103,000, also to be refunded by the corporation from its revenues.

The corporation plans to erect a fireproof plant for the assembling and casing of all kinds of light oils and by-products, for shipment to foreign countries.

Luminaries of Filmland Face Bench Warrant

Bench warrants for the arrest of Constance Talmadge and Charles (Buddy) Rogers, screen players, were ordered issued by Municipal Judge Reed yesterday when they failed to appear in the City Traffic Court on traffic charges.

Miss Talmadge is accused of illegal parking on Wilshire Boulevard on March 12, last, while Rogers is charged with failure to obey a traffic signal on Marathon street on March 8. They were due to appear in court more than three weeks ago.

Rogers gave his address as 3267 Country Club Drive, and the actress hers as the Gaylord Apartments.

Autoist Kills Self on Street

W. U. Bachelder, 60 years of age, residing at 1883 Cochrane avenue, yesterday afternoon shot and killed himself, according to police reports. The man was seated in his automobile at Crescent Heights Boulevard and Colgate street at the time.

From cards found in Bachelder's pocket he was identified as manager for the Robertson Realty Company at 4625 West Washington Boulevard. Worry over business affairs is believed by police to have been the cause for the act.

LICENSES FIXED

Harbor Board Sets Rates for Ferries and Wharves

On recommendation of Commissioner Andreani the harbor board yesterday fixed the licenses for operation of public ferries and public wharves at the harbor at 1 per cent of the gross receipts for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The license for operation of a public warehouse was fixed at $100 a year.

Compensation from the Southern Counties Gas Company franchise to use harbor property was fixed at 2 per cent of the gross revenue in the area used, for the next ten years. The rates are the same as heretofore, it was stated.

MEXICO TEACHERS ON WAY

Twenty Educators Will Study Schools of Southland; Visit Aids Amity Between Two Nations

An educational relationship destined to have far-reaching effect on future international affairs between the United States and Mexico will begin Saturday evening when thirty selected teachers of Mexico arrive in Southern California for a twenty-day study of school systems in this State.

The congress is to be held under auspices of the International Council for Educational Progress and is the culmination of plans laid last year by the Council, and as the aftermath of a conference in Mexico between educational leaders of the Southern republic and Dr. C. N. Thomas, director of the Council.

DR. C. N. THOMAS

Dr. Thomas has announced that plans for the reception and twenty-day program planned for the visiting educators is nearing completion and a meeting to settle details of the teachers' stay in Southern California, chiefly in connection with institutions to be visited, will be held this morning in the office of Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of Los Angeles schools.

LEAVE MEXICO CITY

Yesterday afternoon in Mexico City an ovation was given the departing delegates and according to information reaching Dr. Thomas last night, the coming tour is looked upon by all Mexican leaders as one of the outstanding steps yet taken to cement friendly relationship between the two countries. The teachers are due in El Paso tomorrow night and will arrive here late Saturday afternoon.

On the journey north the teachers will remain in Los Angeles but a few hours, arriving at Berkeley early Sunday morning.

At the conclusion of their visit in the northern district they will return to Los Angeles and remain here ten days.

"The visiting educators are coming for one purpose, to study our school system at work," Dr. Thomas said last night. "While here they will not only study schools for undergraduates, but also adult education. They will go into our methods of teacher training, health, kindergarten, playground, agricultural, academic and industrial departments as well as the Parent-Teachers Associations. While universities and colleges will take up a great deal of their time, they will also go into the country and community schools.

IN MEXICAN DISTRICTS

Dr. Thomas pointed out that the visitors have expressed a desire to visit districts where large groups of Mexican children are being educated, to see how the problems peculiar to them are met by teachers of this country.

An added feature is the fact that the visitors will be able to give about as much as they receive, insofar as acquainting each other with problems of the two countries, Dr. Thomas revealed. About half the visitors speak English fluently and will be called upon for lectures in the various classes they attend.

President Calles and most every other leader in Mexican affairs has indorsed the visit as one of the outstanding international good-will tours of a decade. The Mexican government is defraying all expenses of the educators during the time they are traveling in Mexico, while the educational council takes over the expense while in this country.

AMBASSADOR'S VIEW

The extent of the importance of the tour is shown in a statement made by Ambassador Morrow before the departure of the teachers yesterday, in which he said:

"California cannot realize at once how far-reaching this movement will be in sealing international friendship and especially the cementing of ties between California and Mexico.

"When you develop friendship between two peoples trade will follow as a natural result.

"California is peculiarly indebted to Spain and Mexico for its early history and this tour will make possible a tie that should bind California and Mexico forever in a relationship unbreakable. This tour is bound to result in large groups of Mexican youths completing further education in California schools."

From the first announcement of the proposed tour, Assistant Secretary of Education Saens in Mexico has made an exhaustive canvass of Mexican schools to select teachers who will get the most results from the tour and be able to introduce these results into the Mexican school system.

MEET GOVERNOR

Monday night a reception will be given the visitors at Berkeley at which Gov. Young, President Campbell of the University of California, Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt of Mills College and Will C. Wood, former State School Superintendent, will be speakers.

The northern executive committee of the council sponsoring the tour, besides those named in the paragraph above, is composed of Almon E. Roth, governor-director of Rotary International and comptroller of Stanford University; Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford; John William Cooper, State Superintendent of Schools.

The southern committee is composed of Dr. E. C. Moore, Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; Mrs. Dorsey, Dr. Walter E. Dexter, Whittier College, and Frederick F. Martin, president, California Teachers' Association, southern branch.

A number of civic organizations have asked for an opportunity to take them into the work of the teachers.

AUTOMOTIVE EXPERT TO TALK AT LIBRARY

Ethelbert Favery, chairman of the Society of Automotive Engineers, and an instructor at the Frank Wiggins Trade School, will talk on "Qualifications for Successful Inventors" in the lecture room of the city library tomorrow at 7:45 p.m. Models of many new inventions will be displayed for the first time at an international convention which is being arranged by inventors of Southern California, the speaker announced.

LIGHT-RATE CASE TODAY AFTER ALL

Announced Postponement Error, Says Commission; Reduction Offered City

Contrary to a recent announcement at the Los Angeles offices of the State Railroad Commission, the hearing on local street-lighting rates will be resumed here at 10 o'clock this morning. It was explained yesterday that the announced fifth postponement of the hearing until May 2, next, was an inadvertence.

Both the street-lighting case and the Southern Sierras Power Company hearing were scheduled to be heard today at the same time and place. The Southern Sierras case was postponed. An employee of the commission confused the two cases and announced that it was the lighting case that had been postponed.

The hearing involves the voluntary offer of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation to reduce street lighting rates from 4 cents a kilowatt hour, also charged by the Municipal Water and Power Bureau, to 3 cents. If effected the reduction will result in a saving of $300,000 annually to assessment payers.

SPENCE PUT FAR BEHIND IN CONTEST

Cody More Than Doubles Score of Opponent With Fifty-five Sodas Served

Lew Cody finished twenty-eight chocolate sodas and six telephone numbers ahead of Ralph Spence in the soda-jerking contest they held to decide a wager.

The drug-store rodeo was held in the Owl store at Sixth and Broadway, where a huge crowd rushed the fountain to be served by the screen luminaries.

The contest was called by Gwen Lee, referee, promptly at 2:30. Forty-five minutes later the finish gong sounded and the votes of customers served was counted, giving Cody fifty-five "good," Spence twenty-seven "good," three "fair" and one "bad."

In winning the contest, for which both entrants posted $1000 guarantee checks, Cody proved he has not forgotten the soda-water art he learned as a boy. N. H. Spence attributed his downfall to the rough tactics he acquired behind a fountain in a Texas oil town.

POTRERO OIL WELL BLOWS IN

Roar Attracts Throng as Associated Cypress No. 1 Spouts Great Gas Flow

The Associated Oil Company's Cypress No. 1 well in the Potrero district, which has been the subject of a test lasting more than a year, blew in at 6 o'clock yesterday evening, with a roar that attracted hundreds of spectators and necessitated the calling out of special guards to keep the sightseers out of the danger zone.

It was estimated last night that the well was flowing from 20,000,000 to 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, spouting high above the crown block with a considerable quantity of oil.

Cypress No. 1 was started by the Associated Oil Company more than two years ago, and after discovering the first oil sand in that district was allowed to stand idle for about a year. A little more than a year ago it was given a test, and since that time has been deepened, and plugged, and otherwise treated in an effort to remedy the water trouble which had prevented its production. For the past several months the well has been pumping a few barrels of oil and considerable water.

No information as to the cause of the blowout was available last night.

Illness Drives Two to Suicide

Two men past middle age took their lives last night as the result of failing health, according to police reports. Bert C. Adams, 60 years of age, a retired executive of the California Walnut Growers' Association, shot himself at his home, 2817 South La Salle street.

Max B. Schwartz, 202 South Fresno street, ended his life by gun shot. Police say he had been in ill health, also.

CHANCES FOR WOMEN IN BANKING DISCUSSED

Naming numerous women who have achieved success in leading banks, Miss Grace Stoermer, manager of the women's department of the Bank of Italy, described expanding opportunities for her sex in that field in a talk before the women's assembly at Occidental College yesterday. In spite of managerial positions which now are being opened to women in banks, no profession formerly dominated by men has been so loath to admit women, she declared. The talk was one in a series on vocational opportunities arranged by Dean Myers.

CITIZENSHIP TO BE SCHOOL GOAL

Superintendent Lays Plan Before Club

Moral Development Held Main Objective

Many Observances Carded During Week

"Good citizenship is the subject with which educators the country over are most vitally concerned today," said Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, city superintendent of schools, in an address yesterday in the Masonic Club. Members of the Board of Education and assistant superintendents were there as guests at a luncheon in honor of Board of Education Day of Public Schools Week. Mrs. Dorsey's subject was "The Progress of the Los Angeles City Schools."

"One of the most important things in this matter of good citizenship," she continued, "is to teach both children and adults how to spend their leisure time wisely and well. To that end the school board is making valuable contributions in its playground system, music in the schools in bands, orchestras and glee clubs, and in all manner of attention toward placing the right books before young people. For adults we have the Frank Wiggins Trade School, where they can take courses in everything from law to learning how to be better parents. All this is helping to make leisure hours a source of profit instead of a menace."

PROGRESS CITED

In the last two years Mrs. Dorsey says that great progress has been made in providing against the hazards of life, that is, the safety of children not only on the school grounds but in going to and from school, and always there is a steady effort to strengthen the moral tone among students. The whole program of student activities, she said, is based on the theory that initiation into the responsibilities of mature life is the best step toward making young people good citizens.

Steady progress in providing educational facilities has also been made, the superintendent declared. There has been a big increase in visual education, school grounds are being improved and beautified and a steady building program goes on as the increase in school population demands.

TAXES DECREASE

Mrs. Dorsey pointed out that although the school population has increased approximately 97 per cent in the past seven years and there are 20,000 more school children this year than there were last, still school taxes have gone down in the last four years. Local buildings are erected, she said, at a cost one-third less than in any other city in the United States, and "they are just as good. The great need for the present and future," she declared, is more school rooms.

At the Breakfast Club yesterday morning National Educational Week was observed in an address by Dr. Walter E. Dexter, president of Whittier College, in which he stressed the idea that a spirit of generous consideration and co-operation are the two fundamental principles which the boys and girls of today must learn for their future in civic life.

SCHOOL RALLY

Tonight at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Sentous Junior High School, 1208 West Pico street there will be a rally of fathers and mothers and men and women interested in the work of the public schools. Here the opportunity will be afforded them to obtain a better understanding of the educational principles carried out in city schools. A program has been arranged which includes addresses by Mrs Dorsey and John B. Beman, president of the Board of Education.

Los Angeles Commandery No. 2, Knights Templar, will present a Public School Week program at the Masonic Temple, Pico and Figueroa streets, tonight at 8 o'clock, to which the public is invited. R. C. VanCleve, captain-general, and principal of Fairfax High School, will be the chief speaker. There will be a musical program and other entertainment features.

As a part of the week's program there will be a vaudeville performance on Friday at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of the Los Angeles High School, 4600 Country Club Drive, under the auspices of Westlake Lodge. This will be free to the public with the sole object of creating a greater general interest in the schools. Bruce A. Findley, assistant superintendent of schools, will speak, and Reginald Denny, screen actor, will act as master of ceremonies.

At Franklin High School there will be a program tonight with Stanley B. Wilson as speaker, and on Friday night at the Belmont High School the entertainment will be featured by an address by Bruce Baxter from the University of Southern California.

PAINTER REINSTATED

Civil Service Board Rules On Case of Department Employee

A man does not have to be a high-class artist to hold a job as painter in the Water and Power Department, the city Civil Service Commission has ruled in the case of John McKarley. He was ordered reinstated yesterday, after he had been discharged.

The discharge, according to the facts brought out before the Civil Service Board, was because McKarley on being ordered to paint some fancy red and black lines on an old department truck, did not do the work to suit those in charge.

Investigation by the board resulted in the report that McKarley is qualified for his duties as a painter, but that he is not to be expected to do the work ordinarily required of an artist with the brush.

ARNAMA TO HEAR BRADER

James L. Brader, chairman of the Olympic speakers' committee, will be principal speaker at a ladies' day luncheon of the Arnama Club at the Alexandria tomorrow. Gene Morgan is to be master of ceremonies.

NEW DAM DISASTER AVERTED

Judge Finds Woman Guilty of Violating Ordinance After Viewing Obstruction in Creek and Peace Reigns Again in Vendome Street

Peace and quiet reigns once more on Vendome street as the result of the decision handed down yesterday by Municipal Judge Bush in which he held that Mary E. Spangler was guilty of violating the city ordinance when she caused to be built a miniature dam near the street in question.

Since Miss Spangler dammed up the creek running parallel to Vendome street in the rear of her home on St. Patrick's Day, turbulent waters have threatened to drench the neighborhood, a number of residents testified during the trial which required more than a day. The complainants told Deputy City Prosecutors Coultas and Hamilton that Miss Spangler built the dam for "spite," but the defendant hotly denied the accusation, declaring it was erected to permit her to cross the stream.

Prosecutors Coultas and Hamilton appealed to the court to drive out to the scene and see for itself, asserting that the dam would cause thousands of dollars worth of damage to property in the vicinity in the event of a heavy rain, as the pent up water would overflow into near-by homes. Judge Bush accepted the recommendation and with Clerk Thorp and Bailiff Brunette accompanied the prosecutors and Attorney Kell J. Scharf to the scene. His decision of guilty came shortly after his return to the bench. Sentence was deferred until Monday at 10 a.m.

The dam, constructed with cement blocks, according to Prosecutor Coultas, is situated on Vendome street between Bellevue avenue and Silver Lake Boulevard.

Witnesses subpoenaed to testify in behalf of the prosecution were C. J. Deyarmond, maintenance foreman of street district No. 4; F. W. Chatam, inspector of the city engineering department; William Kline, 622 North Vendome street; Rene L. Du Plessis, 706 North Vendome street; J. C. Blackwell, 1336 East Twentieth street; Frank Beniche, 3332 Tumboldt street; W. L. Schoop, 2807 Vineyard avenue; S. C. Maranna, 2115 Bellevue avenue, Matilda C. Matlock, 631 North Vendome street, and John Reed, 8091 Keith avenue.

NEW GAS-WAR PACT URGED

Two-Part Rate Including Fixed Service Charge With Commodity Rate Reduction Proposed

Both the city of Los Angeles and the Railroad Commission are considering a new type of service charge known as the two-part rate as a possible solution of the controversy between City Attorney Stephens and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation about the local gas situation, it was learned yesterday at the rate hearing before Commissioners Seavey and Decoto.

The proposed plan, if ordered into effect by the commission, would provide a fixed service charge for every meter and a general reduction in commodity rates. Such an experiment has been advocated and may be authorized by the commission for Santa Barbara.

REDUCTION IN VIEW

Engineers urging the new type of charges in Santa Barbara have told the commission that the two-part rate would result in a reduction in gas costs to 70 per cent of the consumers and a slight increase to the remaining 30 per cent. This means that every consumer will pay his proportion of the gas company's operating costs and on the whole gas sales would be stimulated, they argued.

Though nothing definite was said at the hearing yesterday, it was learned from officials present that the two-part rate is being considered as a solution of the local problem and probably will be offered as a compromise in the present fight.

This information was given out after it was learned that the matter was discussed by an unofficial emissary of the City Attorney's office with the Railroad Commission in San Francisco Monday and after City Attorney Stephens held conferences with commission officials here.

COMPANY'S ATTITUDE

Asked about the new plan, Paul Overton, corporation counsel, said that he knows nothing about it, and that the company will resist any effort to reduce its revenue.

"However," he said, "I do not think that we would oppose any scientific method of changing the spread of rates so long as no reductions in returns are made. In fact, the service-charge idea is a good one."

The present fight between the utility company and the city is over the corporation's earnings. City Attorney Stephens, as well as Railroad Commission engineers, during a long course of hearings in the past few months, has contended that the company's profits are exorbitant and will be so the remainder of the year.

The company, during the last two days, has submitted voluminous exhibits indicating that the city and State experts err in their figures and predictions. H. L. Masser, vice-president and executive corporation engineer, concluded his testimony yesterday by declaring that profits for 1928 will be only 6.18 per cent.

The corporation earned slightly in excess of 8 per cent in 1927, but that was an abnormal year, and deducting the excess profit there is an accrued deficit of $3,354,000 in revenues from gas operations since 1921, he added.

The hearing will be resumed June 5, next.

Lunch Today for Democrats

Councilman Hall, the lone Democratic member of the City Council, solemnly announced at yesterday's session of the Council that the Democratic luncheon club will meet today at the Alexandria.

"What for?" asked Councilman Alber.

"Who's the other guest?" asked Councilman Davis.

"Oh, we Democrats are accustomed to your Republican gibes," said Councilman Hall.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR OIL COMPANY PLANNED

Five building permits for various improvements to General Petroleum Corporation equipment at the harbor were approved by the harbor board yesterday. They include dock construction at Berth 192, at a cost of $7600; fire wall, to cost $1700; warehouse, $2300; pump house, $100 and an oil tank and foundation, $300. Application of the California Petroleum Corporation for a permit to construct tank walls north of Dock street, at the intersection of Mormon street, at a cost of $12,000, was approved.

CLUB TO HEAR HEALTH TALK

Mrs. Rose Waterman Harris of the staff of Dr. Philip M. Lovell will speak at 6:30 p.m. today at a dinner at the Masonic Club, Seventh street and Grand avenue. She will speak on "The Body Beautiful" and will give physical culture demonstrations.

STORAGE PLANT APPROVED

Construction of an ice-storage plant at Fish Harbor at a cost of $7000 by J. K. Sato, connected with the harbor fishing industry, was approved by the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday.

AGREEMENT ENDS DANCE MARATHON

Two Couples on Floor Six Days to Split Prize of $1500 Between Them

SANTA MONICA, April 26.—Two couples still remained on the floor when by agreement the Bon Ton ballroom marathon dance contest terminated at 12:45 p.m. today, the four young people having been dancing constantly since last Thursday afternoon. The $1500 prize will be divided among them.

The winners are Horace Dunn, 32 years of age, 15 Paloma avenue, Venice; Miss Viola Pompey, 19, 1143 South Kenmore avenue, Venice; Norris Scott, 21, 1926 Oak street, Los Angeles, and Miss Evelyn Terst, 17, 550 Indiana avenue, Venice, the latter entering under the name of "Torrance." All seemed to be in good condition at the end of the grind, according to Drs. J. C. Walsh and J. A. Wagner, who examined them, but dropped off to sleep with unanimous enthusiasm as soon as they could reach a cot.

Formal presentation of the prize is to be made at the Egyptian ballroom, Ocean Park, tomorrow night.

SUMMONS ISSUED FOR TAX MEET

Thirty-five Bodies Asked to Confer as to Special Assessment Laws

The California Taxpayers' Association has invited thirty-five leading California organizations interested in the State special assessment laws to meet in association headquarters May 25.

"The conference will discuss inequitable features of the law, annoying penalties, and unbusinesslike and unsatisfactory provisions," an association announcement says. "There are now on the California State statute books twenty-four separate special assessment acts providing for different methods of making assessments.

"It is hoped that out of this conference there will come suggestions which will result in the formulation and adoption of a businesslike and equitable special assessments law."

POET WILL DIRECT CAMPUS PRODUCTION

THE GREAT ADVENTURE TAKES PLACE OF MUSICAL COMEDY THIS YEAR

Reginald Pole, actor, poet and composer, will direct and appear in Arnold Bennett's comedy, "The Great Adventure," the evening of May 4 in Millspaugh Auditorium, University of California at Los Angeles. Mr. Pole is bringing his entire cast to the university upon an invitation of Mrs. Clifford J. Barrett, representing the U.C.L.A. Faculty Women's Club.

Pole is best known for his characterizations in "The Pilgrimage Play," Dostoievsky's "The Idiot," Shakespeare's "King Lear" and Rosemersholm" by Ibsen. "The Great Adventure" ran for an extended period at the Princess Theater in New York City last winter.

It is the hope of University officials to establish a campus dramatic tradition by sponsoring a yearly production to take the place of the usual Press Club Vode, the campus musical comedy, which was discontinued this year.

CHECK CHARGE HOLDS ERSTWHILE FILM MAN

Edward J. McCourt, 29 years of age, who described himself as a motion-picture director of 1697 North Vine street, was taken into custody yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Carman and Eaek of the Hollywood division and booked on a charge of issuing checks without having sufficient funds to cover. S. Redfield, auto rental agent of 6137 Hollywood Boulevard, made the complaint against McCourt.

EXECUTIVE WILL OPEN PLANT HERE

President of Goodrich Rubber Company Due to Start Factory

James D. Tew, president of the Goodrich Rubber Company, is due to arrive at the Southern Pacific station at 9:10 a.m. Monday, coming to attend the formal opening of the new factory at 5400 East Ninth street Wednesday at noon.

JAMES D. TEW.

Although the time for going on full production at the plant is indefinite, a tire complete and ready for the market already has been made there, the forerunner of millions to be manufactured later. At maximum capacity production the plant will turn out 5000 tires and 7500 tubes daily.

BOY SHOOTS HIMSELF IN SUICIDE TRY

Act of 13-Year-Old Youth Credited to Mental Strain; Surgeon Extends No Hope

Believed to have suffered a mental strain as the result of overstudy, Charles R. Lee, 13 years of age, shot himself in the head last night in his home, 3721 Third avenue, according to police reports.

The youth's mother, Mrs. Gussie Lee Hassell, and his grandmother, Mrs. Bessie R. Marshall, found the boy lying beside his books with the bullet wound in his head. He was removed to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where police surgeons say he will die.

Pilot Killed in Detroit to Be Buried Here

Funeral services for Aaron M. Rosenblest, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Rosenblest, 1150 Court street, who was killed in an airplane crash at Detroit last Monday, are to be conducted from the B'nai Israel, 1208 South Flower street, next Monday afternoon. The body is on its way here.

AARON M. ROSENBLEST.

With a companion, Gordon Taylor, as passenger, Rosenblest was piloting an experimental type undershung monoplane, and at a height of 800 feet went into a tail-spin. Both men were killed instantly. Rosenblest served in the Royal Air Force during the World War, managing to escape after having been taken prisoner by the enemy. Besides his mother and father, he leaves two brothers, Albert and Samuel, and a sister, Mrs. Herbert Rose, 1246 Lilac Terrace.

Prominent Jews Lend Service to United Appeal

The 1928 Los Angeles United Jewish Appeal, which is a part of the national campaign being conducted all over the United States, announces through its campaign headquarters that many prominent Jewish figures have volunteered their services to help raise the local quota of $200,000.

Judge Harry A. Hollzer, one of the vice-chairmen of the campaign, in accepting the office has announced that "this campaign, conducted for the purpose of aiding many national and international Jewish causes deserves the support of every man, woman and child."

Ned Marr Heads U.C.L.A. Group

Succeeding Miss Margaret McCone, Ned Marr has been appointed by the Southern Alumni Council as manager of the University of California at Los Angeles Alumni Association for the ensuing year.

NED MARR

His duties will consist in administration of U.C.L.A. alumni affairs, all formal connections with the Berkeley Alumni Association having been severed and an independent organization formed here.

Mr. Marr has been acting for the past year as assistant manager of the local alumni association. He filled the office of U.C.L.A. Associated Students president in 1926-27. Miss McCone is retiring in June.

BUNTING FOR TRAVELERS

The appropriation of $250 for the decoration of downtown streets during the national convention here, from May 10 to 12, of the United Commercial Travelers of America has been recommended to the City Council by its Finance Committee.

The athletic association of the city engineering department will hold a banquet at Patriotic Hall, 1816 South Figueroa street, on the evening of May 4. The guests will include Mayor Cryer, members of the City Council and the Board of Public Works. There will be music by the firemen's orchestra, the police department quartet, radio and vaudeville artists.

AIRPORTS URGED AS INVESTMENT

Former Air Mail Official Indorses Bond Issue

Los Angeles Seen as World Aviation Center

Flying May Profit City More Than Films, He Says

The purchase and equipment of adequate airports as a sound business investment, which will have a greater influence on [illegible]ure of Los Angeles than the centering of the motion-picture industry here has had in the past, is urged by Warren E. La Follette, former superintendent of the western division of the United States air-mail service, a visitor in the city.

To no other city in North America is the acquisition of adequate airports so vitally important, according to the former air-mail official, because of natural conditions here which make Los Angeles the logical center of the airplane industry not only for this continent, but for the entire world. Favorable action at this time on the proposed airport bond issue is the one move necessary to turn the eyes of plane manufacturers the world over on Los Angeles, he believes.

CALLED SOUND INVESTMENT

"The investment of $6,000,000 in airports in Los Angeles is a business opportunity such as no other city in America is blessed with," declared Mr. La Follette. "It is a business venture of the soundest kind for the people of the city because, first, it will be a vital factor in making the city the center of the industry on this continent; second, it will be an equally vital factor in the general development of the community, and third, the operation of fields of the class proposed for Los Angeles will prove a remunerative business in itself. From the beginning the fields will be a source of revenue to the city and before the lapse of many years will completely pay for themselves.

"In a broad sense, any development which results from the establishment of adequate airports here must be considered in the light of financial return. I have been a pioneer in the development of commercial aviation and I am willing to stake my reputation as such that within ten years, possibly five, the city of Los Angeles will have been repaid many times in taxes, license fees and revenue from the operation of its fields for the money it now contemplates investing in them.

EIGHT PLANTS HERE NOW

"At this time there are eight important airplane manufacturing plants in the Los Angeles district. I know personally of three others that finally selected sites in the Middle West because of the inadequacy of flying fields here. The Mahoney company recently announced that it will transfer activities from the Pacific Coast, but now is reconsidering, awaiting the outcome of the forthcoming election, when the airport bond issue will be voted upon."

In commenting upon the maintenance of airports as a purely business proposition, Mr. La Follette said:

"There there are a dozen or more sources of revenue connected with the operation of an airport, among the most important of which are those accruing from leases, passenger tax and student fees, concessions of all kinds—restaurant, refreshment, planes and accessories, insurance and clothing. Leases and concessions generally are made on an annual basis and all revenues therefrom are clear profit.

MANY PASSENGERS CARRIED

"A total of 27,947 passengers have been carried over Los Angeles in the past three months. At 50 cents each this would mean a revenue of $13,-973.50 for the period, or nearly $57,-000 for the year, all of which is clear profit. Certainly the figure will increase with the inevitable development of commercial flying.

"During the six months' period the municipal airport at Oakland has been in operation, revenues have more than paid the interest on the bond issue. The city of Oakland has a splendid business which belongs exclusively to the taxpayers and which in the future will remunerate them for their outlay a thousand times.

"Opportunity is banging at the doors of your city. Welcome it with open arms."

FILM MAN INDORSES IT

Gilbert H. Beesemyer, executive head of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association of Hollywood, executive vice-president of the Central Motion Picture District and director in a score or more of Hollywood's major corporations, yesterday urged the adoption of the bond issue.

"Aviation has reached a point in its development where it is of vital importance commercially and for national defense. Los Angeles cannot expect to remain in the front rank unless it adequately provides for aviation requirements," Mr. Beesemyer said.

"Especially is the Besmon field of importance to the North Hollywood section of Los Angeles. Seven major motion-picture production organizations now have studios or locations in the valley and the opening of Besmon Field will provide them with facilities for quick transportation of films and the operation of airplanes used in the making of pictures. The production of motion pictures is Los Angeles' greatest industry."

FOUR HELD IN DRY RAID

Asserted Alcohol Plant Discovered in House at Sherman

Four persons were arrested and a large asserted alcohol-manufacturing plant wrecked when officers under Chief of Detectives George Contreras of the District Attorney's office yesterday raided buildings at 825 and 827 Le Doux street, Sherman.

Those apprehended were Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Charlesworth, L. J. Cox and R. R. Faulk. They were charged with possession and manufacture of alcohol.

According to Chief Contreras, the raiding party found two large stills in operation in the place, 350 barrels of mash and 150 gallons of alcohol, all of which was held as evidence.

CELEBRITIES TO OCCUPY BOX CIRCLE

Novel Arrangement Will Feature Moose Jubilee; Mary Brian to Attend

Diamond horseshoe circles of the Metropolitan Opera in New York and the Auditorium in Chicago will be the pattern to be followed in constructing the tiers of boxes to seat celebrities at the spring-time jubilee and ball to be given by local members of the Moose Saturday night at the Ambassador auditorium.

MARY BRIAN

Notables who have engaged boxes for the jubilee are Marco H. Hellman, Reese Llewellyn, Louis B. Mayer, Jesse L. Lasky, Sid Grauman, Fred Beetson, Harold Lloyd, Watterson Rothacker, John J. Doyle, Fred H. Solomon, Floyd Schenck, P. M. Andreani, Claude Lewis, Cliff Arne, Sam Strauss, A. L. Commesford, Carl Christianson, Earl White, Harry Kinnaman and Tom Teddy.

Charles Chaplin will be master of ceremonies, with Jackie Coogan as stage director and Billie Dove as hostess. Joseph M. Schenck heads the entertainment committee. An elaborate program of acts will be given between dances. E. J. Hannaning, United States District Judge, heads the list of city, county, State and Federal officials on the reception committee.

Among the latest of the film celebrities to be added to the long list to attend the frolic are Mary Brian and Sally Blane.

AUTHORITIES WILL CHECK FRUIT RAIDS

Sheriff Patrols Placed in Citrus Zones to Halt Stealing from Orchards

Six patrols of deputy sheriffs have been organized to protect orange groves from the inroads of citrus thieves, Undersheriff Biscailus announced yesterday.

Organized gangs of night prowlers have stripped small groves of choice fruit, the official declared. Some damage has been caused, also, by tourists who want to pluck "just one orange from a tree" as a souvenir of their visit to California, he said.

The patrols and the territory they are assigned to cover by Chief Deputy Wright, are: Crew No. 1, Deputies Keating and Miller, Huntington Park district; No. 2, Deputies Harris and Peters, Whittier and Belvedere Gardens district; No. 3, Deputies Godard and Borden, Belvedere; No. 4, Deputies Brooks and McDermott, Covina; No. 5, Deputies Adams and Stevens, San Gabriel, and No. 6, East San Gabriel Valley district, assignment to be made later.

Heavy Sentence Given on Fourth Liquor Offense

Sentence of nine months in the County Jail in addition to a $1000 fine, the heaviest imposed here this year for possession of liquor, was levied on Hyman Palter, alias Penton, Palmer, Pearlman and Felter, yesterday by Municipal Judge Galbreth.

Through Palter, asserted bootlegger, denied at the time of his last arrest that he ever was convicted before on Wright Act charges, Deputy City Prosecutor Coultas produced his finger-prints in court showing he was sentenced on three different occasions for possession of liquor.

AIRPORT TO BE TOPIC AT DINNER OF PILOTS

Los Angeles' municipal airport and the national air races are to be the main topics of discussion at a fellowship dinner of the National Aeronautic and Professional Pilots' Association at the Ambassador tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. A musical entertainment is to follow.

SUICIDE LAID TO SICKNESS

Max D. Schwartz, 62 years of age, of 202 South Fresno street, shot himself in the temple at his home yesterday, according to police, dying instantly. He left a note giving ill health as the reason for his act. The body is at the County Morgue.

BAIL BONDSMEN SEEK CLEAN-UP

Plea Made for Grand Jury Aid in New Move

Conservative Brokers Cite Aims at Conference

Elimination of Questionable Practices Desired

Appealing to the Los Angeles county grand jury in an effort to "cleanse the profession," a group of men representing several of the more conservative bail-bond concerns conferred with Ellis A. Ragan, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand jury matters, and members of the criminal complaints committee yesterday.

The object of the conference, it was pointed out afterward, is not to obtain criminal complaints, but to devise ways and means of curtailing "capping" and other questionable practices on the part of certain bail bondsmen.

Under the suggested plan an effort would be made to bar all bail-bond solicitors from courtrooms. It also is suggested that all negotiations for bail bonds between a client and a bail-bond broker be handled by the client's attorney, if he has one.

REOPENING OF POISON CASE SEEN

Peter Gonsett, Inventor, Tells Keyes Office He Has New Evidence

Possibility that the investigation into asserted attempts to poison Peter Gonsett, Glendale inventor, may be reopened, was seen yesterday when Gonsett appeared at the District Attorney's office asserting that he has new evidence bearing on the case.

De Nelson Smith, accused by Gonsett of administering the poison, was freed recently when a jury hearing the evidence failed to agree and was discharged.

Chest Directors to Pass on Plea for Juvenile Aid

The board of directors of the Community Chest today will vote on an emergency appropriation of $2000 a month for a clothing fund for dependent wards of the Juvenile Court. Request for the appropriation is to be made by Superior Court Judge Scott.

According to Judge Scott, hundreds of juvenile delinquency cases coming before him are directly traceable to poverty. The placing of Juvenile Court wards who are too young to be wholly or partially self-supporting in foster-homes, Judge Scott states, has in many instances failed to solve the problem of their upkeep. This is because the State allows as a maximum only $25 a month apiece for their room, board and clothing, he says.

"The State Legislature undoubtedly will increase the amount at the next session," Judge Scott says, "but the Community Chest emergency allowance is needed pending legislative action."

Athletics to Be Luncheon Topic

Today's luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the Biltmore will be devoted to athletics, with Robert S. Weaver as speaker and the track and field notables as guests. Weaver's subject will be "The Olympic Games."

Guests include Dean Cromwell, Bud Houser, Charlie Keppen, Lee Barnes, Charlie Borah and Frank Wyckoff. A collegiate entertainment has been arranged.

DR. LOVELL TO OMIT HIS LECTURE TODAY

Dr. Philip M. Lovell, who conducts the "Care of the Body" department in The Times Sunday Magazine, will not lecture this afternoon because of the City Hall dedication ceremonies. A week from today he will deliver his regular health talk in the demonstration rooms of The Times, Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway. The Times cooking class will meet as usual at 2 o'clock tomorrow, Friday, afternoon in the same quarters, under Mrs. Mabelle (Chef) Wyman. This is a free class and all interested are invited to attend.

RUM PUZZLE WORRIES COURT

Case Involving Police Rights of Seizure Without Search Warrants Laid Before Judge

The mooted question of whether a policeman may enter a dwelling without a search warrant and seize what can the thirsty proprietor do about it, was laid squarely before the court yesterday for adjudication, when P. N. Dukic, contractor, demanded a writ to compel Chief of Police Davis to return to him five barrels and two demijohns and their contents.

Judge Gates of the Superior Court, before whom the application was argued, remarked that the questions involved are so grave as to warrant the most careful consideration, and asked counsel to file briefs thoroughly summing up the law on both sides. The matter is under submission pending receipt of briefs.

No attempt was made to raise an issue as to the contents of the barrels and demijohns. Deputy City Attorney Matherly said they held wine. Attorney George Rochester, counsel for Dukic, frankly admitted they did, and that it was pretty potent wine, too.

"But that does not give police officers the right to over-ride the constitutions of the United States and of California, and enter a private dwelling just because they have suspicions," Rochester argued. "They have to have a search warrant and if they don't, property so taken is seized illegally and must be returned."

The Federal courts have so held, but it has been the practice of police, operating under State laws and procedure, to take liquor wherever they find it, without bothering about warrants, and there are no California rulings directly on the point.

"But there will be," Rochester promised. "If we lose here we carry this issue to the highest tribunal."

Dukic asserts his home at 1888 Le Moyne street was raided by police March 23.

VAUDEVILLE MAN TAGS AS FORGER

Dancer Accused of Name of Rich Man in Pawnbroking Case

Robert Chadney, dancer who is said by himself to be a member of the Pallice in Paris, France, yesterday admitted having signed a check for $10,000 in the name of a rich man of Hollywood, but said he was authorized to do so by the latter's wife.

Chadney was arraigned before Municipal Judge Stephens on a charge of forgery after he had pawned diamonds worth $10,000 to get $1500 in cash. He was held to answer to the Superior Court in the sum of $5000 bail.

Chadney's wife, Dancer Dolores Del Rio, was called to the witness stand to corroborate her husband's statement that he had been authorized to sign the check by her mother, Mrs. Jane Martin.

Mrs. Martin, who is said to be a wealthy woman, was not present in court.

Modes Now Art Exp for Exp

Theodore Roosevelt, president of the Pacific Southwest Exposition, which is to be held in Long Beach June 4 to August 4, announced yesterday that the exposition is to be a new departure in exposition affairs, with emphasis placed on the artistic rather than the commercial side.

Modern art, as exemplified in the work of the Los Angeles Modernist group, will be featured, Roosevelt said.

PRIZED PRIVILEGE

In her oration, Jeannette Tyner of Polytechnic High School in Los Angeles declares:

"That which we should prize above all else, for which the people have labored for ten centuries; that which attracted those countless multitudes to our gates; that for which the women of this country strove seventy years—the ballot, is lamentably neglected.

"Men and women of character, vision, and ability, are willing to serve their country, but they are not a part public office because the majority of the people are themselves suffering to go to the polls and cast their ballots."

SLACKER PLAYED

Katherine Morris of the Inglewood County High School, Palmer, in her oration concerning the necessity for voting, declares:

"We must not fail to exercise the power of franchise. For upon our proper use of the ballot depends the fidelity of our officials, the virtue of our public life and the stations of our nation. The test is ever with us—as representative to time of peace as in time of war."

Ruth Shoupcypher of San Fernando High School commends the young people to throw aside carelessness and apathy and cast the ballot. "For," he declares, "only salvation, our greatest safety lies in education of the people, not only to vote, but to vote intelligently. And if we were to know our history, our Constitution really means, and what that means, our ideals, and our Constitution really means, and what that be could be more truly united upon to vote intelligently and for the best interests of the nation."

HURRY TOO LONG

Only the strongest appeal to young people to vote is contained in the oration of James W. Dilley, Polytechnic High School sophomore. "The challenge of today," he asserts, "must not to the American

"Times" Grand Contest May 4 in Shrine Building

Prizes Mailed Out to 144 District Winners

Checks totaling approximately $2000 were mailed yesterday to 144 district winners in the Fifth National Oratorical Contest in California, Arizona and Nevada by The Times. The checks were for $50, $15 and $10 and were sent to first, second and third-place winners in the districts where the cash prizes were awarded by The Times. In some of the districts special awards were made by local newspapers and service clubs.

One of the seven student orators to appear at the Shrine Auditorium May 4 in The Times' grand finals of the Fifth National Oratorical Contest stress, in their orations, the necessity for an intelligent and conscientious use of the ballot, and at the same time condemn the adult citizens of the country for their failure in the past to exercise properly their right of suffrage.

Harold F. Pettee, Jr., of Whittier High School states in his oration:

"We know that all the laws of our nation are useless, unless we have the officers to enforce them. We know that all the laws of our nation are useless, unless our officers have a conscience and an intelligence with which to apply those laws. If, through indifference of the people, a man secured office, then those people will suffer. If, through the intelligence of the citizens, a man energetic to them those citizens will profit. The glory of the founders of our government and our nation may belong to the past, but to us remains the glory of maintaining them. To do this we must have the right officials in office, and that is accomplished only through the intelligent vote of the people."

GORGEOUS SETTING

Opening in a flowerland setting of blooms from gardens and estates and including choice floral exhibits from professional and amateur growers throughout Southern California the University District Flower Show and Trade Exposition opened its doors to the public at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An entire city block in the heart of Sawtelle is occupied by the show, launched as an annual event.

Sponsored by the Woman's Club of Sawtelle and the merchants' division of the university branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the Ligas' Club, and receiving the support of the Los Angeles chamber, the show opened auspiciously with patronage promising unqualified success. George P. Larson, university branch manager, in charge of the business affairs of the show, was optimistic as throngs entered the gates.

IN HEART OF GARDENS

Naturally a commercial center for the surrounding areas where great estates are developing and lying close to the California Botanic Gardens, Sawtelle has a unique situation for displays of this kind. Not far from the show grounds, in the fertile surrounding country, are some of the largest wholesale nursery and flower-cultural concerns in the United States. One concern alone has forty acres of hothouses, with vast tracts where plants are grown out of doors the year around for carload shipments to all markets.

The trade exposition devoted to the commercial interests of the university group of communities, is housed in beautifully decorated booths. Many demonstrations are in constant operation and visitors are offered gifts and souvenirs. Among the prizes is a gas stove worth $150, to be given the holder of the lucky ticket. A. W. Nelson of Pacific Palisades is chairman. Industrial exhibits show goods manufactured in the area.

RARE PERSIANS IN 'TIMES' HOME

Authority on Antiques Gives Rugs Rating

Spanish Tile Designs Held Far Inferior

Sennah in Living-room Shows Finest Craft

BY VALERIE WATROUS

Something like five years ago we began hearing about a new type of rug. One of my friends was quite swankish about them, since she had two large ones in her new home. Dominated by an inferiority complex, I didn't argue, though my secret soul told me the antique Persians were superior.

Yesterday I went out to talk to Hanlef, rug dealer extraordinary, who has supplied the floor coverings for the Los Angeles Times' Demonstration Home at the Miramar Estates. He has lived in Los Angeles for thirty years and has made a life study of rugs.

"Only the finest Persian rugs are on the floors of the Demonstration Home," he declared. "They are antiques of the best workmanship and design and some of them are among the finest examples of rug weaving in the world.

QUALITY DEFINED

"When you want quality, seek these closely woven, richly colored antiques. You can't do better in wearing quality nor satisfaction. They are always interesting, and even after you've owned a rug for years you will discover new beauties, intricate figures you had not noticed before.

Spanish nobles from the sixteenth century on went to Persia for their rugs. They were woven there for the floors of the royal palaces and given the name of Hispano and are similar to the antique rugs known to collectors as Oushaks. They show the same colors and textures as the Persians."

This opened the door to my burning question: What did he think of the Spanish tile hand-tufted rugs? You could see he didn't think much of them by the fleeting expression that crossed his expressive face. But he was polite; that's the Orient.

COMMERCIAL TYPES

"Spanish hand-tufted in tile designs are nothing more nor less than a commercial product. The design as adopted from the Spanish tiles, which by the way are not Spanish at all, but Moorish. They were brought from Damascus and Bagdad. Such tiles as they used in Spain prior to the Moorish, or Mohammedan invasion, were mosaics," Hanlef explained.

"I doubt very much if there is an original Spanish tile rug in this country. They were a fad started by American interior decorators who wanted a floor covering that would tie in with their modern machine-made rugs.

"When the wave of Spanish architecture burst upon us here in Southern California some five years ago, the Spanish tile rug followed. I doubt if it is known outside of the Southland, and certainly there is no comparison between this type of rug and the antique Persians in The Times Demonstration Home or even the better grade of commercial orientals."

And that for my friend and her cohines! I'm still true to my first love, the fascinating Persians.

BEST OF KIND

As for the rugs that visitors will see in the Demonstration Home, they are the very best of their kind.

The Sennah antique in the living-room, which is thirteen feet wide and seventeen feet long, is a Persian of exquisite color and design. It is of a quality that befits the medieval furnishings and the Spanish type of home. This rug is unusually beautiful, and shows a design of diamond-shaped medallions with a floral pattern known as the palm leaf on an ivory background.

Throughout the house only Persians have been used and these alone will be a fascinating study for visitors.

The Times Demonstration Home will be opened to the public next Sunday at 1 p.m. It is situated about 500 yards above Beverly Boulevard and may be reached by driving out that highway or by following the ocean drive north of Santa Monica to the junction of Malibu Road and Beverly. The Miramar Estates lie about 1000 yards west of the ocean. A spacious paved drive leads up from the boulevard to the Demonstration Home.

HOOVER PLANS MADE AT RALLY

Organization Prepared for Primary Tuesday

Workers Cheered by Victory in Ohio Balloting

Fitts Expounds Ideals of Republican Party

Cheered by the outcome of the Ohio election, which was described as an outstanding victory for Herbert Hoover, Republican forces yesterday at a headquarters luncheon completed the organization that is expected to pile up a tremendous vote at next Tuesday's Presidential primary.

It was the final luncheon rally of the Hoover forces here and scores of volunteer workers attended to receive election day instructions.

C. C. Teague, chairman of the Hoover-for-President Club of Southern California, opened the meeting by reading the latest and virtually complete returns of the Ohio election.

"These returns demonstrate that Ohio, like the other States, desire the nomination and election of Herbert Hoover," Mr. Teague declared.

WINS FIRST TEST

He further described the Ohio election as the first opportunity that the Secretary of Commerce has had to show the strength of his support.

"Beyond doubt the Ohio election makes Herbert Hoover the outstanding candidate of the Republican party," Campaign Director Mendel B. Silberberg declared in his address. "The Ohio victory is of far-reaching importance to California, for it necessitates that our people show the same enthusiasm next Tuesday," he added.

Lieut.-Gov. Fitts was the principal speaker of the day, speaking after campaign reports were made by those in charge of the various Hoover activities.

He told of how the theories of government have changed through the years, and of the new responsibilities that the Republican party faces.

AN HONEST PARTY

"We have and will have party government," Fitts declared. "Our government is a political government founded on political principles, political in the broadest, finest sense of the word.

"The Republican party is an honest party and its rank and file hold to the highest of principles," the Lieutenant-Governor declared. "The Republican party, and by that I mean the men and women who make up that party and not the small group who would control, believes in and demands honesty.

"Yesterday's election in Ohio demonstrated the desire of the people of Ohio to back their belief with action. They turned to Herbert Hoover because there is no blemish, no blot upon him. They recognize in him the leader who will place the party above any reproach.

"Our government must be a human government, for that is the desire of our people. They have turned to Herbert Hoover because they recognize him as the one great humanitarian. He typifies the kindness that the people of our country demand of their government."

WOMEN PLAN AID

Following yesterday's luncheon rally there was a meeting of women who will direct an active election day organization that will place workers in every precinct in Los Angeles county. This meeting was under the direction of the women's division of the Hoover-for-President Club of Southern California.

Last night a group of Republican leaders in Southern California left for San Francisco, where they will be guests at a luncheon rally at the Palace Hotel today. This affair is in honor of the men and women who will make up California's delegation to the Republican National Convention in Kansas City next June.

U.S.C. LAW STUDENTS FORM HOOVER CLUB

"Hoover for President" is the slogan of law students at the University of Southern California. At a rally held yesterday by the lawyers, a Hoover organization was perfected, with Ranny Draper of Claremont, president; William Berger, Herbert Walker and Jack Cohen, all of Los Angeles, vice-presidents; Florence Galentine of Venice, secretary, and Joe Crail, son of Representative Crail, treasurer.

The members of the newly formed club pledged themselves to give California's representative their stanchest backing.

Speaking before the law students, J. S. Howie, an alumnus of the S.C. law school, emphasized the necessity of getting the "lethargic voters" out to the polls May 1.

FIVE HUNDRED PLEDGE VOTES AND AID TO HOOVER

More than 500 supporters of Herbert Hoover signed pledge cards agreeing to vote and work for the California candidate for President, on the first day the Hollywood Hoover-for-President Club was opened, according to a statement made last night by Ira Thomason, secretary of the club.

"We hope, as a result of the interest shown on the first day, to get out a solid vote in the ninety-eight Hollywood precincts," declared George H. Coffin, chairman of the executive committee. "Members of the executive committee, appointed today, are taking a personal interest in the campaign and are working among their friends to induce them to go to the polls next Tuesday."

The executive committee, as announced by Mr. Coffin, is made up of the following Hollywood citizens:

George H. Coffin, past-president of the Los Angeles Realty Board; chairman; Ira Thomason, past vice-president, Hollywood Kiwanis Club, secretary; Mrs. Henry G. Redetzke, president, Hollywood Young Republican Club; Mrs. J. F. Mead, past president, Hollywood Woman's Club; Mrs. Charles S. Lingenfelter, past president, Hollywood Woman's Republican Club; Mrs. Orville E. Scott, president, Hollywood Woman's Club; Miss Jessica Lawrence, past president, Hollywood Woman's Club; F. A. Hartwell, president, Hollywood Athletic Club; George L. Eastman, president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and past president of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce; C. Bernard, president of the Hollywood Business Men's Club and president of the Hollywood Board of Trade Club.

J. Den Mahaffey, president of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce; Rev. Bernard MacLennan, Hollywood Presbyterian Church; Arthur Alber, Councilman; O. O. Greenwood, vice-president, Hollywood Security Trust and Savings Bank; M. F. Palmer, vice-president and manager of the Los Angeles First National Trust and Savings Bank, Hollywood branch; James E. Pottel, past president, Hollywood Athletic Club; C. E. Toberman, past president, Business Men's Club; Frank E. Gallowar, past president of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce and past president of the Hollywood Athletic Club; Dr. N. B. Beemer, president of the Hollywood Exchange Club; Gilbert H. Beemer, president, Guaranty Building and Loan Association; Emil Krebil, president, Hollywood Exchange Club; Russell C. Markley, president, Hollywood Retail Merchants' Association; H. Allport, president, Hollywood Hotel Association; C. Robert Dexter, past president, Hollywood Business Men's Club; Ed Chamberlain, president of the Rotary Club, and J. Leslie Swope.

FIXED UNITS IN CURRENCY DEMANDED

Two Speakers Point Out Need of "Stable Money;" One Cautions Investors

Need of a more stabilized currency and the increasing demand for a fixed unit of monetary value were urged in an address given at the City Club yesterday by Dr. Edwin Walter Kemmerer, president of the Stable Money Association. Speaking on "Dollars and Cents," Dr. Kemmerer said that what he means by this title is gold and the gold standard.

"There was no country during the World War on a gold standard, not even the United States," said Dr. Kemmerer. The dollar, which measures value, is not a fixed value, but the varying value of a fixed weight of gold.

"The pertinent question for the investor is: Will the supply of gold in future keep pace with the demand?" said the speaker. "Some say it will, some say it will not. If it increases more rapidly we shall have inflation of prices. If not, we shall have depreciation of the value of the dollar and depression, or hard times."

Another address of interest concerning the stabilization of money was given at the University Club by Norman Lombard, vice-president of the American Finance Holding Corporation of New York and executive director of the Stable Money Association.

Admitting the demand for money cannot be controlled, Mr. Lombard contended that the supply of currency is controllable and that the supply should be adjusted to the rate of velocity of circulation. Only in this way, he said, can the purchasing power of money be stabilized.

Dr. Kemmerer and Mr. Lombard recently came to Los Angeles at the request of Occidental College to give a series of lectures at the Occidental Institute of Finance. Dr. Kemmerer is professor of economics at the Princeton University.

A branch of the Stable Money Association has been organized in Los Angeles, with Henry S. McKee as chairman and Prof. John Young of Occidental College as secretary.

NOTE SUIT FOUGHT BY LILA LEE

Actress Admits Signing Paper, but Interposes Plea of Minority

Lila Lee, motion-picture actress, was cast in a small court role yesterday as a defendant in a suit over a promissory note heard by Superior Judge McCoy.

LILA LEE

She appeared in the cast as Mrs. James Kirkwood, her married name. The plaintiff is John Corgiat of Oakland.

The suit is over a promissory note for $2500 signed by Miss Lee on July 25, 1923. The note, it is asserted, is one [illegible] signed in blank and turned over to her father, Carl Appel, then her guardian, who later filled in the amount. The paper was sold several times, the last person to purchase it being Corgiat.

The actress contended in her defense that she was under age at the time she signed the note and is not liable. The case was taken under advisement by Judge McCoy.

Abduction Laid to Girl's Father

Charging her former husband, George H. Celey, with abducting her 4-year-old daughter Edna, Mrs. W. J. Townsend, 631 South Maple street, yesterday swore to a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Judson following the man's arrest at Amarillo, Tex.

According to the complaint, Celey induced the girl to leave her mother and accompany him on November 30th, last.

BRIDGE TO HELP CHILDREN

A bridge party for the benefit of the Kiddie Koop building fund will be given tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Breakfast Club by the Children's Aid Society. Mrs. A. K. Brauer is chairman.

HARLAN DENIES LOVE THEFT

Film Actor Takes Witness Stand in Divorce Suit of Detroit Manufacturer Against Young Wife

Kenneth Harlan, motion-picture actor, took the witness stand yesterday to make a sweeping denial of charges that he stole the love of Mrs. Gertrude Virginia Henry, pretty young wife of Albert Preston Henry, wealthy retired manufacturer of Detroit. The case, in which Henry is suing for divorce and which involves community property valued at more than $300,000, is being tried before Judge Valentine.

Harlan vehemently denied that he ever had taken a boat trip to Catalina with Mrs. Henry, declaring he had visited the island only once in three years and that was when he went on a friend's yacht. He characterized the linking of his name with that of the young wife as an outrage, insisting that the only occasion on which he ever visited the Henry home was when a Mr. and Mrs. Patrick and other guests were there. On this occasion, Harlan said, he did not remain more than one-half or perhaps three-quarters of an hour.

Most of the day yesterday was taken up with the testimony of the husband, who had before him one of the most voluminous diaries ever seen in a Los Angeles divorce court. The book contains more than 400 typewritten pages and refers principally to the summer months of 1927. Henry explained to the court that he needed the book to refresh his memory on certain dates and asserted facts. He accuses his wife of attending many wild parties and admitted having spied on a house at 1439 Crescent Heights Boulevard at a time when it was supposedly occupied by Harlan and "Lefty Flynn, a motion-picture director.

Henry is asking custody of his two children on ground that the mother is unfit to care for them.

HOLLYWOOD BOWL AIDES ANNOUNCED

Prominent Citizens Will Help Make This Summer's Concerts Outstanding

Outlining a brilliant season of "symphonies under the stars" for the summer series of Hollywood Bowl concerts and declaring that eight internationally noted guest conductors and ten ranking soloists are scheduled to appear in the bowl during July and August, Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, general chairman, yesterday declared that never before in the history of the Bowl have the summer plans reached, at this early season, the state of maturity at which plans for this summer stand today.

A large group of men and women, many of them leaders in civic, business, artistic and professional circles, appointed as members of the board of directors, officers and committee members, were announced to serve the Bowl for the new season of concerts which Mrs. Irish declared will open Tuesday night, July 10, with Albert Coates, noted English-Russian conductor, wielding the baton not alone for the opening concert, but for the first two weeks of programs. The appointees are:

Audition board committee — Mrs. J. Boyce-Smith, chairman. Since this is the committee that passes on the auditions for aspiring resident artists to appearance in the Bowl, Mrs. Boyce-Smith withholds the names of the members of her committee.

Purse Fisher Plies Trade at Bridge Party

The burglar who uses a fish pole as his modus operandi has reappeared in Los Angeles, police reports revealed yesterday. Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Forman gave a bridge party at their home, 4314 Kingswell avenue. The guests left their vanity cases and purses on a bed in a rear room.

When the party broke up the purses were gone. The window to the room had been slightly raised and a fishing rod used to snag the valuables.

Victims of the burglary, each of whom lost a small amount of cash, were Mrs. A. M. Spencer, 1128 North Edgemont; Mrs. Grace A. Deming, 5133 Victoria avenue; Mrs. S. B. Nesbit, 5105 Gramercy Place; Esther Almquist, 3461 Third avenue, and Anna K. Hammock, 533 West Eightieth street.

ACTOR BACK AT WORK

Fred Kohler returned to work at the Paramount studio yesterday after an illness. Kohler, a featured film player, was confined to his bed for a week as a result of an attack of influenza which for a time threatened to develop into pneumonia. He was stricken while on location in Utah.
